

THUNDERSHOWERS

Thundershowers Thursday and probably over west and north tonight; not so warm by Thursday night. Yesterday's high, 85; low, 55; at 8 a. m. today, 61. Year ago high, 80; low, 63. Sunrise, 6:29 a. m.; sunset, 6:13 p. m.

Wednesday, October 3, 1951

THE CIRCLEVILLE HERALD

An Independent Newspaper

FULL SERVICE

International News Service leased wire for state, national and world news, Central Press picture service, leading columnists and artists, full local news coverage.

66th Year-233

Logan Elm Day Scheduled To Be Held Sunday

Observance To Recall Famed Talk

Indian Chieftain To Be Honored Again

The 39th celebration of a speech made under a massive elm tree about seven miles south of Circleville will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday.

The speech was made more than 175 years ago by an Indian chief, Logan. It was addressed to Lord Dunmore in 1774, and summed up Logan's reasons for turning against the white man.

Because of that speech, regarded as one of the most impressive made in the history of mankind, the Ohio History Day Association holds exercises on the first Sunday in October every year to commemorate it in Logan Elm State Park.

Mrs. Anna Chandler, corresponding secretary of the association, said:

"IN 1774 there were few wilderness gardens that separated the mighty forests, the hills and valley of the territory northwest of the Ohio River. One of the most extensive of these treeless areas was known as the Plains of Pickaway. Ohio's father of local history, Henry Howe, has ably described this particular section as follows:

"Of all the places in the West, this pre-eminently deserves the name of classic grounds. Here in olden time burned the council fires of the red man.

"Here the affairs of the nation in general council were discussed, and the important questions of peace and war decided.

"From these plains the allied tribes marched forth and met General Lewis, and fought the sanguinary battle of Point Pleasant. Here it was the Logan made his memorable speech, and here too that noted campaign of Dunmore was brought to a close, or rather a truce, at Camp Charlotte."

PRINCIPAL speaker during Sunday's celebration will be Johnny Jones, columnist for a Columbus newspaper. Music will be provided by Circleville high school band. John Heiskell will serve as master of ceremonies.

Text of Logan's famed speech follows:

"I appeal to any white man to say, if ever he entered Logan's cabin hungry and he gave him not meat; if ever he came cold and naked and he clothed him not. During the course of the last long and bloody war, Logan remained idle in his cabin, an advocate for peace. Such was my love for the whites that my countrymen pointed as they passed and said, 'Logan is the friend of white men.'

"I had even thought to live with you but for the injuries of one man. Colonel Cresap, the last Spring in cold blood and unprovoked, murdered all the relatives of Logan; not sparing (Continued on Page Two)

Taxation Agency To Get Cleanup

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—Internal Revenue Commissioner John B. Dunlap told Congress today President Truman has given him unlimited authority to clean out corruption in his agency.

The hard-hitting commissioner, who took office Aug. 1, declared that he will take whatever steps are necessary "to restore public confidence" in the nation's income tax collectors.

Many Persons On Earth Today Sure To Observe Man's First Trip To Moon, Scientists Say

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—Top flight U. S. scientists predict that space rockets capable of carrying man to the moon soon will become a dramatic reality.

Estimates on achievement of interplanetary flight ranged from four or five years to more than a decade. The scientists were in agreement that a manned flight to the moon or Mars will become a dramatic reality.

Typical of the comments of men who are devoting their lives to the possibility of rocket travel through space at "comfortable" speeds of thousands of miles per hour were these:

William B. Bergen, head of engineering at the Glenn L. Martin Co., builders of the Viking rocket and the recently-headlined Matador pilotless bomber:

"A rocket could be designed today to make a one-way trip to the moon in four or five years."

Berger emphasized his belief that a round-trip to the moon, with intrepid pioneer passengers, would be certain to follow

A STARTLED AUDIENCE watches anxiously while Armin Dahl, Hamburg, Germany, acrobat, faces death as the flag to which he is clinging begins to rip, leaving him swinging nine floors above the ground. Dahl, who undertook the flag stunt for publicity, was rescued.

TALK HOPES FADING FURTHER

Korea Issue Settlement Seen Coming With Force

TOKYO, Oct. 3—Gen. Omar N. Bradley left Tokyo for Washington tonight after holding a war council with United Nations commanders amid increasing signs that a major military collision is nearing in Korea.

The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff took off from Haneda airport ending a whirlwind five-day Far Eastern visit which included a two-day personal inspection of the Korean front.

Bradley was accompanied by Charles Bohlen, top State Department expert who had flown with the general from Washington to Tokyo last weekend.

At the airport to see Bradley and Bohlen off was a group of officials headed by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, UN supreme commander.

Others in the sendoff group, besides Ridgway, were American Ambassador William J. Sebald; Vice Adm. Charles Turner Joy, commander of the U.S. Far East naval forces, and Lt. Gen.

They Didn't Run Away; They Just Went Out To Play

Connie and Betty hadn't run away. They just went out to play, and wound up a quarter of a mile from home.

Connie is the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ayers of Washington Township, and Betty is a black and white fox terrier.

The child was reported missing at 9 a. m. Wednesday to Pickaway County sheriff's department.

A search was begun immediately with Washington Township farmers helping. It ended at 10:30 a. m., when the child was found playing with the dog in an old building on the Elroy Leist farm about four miles east of Circleville.

Gen. Drum Dies

NEW YORK, Oct. 3—Lt. Gen. Hugh A. Drum (retired), president of the Empire State Building, Inc., died of a heart attack today in his office on the 32nd floor of the world's tallest structure. The long-time Army officer was 72.

Dr. Werner Von Braun, designer of the German V-2 rocket and now working in the U. S., foresaw the possibility of a manned ship to Mars within the next generation. He observed:

"Costs would be small compared to current armament budgets."

Dr. Hugh S. Dryden, director of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, agreed that the "brainwork" for a space ship program has been accomplished. But he predicted:

"It will take longer than a decade to devise rockets to fly to the moon."

Aviation Expert Robert M. Larren flatly declared:

"A rocket missile capable of escaping the earth can now be built using only presently available materials and designed on the basis of known data and techniques."

Four steps were set forth as necessary to accomplishment of the imagination-staggering goal.

Otto P. Weyland, chief of the Far East Airforce.

A FEW HOURS before his departure, Bradley huddled with Ridgway, Joy, Weyland, Bohlen and other high-ranking officials on the critical Korean situation.

The council was held behind locked doors at Ridgway's headquarters as hopes of reviving the long-stalled armistice talks grew dimmer than ever before. Presumably, the meeting was held to map plans for action in the light of the prospects of big-scale fighting in Korea.

The Communist high command permitted the sixth day to pass without answering Ridgway's proposal to move the suspended truce parley out of Red-controlled Kaesong to a nearby no man's land.

There were mounting indications that both sides in Korea were ready to settle the war by force of arms, not by negotiation.

An unnamed Chinese member of the Red armistice delegation was quoted by Radio Peiping as saying:

"Although there are many difficulties, peace in Korea will be attained in view of the extraordinarily mighty force which has been built up by the great People's Republic of China and the Korean Democratic People's Republic."

Meanwhile, flame-throwing Allied troops launched a twin-pronged attack on shell-battered Red positions in Korea's west sector and American pilots hit (Continued on Page Two)

Bandit Returns, Nets Profit Again

CLEVELAND, Oct. 3—Cleveland police today were searching for a well dressed stickup man who believes in the old adage that the "culprit always returns to the scene of the crime."

Yesterday, a young thief returned to the Personal Finance Co. for the second time in less than three weeks.

He went through the same routine again. He herded the cashier, manager and secretary into a back room and brandished a revolver.

The slim, blond stick-up man got $100 this time, the same as last, and left unseen. Police had the same trouble as on Sept. 17. They could not find him.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3—Lt. Gen. Hugh A. Drum (retired), president of the Empire State Building, Inc., died of a heart attack today in his office on the 32nd floor of the world's tallest structure. The long-time Army officer was 72.

Dr. Werner Von Braun, designer of the German V-2 rocket and now working in the U. S., foresaw the possibility of a manned ship to Mars within the next generation. He observed:

"Costs would be small compared to current armament budgets."

Dr. Hugh S. Dryden, director of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, agreed that the "brainwork" for a space ship program has been accomplished. But he predicted:

"It will take longer than a decade to devise rockets to fly to the moon."

Aviation Expert Robert M. Larren flatly declared:

"A rocket missile capable of escaping the earth can now be built using only presently available materials and designed on the basis of known data and techniques."

Four steps were set forth as necessary to accomplishment of the imagination-staggering goal.

AND THURSDAY BRINGS THE YANKEES

Brooklyn Leading New York In Bid For Berth In Series

POLO GROUNDS, Oct. 3—Brooklyn's Dodgers jumped into an early 1-0 lead over the New York Giants here this afternoon at the end of the second inning of play in the final game of the National League championship playoff.

Winner of the Brooklyn-Giant feud will be crowned champs of the National loop and receive a pass into the World Series for a crack at the New York Yankees.

Brooklyn surged into its single run lead in the first inning play via a hit by Dodger ace Jackie Robinson after Giant Hurler Sal Maglie gave up two free passes.

Play-by-play account of the first two innings of play in the classic follows:

FIRST INNING

Dodgers: Furillo took a called third strike. Reese walked. Snider walked. Robinson singled to left, scoring Reese and Snider stopped at second. Pafko grounded to Thomson at third, forcing Snider. Dodges fouled to Thomson. One run, one hit, no errors, two left.

Giants: Stanky flied short to Pafko. Dark-skied to Cox. Mueller flied to Pafko. Nothing across.

SECOND INNING

Dodgers: Maglie threw out Cox. Walker fanned. Newcombe popped to Thomson. Nothing across.

Giants: Reese threw out Irvin. Lockman singled to right. Thomson singled to left, but although Lockman stopped at second Thomson kept on running. Realizing his mistake, he turned back to first and was thrown out Pafko to Cox to Dodges. Lockman stayed on second. Mays lined to Pafko against the wall in left. No runs, two hits, no errors, one left.

Starting batting orders for the final game of the pennant playoff between the Giants and the Dodgers was:

New York	Stanky 2b
Brooklyn	Dark ss
Furillo rf	Mueller rf
Reese ss	Irvin lf
Snider cf	Lockman 1b
Robinson 2b	Thomson 3b
Pafko lf
Hodges 1b

Northwest Area Finally Gets Sewer Promise

It took repeated visits to Circleville city council chamber, but a delegation of citizens from the northwest part of the city Tuesday apparently won their point.

They exacted a promise from the local legislators that a sewer will be installed to drain Hayward street.

The proposed sewer will drain into the North Court street line. This is a reversal of previous contentions in council, when it was argued that the North Court line already is overloaded.

Councilman George Crites explained, however, that current engineering opinion is that the drain from the northwest area will be too small to make any appreciable difference in the North Court street sewer load.

"The overload is noticed only during and after heavy storms," he said. "That means that some storm waters are being emptied into the North Court street sanitary sewer."

Crites pointed out that the cost of building a sewer to drain the northwest section of the city into the North Court street line would be about $7,000, as compared to about $65,000 to construct a separate main to parallel the Norfolk and Western Railway tracks to the big sewer line on Main street.

He said that the northeast area of the city, the region in which the bulk of the city's expansion is taking place, can be drained by running a sewer line down Lover's Lane to the recently constructed lift station over Hargus Creek on the Lancaster Pike, and then into the Main street line.

THE FIRST representative showing interest offered about $500 for the mill; the second offered about $375.

But Cress appeared at the Tuesday meeting of the board with a signed check from another Columbus firm, the Worsh Machine Co., in the amount of (Continued on Page Two)

McCarthy Said Threat To U.S.

DURHAM, N. C., Oct. 3—Rep. Richard Bolling, a Missouri Democrat, ranks Sen. Joseph McCarthy in the same class as Communism—a threat to American Democracy.

Bolling said the Wisconsin Republican "has actually aided Communism by creating disunity based on distrust and fear."

The former American Veterans Committee leader declared: "The purpose of McCarthyism is not fight Communism but to get publicity, power and prestige for Senator McCarthy."

Mays of pitchers with at least four days' rest in each hurling arm.

This year's world championship match will start in the Yankee Stadium, later moving over into the National League park for the possible clincher.

Baseball-wacky New Yorkers reeled in a dizzy daze today as dem Bums and those Giants met for the payoff game to decide the winner of the 1951 National League pennant.

The big town wasn't itself. Strange lingo assailed the ear, such as Giant Manager Leo Durocher's cryptic comment that Barber Sal Maglie "will be shaving today."

Dodger fans asserted that "Big Newk" would do "a little trimming" on his own account.

All that was before gametime. Dow-Jones' Wall Street ticket interrupted its sputterings about the stock market to give the batteries. Subways jammed up with rabid fans on their way to the ball park. Those who weren't at the Polo Grounds saw or heard the "croosh" game over television or radio.

Record Arms Budget Seen

$57.2 Billion Tagged For Military Use

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—A record peacetime military budget of $57.2 billion for the 1952 fiscal year is ready today for final approval by Congress.

Senate-House conferees brought the defense appropriation figure within President Truman's budget recommendation by deciding to withhold until next year all but $1 billion of a $5 billion fund proposed by the Senate for air power expansion.

The total carried by the conference report on the bill compares with $57.5 billion requested by the administration, $56 billion voted by the House and $61 billion approved by the Senate.

Sen. O'Mahoney, (D) Wyo., chairman of the conference committee, and sponsor of the Airforce supplemental appropriation, said the reduction to $1 billion was thought advisable now because the Joint Chiefs of Staff have not yet completed definite plans for increasing the Airforce from 95 to 140 groups.

The additional $1 billion will be divided between the Airforce and the Navy air arm, the Airforce receiving two-thirds.

The House amendment reducing the period for service of reserves from 17 to 12 months was not retained in the bill, but the House conferees will report this in disagreement, and another vote on it will be necessary when the House acts on the conference report.

The conferees agreed to the limitation, voted by the Senate, of 500,000 civilian personnel for the armed services, and a five per cent cut in the number of civilians employed at the Pentagon.

THE FIRST representative showing interest offered about $500 for the mill; the second offered about $375.

But Cress appeared at the Tuesday meeting of the board with a signed check from another Columbus firm, the Worsh Machine Co., in the amount of (Continued on Page Two)

THE FIRST representative showing interest offered about $500 for the mill; the second offered about $375.

But Cress appeared at the Tuesday meeting of the board with a signed check from another Columbus firm, the Worsh Machine Co., in the amount of (Continued on Page Two)

THE FIRST representative showing interest offered about $500 for the mill; the second offered about $375.

But Cress appeared at the Tuesday meeting of the board with a signed check from another Columbus firm, the Worsh Machine Co., in the amount of (Continued on Page Two)

THE FIRST representative showing interest offered about $500 for the mill; the second offered about $375.

But Cress appeared at the Tuesday meeting of the board with a signed check from another Columbus firm, the Worsh Machine Co., in the amount of (Continued on Page Two)

Baseball-wacky New Yorkers reeled in a dizzy daze today as dem Bums and those Giants met for the payoff game to decide the winner of the 1951 National League pennant.

The big town wasn't itself. Strange lingo assailed the ear, such as Giant Manager Leo Durocher's cryptic comment that Barber Sal Maglie "will be shaving today."

Dodger fans asserted that "Big Newk" would do "a little trimming" on his own account.

All that was before gametime. Dow-Jones' Wall Street ticket interrupted its sputterings about the stock market to give the batteries. Subways jammed up with rabid fans on their way to the ball park. Those who weren't at the Polo Grounds saw or heard the "croosh" game over television or radio.

Dodger fans asserted that "Big Newk" would do "a little trimming" on his own account.

All that was before gametime. Dow-Jones' Wall Street ticket interrupted its sputterings about the stock market to give the batteries. Subways jammed up with rabid fans on their way to the ball park. Those who weren't at the Polo Grounds saw or heard the "croosh" game over television or radio.

THE FIRST representative showing interest offered about $500 for the mill; the second offered about $375.

But Cress appeared at the Tuesday meeting of the board with a signed check from another Columbus firm, the Worsh Machine Co., in the amount of (Continued on Page Two)

THE FIRST representative showing interest offered about $500 for the mill; the second offered about $375.

But Cress appeared at the Tuesday meeting of the board with a signed check from another Columbus firm, the Worsh Machine Co., in the amount of (Continued on Page Two)

THE FIRST representative showing interest offered about $500 for the mill; the second offered about $375.

But Cress appeared at the Tuesday meeting of the board with a signed check from another Columbus firm, the Worsh Machine Co., in the amount of (Continued on Page Two)

THE FIRST representative showing interest offered about $500 for the mill; the second offered about $375.

But Cress appeared at the Tuesday meeting of the board with a signed check from another Columbus firm, the Worsh Machine Co., in the amount of (Continued on Page Two)

THE FIRST representative showing interest offered about $500 for the mill; the second offered about $375.

But Cress appeared at the Tuesday meeting of the board with a signed check from another Columbus firm, the Worsh Machine Co., in the amount of (Continued on Page Two)

THE FIRST representative showing interest offered about $500 for the mill; the second offered about $375.

But Cress appeared at the Tuesday meeting of the board with a signed check from another Columbus firm, the Worsh Machine Co., in the amount of (Continued on Page Two)

THE FIRST representative showing interest offered about $500 for the mill; the second offered about $375.

But Cress appeared at the Tuesday meeting of the board with a signed check from another Columbus firm, the Worsh Machine Co., in the amount of (Continued on Page Two)

THE FIRST representative showing interest offered about $500 for the mill; the second offered about $375.

But Cress appeared at the Tuesday meeting of the board with a signed check from another Columbus firm, the Worsh Machine Co., in the amount of (Continued on Page Two)

But Cress appeared at the Tuesday meeting of the board with a signed check from another Columbus firm, the Worsh Machine Co., in the amount of (Continued on Page Two)

ONE of the methods by which U.N. forces can often turn the tide of battle in Korea is pictured above. Five tons of 155 mm. artillery ammunition float gently earthward toward UN positions on a wooded hill after being dropped from combat cargo planes.

Local School Nets Profit

Surplus Gear Sold; Board Pockets $2,045

Circleville board of education has netted a profit of roughly $2,000 by selling a piece of war surplus machinery originally picked up at a government "give-away" sale.

At the end of World War II, Principal J. Wray Henry and the then industrial arts instructor, Charles F. Zaenglein, travelled to Dayton, where war surplus equipment was being offered to the schools.

Among other surplus items picked up by the pair for the Circleville school was a massive Milwaukee mill, a multiple-project metal processing machine.

The mill, and the other equipment the men picked up, was obtained by merely paying the cost of crating and freighting. Other machinery picked up by the pair in the same manner is stored awaiting completion of the new industrial arts plant here.

Recently, learning that the Circleville school was storing the massive metal-processing machine, representatives of Columbus manufacturing concerns began dropping in on Board Clerk Virgil Cress with offers to buy the mill.

THE FIRST representative showing interest offered about $500 for the mill; the second offered about $375.

But Cress appeared at the Tuesday meeting of the board with a signed check from another Columbus firm, the Worsh Machine Co., in the amount of (Continued on Page Two)

THE FIRST representative showing interest offered about $500 for the mill; the second offered about $375.

But Cress appeared at the Tuesday meeting of the board with a signed check from another Columbus firm, the Worsh Machine Co., in the amount of (Continued on Page Two)

THE FIRST representative showing interest offered about $500 for the mill; the second offered about $375.

But Cress appeared at the Tuesday meeting of the board with a signed check from another Columbus firm, the Worsh Machine Co., in the amount of (Continued on Page Two)

THE FIRST representative showing interest offered about $500 for the mill; the second offered about $375.

But Cress appeared at the Tuesday meeting of the board with a signed check from another Columbus firm, the Worsh Machine Co., in the amount of (Continued on Page Two)

But Cress appeared at the Tuesday meeting of the board with a signed check from another Columbus firm, the Worsh Machine Co., in the amount of (Continued on Page Two)

London Says It Wants To Avoid War

Churchill Labels Move As Cowardly

ABADAN, Oct. 3—More than 300 British employees of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. were moved out of Abadan today on orders of the Iranian government, boarding the Cruiser Mauritius to the tune of marches played by the ship's band.

A flotilla of launches took the oil industry technicians to the Mauritius, anchored off Abadan and the warship left immediately for Basra, Iraq.

Removal of the experts has been criticized by Conservative Party opponents of Britain's Labor government as "cowardly."

Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison, stung by Conservative criticism, said Britain will maintain its rights in Iran without a "bad-tempered resort to war."

Morrison, speaking to a Labor Party rally in Scarborough, England, said:

"We are ready to stand up for British rights, but we believe patience is wise. The United Nations and its machinery are better than a precipitate, bad-tempered resort to war."

THE FOREIGN secretary admitted that Prime Minister Clement Attlee had promised the House of Commons that Britain would remain in Iran. He continued:

"But what he did not say was that he would use force in keeping our people in Abadan."

Conservative Leader Winston Churchill has served notice that the handling of the Iranian oil dispute, which he once characterized as "butter-fingered," would be a prime issue in the campaign leading up to the Oct. 25 general election.

Churchill accused Attlee of breaking "a solemn promise" to parliament, "bluffing" and "rattling the saber" in Iran only to suffer a diplomatic defeat.

As the British moved out of the country, the Russians gave every indication of planning to extend their influence.

Ambassador Ivan Sadchikov met yesterday with Iranian Premier Mohammed Mossadeq and discussed a trade agreement with the Tehran government.

Such an agreement might embrace shipments of rice and (Continued on Page Two)

Councilman Fears City May Lose State Pension Aid

Since November, 1948, only two-tenths of a mill of Circleville taxes have been going into the city's police and firemen's pension funds.

And that, according to Councilman George Crites, "puts the city between the devil and the deep blue sea."

He explained to his colleagues on city council that actually three-tenths of a mill should have been sluiced into the pension funds.

Because only when three-tenths of a mill are set aside for pensions can the city expect subsidy funds to be paid by the state. The subsidy amounts to one-tenth mill.

But, Crites went on, the state has been paying the subsidy. It amounts to $2,222.72. And the city owes the pension funds $7,104.54.

"Now, if we don't pay the $7,104.54 to the pension funds, we'll have to take $2,222.72 out of the funds and send it back to the states," Crites said. "And the trouble is we don't have the $7,104.54."

He said his information on the matter came from a state examiner now working on the city's books.

THUNDERSHOWERS

Thundershowers Thursday and probably over west and north tonight; not so warm by Thursday night. Yesterday's high, 85; low, 55; at 8 a. m. today, 61. Year ago high, 80; low, 63. Sunrise, 6:29 a. m.; sunset, 6:13 p. m.

Wednesday, October 3, 1951

THE CIRCLEVILLE HERALD

An Independent Newspaper

FULL SERVICE

International News Service leased wire for state, national and world news, Central Press picture service, leading columnists and artists, full local news coverage.

66th Year-233

Logan Elm Day Scheduled To Be Held Sunday

Observance To Recall Famed Talk

Indian Chieftain To Be Honored Again

The 39th celebration of a speech made under a massive elm tree about seven miles south of Circleville will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday.

The speech was made more than 175 years ago by an Indian chief, Logan. It was addressed to Lord Dunmore in 1774, and summed up Logan's reasons for turning against the white man.

Because of that speech, regarded as one of the most impressive made in the history of mankind, the Ohio History Day Association holds exercises on the first Sunday in October every year to commemorate it in Logan Elm State Park.

Mrs. Anna Chandler, corresponding secretary of the association, said:

"In 1774 there were few wilderness gardens that separated the mighty forests, the hills and valley of the territory northwest of the Ohio River. One of the most extensive of these treeless areas was known as the Plains of Pickaway. Ohio's father of local history, Henry Howe, has ably described this particular section as follows:

"Of all the places in the West, this pre-eminently deserves the name of classic grounds. Here in olden time burned the council fires of the red man.

"Here the affairs of the nation in general council were discussed, and the important questions of peace and war decided.

"From these plains the allied tribes marched forth and met General Lewis, and fought the sanguinary battle of Point Pleasant. Here it was the Logan made his memorable speech, and here too that noted campaign of Dunmore was brought to a close, or rather a truce, at Camp Charlotte."

PRINCIPAL speaker during Sunday's celebration will be Johnny Jones, columnist for a Columbus newspaper. Music will be provided by Circleville high school band. John Heiskell will serve as master of ceremonies.

Text of Logan's famed speech follows: "I appeal to any white man to say, if ever he entered Logan's cabin hungry and he gave him not meat; if ever he came cold and naked and he clothed him not. During the course of the last long and bloody war, Logan remained idle in his cabin, an advocate for peace. Such was my love for the whites that my countrymen pointed as they passed and said, 'Logan is the friend of white men.'

"I had even thought to live with you but for the injuries of one man, Colonel Cresap, the last Spring in cold blood and unprovoked, murdered all the relatives of Logan; not sparing

Taxation Agency To Get Cleanup

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—Internal Revenue Commissioner John B. Dunlap told Congress today President Truman has given him unlimited authority to clean out corruption in his agency.

The hard-hitting commissioner, who took office Aug. 1, declared that he will take whatever steps are necessary "to restore public confidence" in the nation's income tax collectors.

A STARTLED AUDIENCE watches anxiously while Armin Dahl, Hamburg, Germany, acrobat, faces death as the flag to which he is clinging begins to rip, leaving him swinging nine floors above the ground. Dahl, who undertook the flag stunt for publicity, was rescued.

TALK HOPES FADING FURTHER

Korea Issue Settlement Seen Coming With Force

TOKYO, Oct. 3—Gen. Omar N. Bradley left Tokyo for Washington tonight after holding a war council with United Nations commanders amid increasing signs that a major military collision is nearing in Korea.

The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff took off from Haneda airport ending a whirlwind five-day Far Eastern visit which included a two-day personal inspection of the Korean front.

Bradley was accompanied by Charles Bohlen, top State Department expert who had flown with the general from Washington to Tokyo last weekend.

At the airport to see Bradley and Bohlen off was a group of officials headed by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, UN supreme commander.

Others in the sendoff group, besides Ridgway, were American Ambassador William L. Sebald; Vice Adm. Charles Turner Joy, commander of the U.S. Far East naval forces, and Lt. Gen. Otto P. Weyland, chief of the Far East Airforces.

A FEW HOURS before his departure, Bradley huddled with Ridgway, Joy, Weyland, Bohlen and other high-ranking officials on the critical Korean situation.

The council was held behind locked doors at Ridgway's headquarters as hopes of reviving the long-stalled armistice talks grew dimmer than ever before. Presumably, the meeting was held to map plans for action in the light of the prospects of big-scale fighting in Korea.

The Communist high command permitted the sixth day to pass without answering Ridgway's proposal to move the suspended truce parley out of Red-controlled Kaesong to a nearby no man's land.

There were mounting indications that both sides in Korea were ready to settle the war by force of arms, not by negotiation.

An unnamed Chinese member of the Red armistice delegation was quoted by Radio Peiping as saying:

"Although there are many difficulties, peace in Korea will be attained in view of the extraordinarily mighty force which has been built up by the great People's Republic of China and the Korean Democratic People's Republic."

Meanwhile, flame-throwing Allied troops launched a twin-pronged attack on shell-battered Red positions in Korea's west sector and American pilots hit

(Continued on Page Two)

Gen. Drum Dies

NEW YORK, Oct. 3—Lt. Gen. Hugh A. Drum (retired), president of the Empire State Building, Inc., died of a heart attack today in his office on the 32nd floor of the world's tallest structure. The long-time Army officer was 72.

Drum was born in Pennsylvania and served in the Army during World War I. He was a member of the National Academy of Sciences and the National Academy of Engineering.

Dr. Hugh S. Dryden, director of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, agreed that the "brainwork" for a space ship program has been accomplished. But he predicted:

"It will take longer than a decade to devise rockets to fly to the moon."

Aviation Expert Robert McLarren flatly declared: "A rocket missile capable of escaping the earth can now be built using only presently available materials and designed on the basis of known data and techniques."

Four steps were set forth as necessary to accomplishment of the imagination-staggering goal.

BRITISH TAKE OUT NATIONALS FROM DISPUTED IRAN OIL AREA

AND THURSDAY BRINGS THE YANKEES

Brooklyn Leading New York In Bid For Berth In Series

POLO GROUNDS, Oct. 3—Brooklyn's Dodgers jumped into an early 1-0 lead over the New York Giants here this afternoon at the end of the second inning of play in the final game of the National League championship playoff.

Winner of the Brooklyn-Giant feud will be crowned champs of the National loop and receive a pass into the World Series for a crack at the New York Yankees.

Brooklyn surged into its single run lead in the first inning play via a hit by Dodger ace Jackie Robinson after Giant hurler Sal Maglie gave up two free passes.

Play-by-play account of the first two innings of play in the classic follows:

FIRST INNING

Dodgers: Furillo took a called third strike. Reese walked. Snider walked. Robinson singled to left, scoring Reese and Snider stopped at second. Pafko grounded to Thomson at third, forcing Snider. Hodges fouled to Thomson. One run, one hit, no errors, two left.

Giants: Stanky singled short to Pafko. Dark-skied to Cox. Mueller flied to Pafko. Nothing across.

SECOND INNING

Dodgers: Maglie threw out Cox. Walker fanned. Newcombe popped to Thomson. Nothing across.

Giants: Reese threw out Irvin. Lockman singled to right. Thomson singled to left, but although Lockman stopped at second Thomson kept on running. Realizing his mistake, he turned back to first and was thrown out. Pafko to Cox to Hodges. Lockman stayed on second. Mays lined to Pafko against the wall in left. No runs, two hits, no errors, one left.

Starting batting orders for the final game of the pennant play-off between the Giants and the Dodgers was:

New York: Stanky 2b, Dark ss, Mueller rf, Irvin lf, Lockman 1b, Thomson 3b.

Brooklyn: Furillo rf, Reese ss, Snider cf, Robinson 2b, Pafko lf, Hodges 1b.

The total carried by the conference report on the bill compares with $57.57 billion requested by the administration, $56 billion voted by the House and $61 billion approved by the Senate.

Sen. O'Mahoney, (D) Wyo., chairman of the conference committee, and sponsor of the Airforce supplemental appropriation, said the reduction to $1 billion was thought advisable now because the Joint Chiefs of Staff have not yet completed definite plans for increasing the Airforce from 95 to 140 groups.

The additional $1 billion will be divided between the Airforce and the Navy air arm, the Airforce receiving two-thirds.

The House amendment reducing the period for service of reserves from 17 to 12 months was not retained in the bill, but the House conferees will report this in disagreement, and another vote on it will be necessary when the House acts on the conference report.

The conferees agreed to the limitation, voted by the Senate, of 500,000 civilian personnel for the armed services, and a five per cent cut in the number of civilians employed at the Pentagon.

Critics pointed out that the cost of building a sewer to drain the northwest section of the city into the North Court street line would be about $7,000, as compared to about $65,000 to construct a separate main to parallel the Norfolk and Western Railway tracks to the big sewer line on Main street.

He said that the northeast area of the city, the region in which the bulk of the city's expansion is taking place, can be drained by running a sewer line down Lover's Lane to the recently constructed lift station over Hargus Creek on the Lancaster Pike, and then into the Main street line.

Councilman George Crites explained, however, that current engineering opinion is that the drain from the northwest area will be too small to make any appreciable difference in the North Court street sewer load.

"The overload is noticed only during and after heavy storms," he said. "That means that some storm waters are being emptied into the North Court street sanitary sewer."

Crites pointed out that the cost of building a sewer to drain the northwest section of the city into the North Court street line would be about $7,000, as compared to about $65,000 to construct a separate main to parallel the Norfolk and Western Railway tracks to the big sewer line on Main street.

He said that the northeast area of the city, the region in which the bulk of the city's expansion is taking place, can be drained by running a sewer line down Lover's Lane to the recently constructed lift station over Hargus Creek on the Lancaster Pike, and then into the Main street line.

Councilman George Crites explained, however, that current engineering opinion is that the drain from the northwest area will be too small to make any appreciable difference in the North Court street sewer load.

"The overload is noticed only during and after heavy storms," he said. "That means that some storm waters are being emptied into the North Court street sanitary sewer."

Crites pointed out that the cost of building a sewer to drain the northwest section of the city into the North Court street line would be about $7,000, as compared to about $65,000 to construct a separate main to parallel the Norfolk and Western Railway tracks to the big sewer line on Main street.

He said that the northeast area of the city, the region in which the bulk of the city's expansion is taking place, can be drained by running a sewer line down Lover's Lane to the recently constructed lift station over Hargus Creek on the Lancaster Pike, and then into the Main street line.

Councilman George Crites explained, however, that current engineering opinion is that the drain from the northwest area will be too small to make any appreciable difference in the North Court street sewer load.

"The overload is noticed only during and after heavy storms," he said. "That means that some storm waters are being emptied into the North Court street sanitary sewer."

pitchers with at least four days' rest in each hurling arm.

This year's world championship match will start in the Yankee Stadium, later moving over into the National League park for the possible clincher.

Baseball-wacky New Yorkers reeled in a dizzy daze today as dem Bums and those Giants met for the payoff game to decide the winner of the 1951 National League pennant.

The big town wasn't itself. Strange lingo assailed the ear, such as Giant Manager Leo Durocher's cryptic comment that Barber Sal Maglie "will be shaving today."

Dodger fans asserted that "Big Newk" would do "a little trimming" on his own account.

All that was before gametime. Dow-Jones' Wall Street ticket interrupted its sputtering about the stock market to give the batteries. Subways jammed up with rabid fans on their way to the ball park. Those who weren't at the Polo Grounds saw or heard the "crooshul" game over television or radio.

FRIENDS SPOKE to each other with brutal frankness, sometimes in strange jargon. The commonest word in circulation was "Bums."

And the pertinent question was: "Which are the Bums?"

"Gifts" of scallions and floral wreaths were passed around among so-called friends. Editors of the big city jacked up their sports staffs and relegated world news into a secondary status.

In Brooklyn city prison small radios were placed on each of three cell-block tiers for the fans behind the bars.

An avid listener at New York penitentiary on Rikers Island was ex-bookmaker Har-

(Continued on Page Two)

Northwest Area Finally Gets Sewer Promise

It took repeated visits to Circleville city council chamber, but a delegation of citizens from the northwest part of the city Tuesday apparently won their point.

They exacted a promise from the local legislators that a sewer will be installed to drain Hayward street.

The proposed sewer will drain into the North Court street line. This is a reversal of previous contentions in council, when it was argued that the North Court line already is overloaded.

Councilman George Crites explained, however, that current engineering opinion is that the drain from the northwest area will be too small to make any appreciable difference in the North Court street sewer load.

"The overload is noticed only during and after heavy storms," he said. "That means that some storm waters are being emptied into the North Court street sanitary sewer."

Crites pointed out that the cost of building a sewer to drain the northwest section of the city into the North Court street line would be about $7,000, as compared to about $65,000 to construct a separate main to parallel the Norfolk and Western Railway tracks to the big sewer line on Main street.

He said that the northeast area of the city, the region in which the bulk of the city's expansion is taking place, can be drained by running a sewer line down Lover's Lane to the recently constructed lift station over Hargus Creek on the Lancaster Pike, and then into the Main street line.

Councilman George Crites explained, however, that current engineering opinion is that the drain from the northwest area will be too small to make any appreciable difference in the North Court street sewer load.

"The overload is noticed only during and after heavy storms," he said. "That means that some storm waters are being emptied into the North Court street sanitary sewer."

Crites pointed out that the cost of building a sewer to drain the northwest section of the city into the North Court street line would be about $7,000, as compared to about $65,000 to construct a separate main to parallel the Norfolk and Western Railway tracks to the big sewer line on Main street.

He said that the northeast area of the city, the region in which the bulk of the city's expansion is taking place, can be drained by running a sewer line down Lover's Lane to the recently constructed lift station over Hargus Creek on the Lancaster Pike, and then into the Main street line.

Councilman George Crites explained, however, that current engineering opinion is that the drain from the northwest area will be too small to make any appreciable difference in the North Court street sewer load.

"The overload is noticed only during and after heavy storms," he said. "That means that some storm waters are being emptied into the North Court street sanitary sewer."

Crites pointed out that the cost of building a sewer to drain the northwest section of the city into the North Court street line would be about $7,000, as compared to about $65,000 to construct a separate main to parallel the Norfolk and Western Railway tracks to the big sewer line on Main street.

He said that the northeast area of the city, the region in which the bulk of the city's expansion is taking place, can be drained by running a sewer line down Lover's Lane to the recently constructed lift station over Hargus Creek on the Lancaster Pike, and then into the Main street line.

Councilman George Crites explained, however, that current engineering opinion is that the drain from the northwest area will be too small to make any appreciable difference in the North Court street sewer load.

"The overload is noticed only during and after heavy storms," he said. "That means that some storm waters are being emptied into the North Court street sanitary sewer."

ONE of the methods by which U.N. forces can often turn the tide of battle in Korea is pictured above. Five tons of 155 mm. artillery ammunition float gently earthward toward UN positions on a wooded hill after being dropped from combat cargo planes.

Removal of the experts has been criticized by Conservative Party opponents of Britain's Labor government as "cowardly."

Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison, stung by Conservative criticism, said Britain will maintain its rights in Iran without a "bad-tempered resort to war."

Morrison, speaking to a Labor Party rally in Scarborough, England, said:

"We are ready to stand up for British rights, but we believe patience is wise. The United Nations and its machinery are better than a precipitate, bad-tempered resort to war."

THE FOREIGN secretary admitted that Prime Minister Clement Attlee had promised the House of Commons that Britain would remain in Iran. He continued:

"But what he did not say was that he would use force in keeping our people in Abadan."

Conservative Leader Winston Churchill has served notice that the handling of the Iranian oil dispute, which he once characterized as "butter-fingered," would be a prime issue in the campaign leading up to the Oct. 25 general election.

Churchill accused Attlee of "breaking 'a solemn promise' to parliament, 'bluffing' and 'rattling the saber' in Iran only to suffer a diplomatic defeat.

As the British moved out of the country, the Russians gave every indication of planning to extend their influence.

Ambassador Ivan Sadchikov met yesterday with Iranian Premier Mohammed Mossadeq and discussed a trade agreement with the Tehran government.

Such an agreement might embrace shipments of rice and

(Continued on Page Two)

Councilman Fears City May Lose State Pension Aid

Since November, 1948, only two-tenths of a mill of Circleville taxes have been going into the city's police and firemen's pension funds.

And that, according to Councilman George Crites, "puts the city between the devil and the deep blue sea."

He explained to his colleagues on city council that actually three-tenths of a mill should have been sluiced into the pension funds.

Because only when three-tenths of a mill are set aside for pensions can the city expect subsidy funds to be paid by the state. The subsidy amounts to one-tenth mill.

But, Crites went on, the state has been paying the subsidy. It amounts to $2,222.72. And the city owes the pension funds $7,104.54.

"Now, if we don't pay the $7,104.54 to the pension funds, we'll have to take $2,222.72 out of the funds and send it back to the states," Crites said. "And the trouble is we don't have the $7,104.54."

He said his information on the matter came from a state examiner now working on the city's books.

McCarthy Said Threat To U.S.

DURHAM, N. C., Oct. 3—Rep. Richard Bolling, a Missouri Democrat, ranks Sen. Joseph McCarthy in the same class as Communism—a threat to American Democracy.

Bolling said the Wisconsin Republican "has actually aided Communism by creating disunity based on distrust and fear."

London Says It Wants To Avoid War

(Continued from Page One)

wool to Russia while the Soviets agreed to supply Iran with such critical items as sugar, textiles and machinery which Britain no longer is exporting to the oil-rich Middle East country.

MOSSADEGH thanked Sadchikov for Russia's attempt to keep the UN Security Council from considering a British complaint against Iran's nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co.

Sadchikov also reportedly told Mossadeh that the Kremlin would help Iran if the UN should impose sanctions against the Tehran government.

Britain's complaint not only is aimed at Iran's nationalization law, but the expulsion decree which came as a climax to months of controversy in which the London government based its case on a 60-year lease on the oil fields which runs until 1933.

Mossadeh will leave by air for New York Sunday in connection with Great Britain's complaint to the Security Council.

Because of ill health, the premier will stay in a New York hospital. He will be accompanied by his son, Dr. Gholam Mossadeh.

UN Report Urges Creation Of Military Group

FLUSHING MEADOW, N. Y., Oct. 3—A United Nations report has urged creation of an "Executive Military Authority"—similar to the unified command in Korea—to direct future U. N. military action against aggression.

The report also recommended use of regional defensive alliances, such as the North Atlantic Pact, and smashing aggression under the Acheson Plan for collective security.

The document was drafted during weeks of secret meetings by the 14-nation collective measures committee's sub-committee.

It represents the final phase of a three-year economic, political and military program for "putting teeth" into the Acheson Anti-aggression Plan approved overwhelmingly by the U. N. Assembly last year.

Under the program, all lessons learned from the Korean War would be put to use in mobilizing U. N. defenses against an off-ending state.

The entire resources of the Free World, including Non-U. N. members as well, would be utilized in efforts to maintain peace and security.

The military phase, basically, calls for establishment of an "executive military authority" the moment the world organization decides to use force against an aggressor, as in Korea.

Pickaway Court News

Probate Court

Mary E. Zahard appointed administratrix of the Florence E. Wolford estate.

Determination of inheritance tax filed on the Anna Reichelderfer estate. Required to pay $33.55 tax each Jeanette Reichelderfer, Etta Reichelderfer and Fannie Riggins.

Application for transfer of real property, part of the Mary E. Shea estate, approved.

Private sale of real estate, part of the William H. Bost estate, approved.

19 Idle Pay Claims Filed

New claims for unemployment compensation rose last week to 19 from 10 for the week before.

C. C. Thomas, local Bureau of Unemployment Compensation manager, said, however, that continued claims remained the same, 22 for both weeks.

Throughout the state, Thomas continued, new claims last week dropped to 5,869 from 6,453 for the week before, while continued claims rose to 30,893 from 29,710.

Continued claims are those filed more than one week in succession.

Atwater Rites Set For Oct. 14

A formal ceremony of dedication will be held in the new Atwater elementary school building at 3 p. m. Oct. 14.

Speaker for the special dedication program will be Harold Bowers of Ashville, head of the teacher certification department in the Ohio department of education.

The ceremony is to serve to acquaint the city with its newest elementary school building, put into operation this year.

Local Physical Ed Building Start Is Delayed

Circleville board of education is to meet in special session in late October to review final plans and specifications for its proposed $475,000 physical education building.

F. F. Glass of Columbus, architect for the city board, told the panel Tuesday night that he has completed final plans of the building, subject to the board's approval.

However, in view of a letter received by the board in answer to its application to build the proposed structure, the board agreed to postpone review of the plans until the week of Oct. 22.

The board has been notified by the National Production Authority that its request for permission to build the physical education plant has been turned down for the remainder of this year, although approval "may be" forthcoming early in 1952.

Glass admitted to the panel that no special hurry was needed in reviewing the plans, although it should be completed in time to advertise for bids in the event the panel is given permission to build in 1952.

Local School Nets Profit

(Continued from Page One)

$2,045 for the purchase of the machine.

"What shall we do about it?" Cress asked the panel.

The answer was unanimous, and the board was $2,045 richer.

William R. Wyatt, current industrial arts instructor, said the machine was too large for use in the local school, more fitted to commercial manufacturing than for instructional purposes. He said the machine new would have cost about $4,500.

The panel pointed out that the money will be used solely for purchase of new machinery for the industrial arts plant.

Two Drivers Forfeit Bonds

Two men forfeited bonds totaling $20 in Circleville mayor's court Tuesday when failing to answer accusations.

Arnold Coleman, 31, of Phelps, Ky., forfeited $10 bond for failing to answer an accusation of driving without a license, while Earl Schott, 21, also of Phelps, forfeited $10 bond when failing to answer an accusation of permitting Coleman to drive.

Library Offers Look At Game

STAMFORD, Conn., Oct. 3—Stamford's library has started a new service. Residents were invited to come in today to see the Giants-Dodgers game on its 19-inch television set.

Miss Mary Louise Alexander, the librarian, favored the Dodgers, but she's a little hazy about how many bases there are on a diamond.

Church Schedules Wednesday Rites

Msgr. George Mason, newly appointed pastor of Circleville St. Joseph's Catholic church, will conduct devotions at 7:30 p. m. each Wednesday throughout October.

The devotions will consist of Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament and recitation of the Holy Rosary.

MARKETS

CASH quotations made to farmers in Circleville:

Eggs	56
Cream, Regular	60
Cream, Premium	65
Butter, Grade A, wholesale	74

POULTRY

Fries, 3 lbs. and up	27
Heavy Hens	24
Roasters	25
Light Hens	19
Old Roosters	13

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

HOGS—salable 9,000; bidding 15-35¢ higher, no early sales, early top bid 22.10; bulk 20.50-22; heavy 20.00-21.75; medium 21.50-22.10; light 21.25-22; light hogs 19.75-21.75; packing sows 17.50-21.25; pigs 10-17.50.

CATTLE—salable 8,500; steady, calves salable 300; steady, choice to prime steers 36-40.50; common to choice 27-36; yearlings 27-40.25; heifers 27-39.25; cows 22-31; bulls 24-30; calves 25-37; feeder steers 30-38; stocker steers 24-30; stocker cows and heifers 23-36.50.

SHEEP—salable 2,000; steady, medium and choice lambs 30-32; culls and common 25-30; yearlings 23-29.50; ewes 10-16.

CIRCLEVILLE CASH GRAIN PRICES

Wheat	2.23
Corn	1.69
Soybeans	2.52

CHICAGO GRAIN

Dec.	2.46 1/2	1.75 1/2
March	2.50	1.79 1/2
July	2.54 1/2	1.81 1/2
Dec.	2.44 1/2	1.73 1/2
March	2.48 1/2	1.77 1/2
July	2.52 1/2	1.81 1/2

OATS

Dec.	.86 1/2	.87 1/2
March	.90 1/2	.91 1/2
July	.92 1/2	.93 1/2

SOYBEANS

Nov.	2.81	2.83 1/2
Jan.	2.83	2.85 1/2
March	2.85	2.87 1/2
May	2.87 1/2	2.89 1/2
July	2.90	2.91 1/2

Stoutsville

Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Freace of Tarlton, spent Tuesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Aldenderfer.

Miss Joanne Freace and Mr. Dutch Rehrig from Wittenberg College, Springfield spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Glen Christy.

Rev. and Mrs. Dutt and Mrs. Howard of Columbus visited with Rose Leist Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Drum and daughter, Teresa, near Tarlton were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elma Fosnaugh.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wood returned Monday from a month vacation at Cape Cod, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Chet Valentine were Sunday callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shride.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorwin Butts and daughter of Delaware were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shride recently.

Mrs. Kathryn Wynkoop was a visitor in Columbus Friday.

Joanne Darner, daughter of Mrs. Stevenson entered Berger Hospital Saturday for observation and treatment.

Mrs. Rosemary Grooms and son of Chillicothe visited Sunday night and Monday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Valentine and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hartley and son, Ronald of Tarlton, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Rymer, sons, Paul and James and Mrs. Herbert Timmons of Stoutsville, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Graves and Mrs. Ruth James of Chillicothe, Dexter Crosby of South Perry spent Sunday with Mr. Wilbur Graves and daughter, Dorothy of Chillicothe.

Mr. and Mrs. Durbin Good and sons, Donald and Laurence and friends entertained Pfc. Kenneth Good with a basket dinner Sunday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Good of Circleville, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Phymmer, daughter, Vanita, Mr. Lester Good, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gartley and son, Gary, Mrs. May Rymer, Miss Bessie Good, Miss Leona Good, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Rymer, sons, Paul and James all of Stoutsville, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Rymer and daughter, Judy, Mrs. Roy Hartman and daughter, Ethel of Tarlton, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Arledge and family of Orient.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thorne of Columbus were dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Roy Harden, Sunday.

Miss Myra LeRoy returned to Ravenna Sunday after a vacation trip in the East with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. LeRoy.

Beryl Miesse and son, David visited with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miesse Sunday.

Mrs. Dana Crites called on Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crites Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Clarice Hopkins and daughters of Cleveland vacationed with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miesse from Thursday until Sunday.

Miss Blanche Meyers was pleasantly surprised when eighteen relatives gathered at her home for a picnic supper Sunday. Those present were, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Snider and daughter, Elaine, Mrs. Rose Hasson, Mr. and Mrs. Howell Walters, Mr. and Mrs. John Thatcher and son, Austin all of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thatcher of Washington C. H. Mr. and Mrs. Abner Junk Kenia, Mrs. Dwight Fenner, son Steven, daughters, Beverly, Carol and Pamela of Hillsboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Miesse and daughter, Patti of Columbus visited with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miesse Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Justus and Mrs. Clarence Patrick of near Kingston were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Jones of Chillicothe.

Mrs. Ward Miller spent Friday with Mrs. Etta Hoffman.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris Kuhnheim of Columbus visited with Mr. and Mrs. Clay Fausnaugh Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cochran have returned home after vacationing several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Reichelderfer.

Callers at the home of Mrs. Clay Fausnaugh Monday were Mrs. Ella Greeno, Mrs. Florence Fee and Mrs. Rose Miesse.

Mrs. Waldo Murrell called on Mrs. D. C. Karr Saturday.

Too Late To Classify

ARMSTRONG Steel furnace for sale model 29E, complete with blower, used 1 season; 2 Coleman floor furnaces, with automatic controls. Ph. 52R31 Ashville ex. May be seen after 6 p. m.

ARMS, SIGHT and hearing lost in a wartime U. S. Army camp explosion, Ralph Anslow, 40, Glendora, Cal., is winner of a $400 American Legion prize for a letter recounting his triumph over despair. Now married and with a family and a job, the veteran's sight is partly restored. (International)

Series Due On Thursday

(Continued from Page One)

ry Gross doing a 12-year "stretch," instead of a seventh inning stretch.

At Belmont Park race track, those optimists who were trying to pick the daily double and throw the mutuels for a loss in the other races carried portable radios to listen to the game. The form sheets got only a cursory examination today.

Somewhat more normal, the rest of the country also showed keen interest in the Polo Grounds goings on.

The big game was televised coast-to-coast and play-by-play also was carried over the radio across the nation.

Governor Warren Says Crime War Up To Localities

GATLINBURG, Tenn., Oct. 3—Gov. Earl Warren of California, a former prosecutor and a strong GOP presidential prospect for 1952, declared today that control of organized crime is "up to the states."

Warren prefaced a governors' conference roundtable on law enforcement with the assertion that only state and local officials can wipe out the underworld operations which breed corruption. He said it is their "primary responsibility."

The panel discussion, with Warren presiding, gave the 1948 GOP vice-presidential candidate one of the spotlight positions of the 43rd annual governors' conference which closes late today.

Warren is regarded by many Republicans as the man most likely to be pushed by liberal GOP leaders if Gen. Eisenhower takes himself irrevocably out of their reach.

On the Democratic side, Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina signalled the flourishing of an anti-Truman Southern drive by announcing he is against President Truman's reelection and favors the nomination of either Sen. Russell, (D) Ga., or Sen. Byrd, (D) Va.

Byrnes predicted that Mr. Truman would not seek reelection and made it emphatically clear that he, Byrnes, would not accept any further public office.

Plane Carries 127 Wounded Men

TOKYO, Oct. 3—The Far East Airforce announced today that a Giant C-124 Globemaster evacuated 127 wounded United Nations fighting men from Korea on one flight yesterday.

The Globemaster carried more than three times the number of patients normally carried by the C-54 Skymaster, previously the largest transport in the combat cargo division.

The C-124 air lifted 20 tons of aircraft engines and parts from Tokyo to Korea on its morning flight.

The dispatch said the drive came south of the Red river in Indo-China over mountainous terrain covered with jungles.

DEAD STOCK

Cash Paid on the Spot

Horses	$2.00 each
Cows	$3.00 each

All according to size and condition

Hogs, Calves and Sheep Also Removed

DARLING & COMPANY

Phone Collect To Circleville 31

Who Will Come Back To Korea's Battlefields?

KOREA, Oct. 3—Who will come to look at the battlefields of this war when Korea is quiet again?

Will anyone poke through blasted bunkers and scale the hills of Bloody Ridge or Heartbreak Ridge the way they look at Normandy or Argonne?

Will there be a monument here, where men have died like ants crawling up the sides of a muddy ditch?

Or will the seared and blighted hills of Eastern Korea remain desolate and lonely forever—with the unexploded shell, the carbine clip, the shattered helmet and the blackened tree the only memorial to men who died because there was nothing to do but attack and attack and attack.

Now, of course, the guns in the valleys roar and the roads are busy with traffic. On the mountains themselves, the foxholes and the bunkers are home for thousands of men with millions of dreams.

But someday the Korean farmer will plow again around the gutted tank and turn up ration cans and bullets in his field. Someday, the soldiers hope, they will go home and the crows will have the mountains to themselves. The big broad roads the engineers made will be silent and unused.

Why Men Leave Home

Who Will Come Back To Korea's Battlefields?

KOREA, Oct. 3—Who will come to look at the battlefields of this war when Korea is quiet again?

Will anyone poke through blasted bunkers and scale the hills of Bloody Ridge or Heartbreak Ridge the way they look at Normandy or Argonne?

Will there be a monument here, where men have died like ants crawling up the sides of a muddy ditch?

Or will the seared and blighted hills of Eastern Korea remain desolate and lonely forever—with the unexploded shell, the carbine clip, the shattered helmet and the blackened tree the only memorial to men who died because there was nothing to do but attack and attack and attack.

Now, of course, the guns in the valleys roar and the roads are busy with traffic. On the mountains themselves, the foxholes and the bunkers are home for thousands of men with millions of dreams.

But someday the Korean farmer will plow again around the gutted tank and turn up ration cans and bullets in his field. Someday, the soldiers hope, they will go home and the crows will have the mountains to themselves. The big broad roads the engineers made will be silent and unused.

HERE, WHERE a boy from Ohio killed a man from Pyongyang with a knife, there will be only a piece of metal in the ground. And over there, where a wounded corporal who knew he was dying got to his feet and charged the enemy once more—for his buddies—there will be a tree stump and a rusted bit of tin.

But perhaps someday the mountain flowers will bloom brighter for the blood lost on the hillsides. And perhaps the trees will grow more thickly because a thousand dreams of romance and laughter perished here at gunpoint.

Lutheran Men To Stage Own 'Pumpkin Show'

Circleville's Pumpkin Show will come early this year—for members of the Trinity Lutheran Church Brotherhood.

A miniature "pumpkin show," complete with ribbons and prizes, is to be held Thursday night in Trinity Lutheran church parish house by the men's group.

And expected to be present for the festivities to give it official approval will be Bob Colville, Circleville's "Mr. Pumpkin Show."

The miniature "pumpkin show" program will feature farm produce exhibited by members of the Brotherhood in a team contest.

All members of the men's group whose last names begin with the letters A through L are to be members of the "Punkinners," commanded by H. A. Bumgardner, John Eitel, Harry Kern and William Koch.

THE REMAINING members, those whose last names begin with M through Z will be on the "Vegetarians" team, headed by Elmer Strous, Chet Wolf, Don Trump and Chet McCloud.

Both teams are to display produce during the program, vying for points and ribbons. The ribbons are leftovers from the 1950 Pumpkin Show.

Winning team in the contest will be treated to lunch and entertainment by the losers during the Nov. 1 meeting.

Produce and pastries exhibited for judging during the miniature "pumpkin show" will be auctioned off to the members later in the evening, with the proceeds to go into the group's treasury.

Speech Teachers To Hold Parley

ATHENS, Oct. 3—The fourth annual Ohio conference for speech education will be staged by Ohio university Saturday for Ohio college and high school teachers of speech.

The university's new $900,000 dramatic arts and speech building will be dedicated during the one-day conference. Election of officers of the Ohio Association of Secondary Teachers of Speech also will take place.

Cliftona Theatre Coming Soon

AFTER IT'S TOO LATE YOU'D GIVE ANYTHING TO KNOW—

Why Men Leave Home

Katie Did It

STARLIGHT CRUISE

LAST TIMES TONIGHT

PLAY WAHOO THURS. ONE DAY ONLY

5-Winners Nightly—5

—ON SCREEN—

When KATIE DID IT

PLAY WAHOO THURS. ONE DAY ONLY

5-Winners Nightly—5

—ON SCREEN—

When KATIE DID IT

PLAY WAHOO THURS. ONE DAY ONLY

5-Winners Nightly—5

—ON SCREEN—

Mainly About People

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

Civilization cannot thrive on casual unions. Self centered people cannot establish stable homes. Art thou bound to a wife, seek not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife, seek not a wife.—I Cor. 7:27.

Mrs. Ross Hamilton of Spring-hollow Road entered Berger hospital Tuesday as a medical patient.

John Hill, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hill of Stoutsville, was admitted to Berger hospital Tuesday for surgery.

There will be a games party in the Muhlenberg school, Saturday evening, October 6 starting at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. George Hartsough of Circleville Route 3 was admitted to Berger hospital Tuesday for medical treatment.

New service address of Pfc. Roy (Mac) Wolfe is: Hq. and Hq. Det. 14th QM. Bn. APO 743, in care of Postmaster, New York, N. Y.

Fried fish, French fried potatoes, slaw, bread and butter, coffee will be served at St. Paul's AME church, Pickaway and Mill Sts., Friday evening, starting at 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Albert Given of Frankfort entered Berger hospital Tuesday as a surgical patient.

Mrs. E. T. Clevenger of Circleville Route 3 was admitted to Berger hospital Tuesday as a medical patient.

There will be a games party in the Muhlenberg school, Saturday evening, October 6 starting at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. John Fohl of 156 West Water street was admitted to Berger hospital Tuesday for surgery.

Miss Jean Eitel who underwent a tonsillectomy in Berger hospital Monday was removed to her home, Circleville Route 2 Wednesday.

A Games Party will be held in the Moose Hall Wednesday evening, starting at 8 o'clock to which the public is invited.—ad.

Joseph Pilliod, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gaile Pilliod of Circleville Route 3 was admitted to Berger hospital Tuesday evening where he was treated for first and second degree burns from the waist down, reportedly received when he was scalded by hot coffee. He was removed to children's hospital in Columbus Wednesday.

Condition of Curtiss Routh of Kingston who was injured recently in an auto accident is reported to be "slightly improved." He is a patient in Berger hospital.

Andrew Turner of Columbus was fined $10 and costs in the court of Mayor Thurman I. Miller Tuesday on an affidavit accusing him of speeding at wool to Russia while the Soviets agreed to supply Iran with such critical items as sugar, textiles and machinery which Britain no longer is exporting to the oil-rich Middle East country.

London Says It Wants To Avoid War

(Continued from Page One)

MOSSADEGH thanked Sadchikov for Russia's attempt to keep the UN Security Council from considering a British complaint against Iran's nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co.

Sadchikov also reportedly told Mossadegh that the Kremlin would help Iran if the UN should impose sanctions against the Tehran government.

Britain's complaint not only is aimed at Iran's nationalization law, but the expulsion decree which came as a climax to months of controversy in which the London government based its case on a 60-year lease on the oil fields which runs until 1933.

Mossadegh will leave by air for New York Sunday in connection with Great Britain's complaint to the Security Council.

Because of ill health, the premier will stay in a New York hospital. He will be accompanied by his son, Dr. Gholam Mossadegh.

UN Report Urges Creation Of Military Group

FLUSHING MEADOW, N. Y., Oct. 3.—A United Nations report has urged creation of an "Executive Military Authority"—similar to the unified command in Korea—to direct future U. N. military action against aggression.

The report also recommended use of regional defensive alliances, such as the North Atlantic Pact, and smashing aggression under the Acheson Plan for collective security.

The document was drafted during weeks of secret meetings by the 14-nation collective measures committee's sub-committee.

It represents the final phase of a three-way economic, political and military program for "putting teeth" into the Acheson Anti-aggression Plan approved overwhelmingly by the U. N. Assembly last year.

Under the program, all lessons learned from the Korean War would be put to use in mobilizing U. N. defenses against an offending state.

The entire resources of the Free World, including Non-U. N. members as well, would be utilized in efforts to maintain peace and security.

The military phase, basically, calls for establishment of an "executive military authority" the moment the world organization decides to use force against an aggressor, as in Korea.

Pickaway Court News

Probate Court

Mary E. Zahard appointed administratrix of the Florence E. Wolford estate.

Determination of inheritance tax filed on the Anna Reichelderfer estate. Required to pay $33.55 tax each are Jeanette Reichelderfer, Etta Reichelderfer and Fannie Riggan.

Application for transfer of real property, part of the Mary E. Shea estate, approved.

Private sale of real estate, part of the William H. Bost estate, approved.

19 Idle Pay Claims Filed

New claims for unemployment compensation rose last week to 19 from 10 for the week before.

C. C. Thomas, local Bureau of Unemployment Compensation manager, said, however, that continued claims remained the same, 22 for both weeks.

Throughout the state, Thomas continued, new claims last week dropped to 5,869 from 6,453 for the week before, while continued claims rose to 30,893 from 29,710.

Continued claims are those filed more than one week in succession.

Atwater Rites Set For Oct. 14

A formal ceremony of dedication will be held in the new Atwater elementary school building at 3 p. m. Oct. 14.

Speaker for the special dedication program will be Harold Bowers of Ashville, head of the teacher certification department in the Ohio department of education.

The ceremony is to serve to acquaint the city with its newest elementary school building, put into operation this year.

Local Physical Ed Building Start Is Delayed

Circleville board of education is to meet in special session in late October to review final plans and specifications for its proposed $475,000 physical education building.

F. F. Glass of Columbus, architect for the city board, told the panel Tuesday night that he has completed final plans of the building, subject to the board's approval.

However, in view of a letter received by the board in answer to its application to build the proposed structure, the board agreed to postpone review of the plans until the week of Oct. 22.

The board has been notified by the National Production Authority that its request for permission to build the physical education plant has been turned down for the remainder of this year, although approval "may be" forthcoming early in 1952.

Glass admitted to the panel that no special hurry was needed in reviewing the plans, although it should be completed in time to advertise for bids in the event the panel is given permission to build in 1952.

Local School Nets Profit

(Continued from Page One)

$2,045 for the purchase of the machine.

"What shall we do about it?" Cress asked the panel.

The answer was unanimous, and the board was $2,045 richer.

William R. Wyatt, current industrial arts instructor, said the machine was too large for use in the local school, more fitted to commercial manufacturing than for instructional purposes.

He said the machine new would have cost about $4,500.

The panel pointed out that the money will be used solely for purchase of new machinery for the industrial arts plant.

Two Drivers Forfeit Bonds

Two men forfeited bonds totaling $20 in Circleville mayor's court Tuesday when failing to answer accusations.

Arnold Coleman, 31, of Phelps, Ky., forfeited $10 bond for failing to answer an accusation of driving without a license, while Earl Schott, 21, also of Phelps, forfeited $10 bond when failing to answer an accusation of permitting Coleman to drive.

Library Offers Look At Game

STAMFORD, Conn., Oct. 3.—Stamford's library has started a new service. Residents were invited to come in today to see the Giants-Dodgers game on its 19-inch television set.

Miss Mary Louise Alexander, the librarian, favored the Dodgers, but she's a little hazy about how many bases there are on a diamond.

Church Schedules Wednesday Rites

Msgr. George Mason, newly-appointed pastor of Circleville St. Joseph's Catholic church, will conduct devotions at 7:30 p. m. each Wednesday throughout October.

The devotions will consist of Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament and recitation of the Holy Rosary.

MARKETS

CASH quotations made to farmers to Circleville:

Eggs, Cream, Regular, 60
Cream, Premium, 65
Butter, Grade A, wholesale, 74

POULTRY
Fries, 3 lbs. and up, 27
Heavy Hens, 25
Roasts, 25
Light Hens, 25
Old Roosters, 12

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK
HOGS—salable 8,000; bidding 15-25c higher, no early sales, early top bid 22.10; bulk 20.50-22; heavy 20.00-21.75; medium 21.50-22.10; light 21.25-22; light lights 19.75-21.75; packing sows 17.50-21.25; pigs 10-17.50.

CATTLE—salable 8,500; steady; calves salable 300; steady; choice to prime steers 36-40.50; common to choice 27-30; yearlings 27-40.25; heifers 27-30-35; cows 22-31; bulls 24-30; calves 23-27; feeder steers 30-38; stocker steers 24-30; stocker cows and heifers 23-36.50.

SHEEP—salable 2,000; steady; medium and choice lambs 30-32; culls and common 25-30; yearlings 23-29.50; ewes 18-25.

CIRCLEVILLE CASH GRAIN PRICES
Wheat, 2.23
Corn, 1.60
Soybeans, 2.52

CHICAGO GRAIN
WHEAT
Dec., 2.46 1/2, 2.48 1/2
Mar., 2.50 1/2, 2.51 1/2
May, 2.51 1/2, 2.52 1/2
July, 2.44 1/2, 2.45 1/2

CORN
Dec., 1.74 1/2, 1.75 1/2
Mar., 1.77 1/2, 1.78 1/2
May, 1.79 1/2, 1.80 1/2
July, 1.80 1/2, 1.81 1/2

OATS
Dec., .86 1/2, .87 1/2
Mar., .90 1/2, .91 1/2
May, .92 1/2, .93 1/2
July, .90 1/2, .91 1/2

SOYBEANS
Nov., 2.81, 2.83 1/2
Jan., 2.82 1/2, 2.84 1/2
Mar., 2.86, 2.88 1/2
May, 2.89 1/2, 2.91 1/2
July, 2.90, 2.91 1/2

Stoutsville

Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Freace of Tarlton, spent Tuesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Aldenderfer.

Miss Joanne Freace and Mr. Dutch Rehgr from Wittenberg College, Springfield spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Glen Christy.

Rev. and Mrs. Dutt and Mrs. Howard of Columbus visited with Rose Leist Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Drum and daughter, Teresa, near Tarlton were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elma Fosnaugh.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wood returned Monday from a month vacation at Cape Cod, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Chet Valentine were Sunday callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shride.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorwin Butts and daughter of Delaware were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shride recently.

Mrs. Kathryn Wynkoop was a visitor in Columbus Friday.

Joanne Darner, daughter of Mrs. Stevenson entered Berger Hospital Saturday for observation and treatment.

Mrs. Rosemary Grooms and son of Chillicothe visited Sunday night and Monday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Valentine and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hartley and son, Ronald of Tarlton, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Rymer, sons, Paul and James and Mrs. Herbert Timmos of Stoutsville, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Graves and Mrs. Ruth James of Chillicothe, Dexter Crosby of South Perry spent Sunday with Mr. Wilbur Graves and daughter, Dorothy of Chillicothe.

Mr. and Mrs. Durbin Good and sons, Donald and Laurence and friends entertained Pfc. Kenneth Good with a basket dinner Sunday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Good of Circleville, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Phymmer, daughter, Vanita, Mr. Lester Good, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gartley and son, Gary, Mrs. May Rhymer, Miss Bessie Good, Miss Leona Good, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Rymer, sons, Paul and James all of Stoutsville, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Rhymer and daughter, Judy, Mrs. Roy Hartman and daughter, Ethel of Tarlton, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Arledge and family of Orient.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thorne of Columbus were dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Roy Harden, Sunday.

Miss Myra LeRoy returned to Ravenna Sunday after a vacation trip in the East with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. LeRoy.

Beryl Miesse and son, David visited with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miesse Sunday.

Mrs. Dana Crites called on Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crites Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Clarice Hopkins and daughters of Cleveland vacationed with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miesse from Thursday until Sunday.

Miss Blanche Meyers was pleasantly surprised when eighteen relatives gathered at her home for a picnic supper Sunday. Those present were, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Snider and daughter, Elaine, Mrs. Rose Hasson, Mr. and Mrs. Howell Walters, Mr. and Mrs. John Thatcher and son, Austin all of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thatcher of Washington C. H. Mr. and Mrs. Abner Junk Xenia, Mrs. Dwight Fenner, son Steven, daughters, Beverly, Carol and Pamela of Hillsboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Miesse and daughter, Patti of Columbus visited with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miesse Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Justus and Mrs. Clarence Patrick of near Kingston were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Jones of Chillicothe.

Mrs. Ward Miller spent Friday with Mrs. Etta Hoffman.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris Kuhnheim of Columbus visited with Mr. and Mrs. Clay Fausnaugh Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cochran have returned home after vacationing several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Reichelderfer.

Callers at the home of Mrs. Clay Fausnaugh Monday were Mrs. Ella Greeno, Mrs. Florence Fee and Mrs. Rose Miesse.

Mrs. Waldo Murrell called on Mrs. D. C. Karr Saturday.

Too Late To Classify

ARMSTRONG Steel furnace for sale model 29E, complete with blower, used 1 season; 2 Coleman floor furnaces, with automatic controls. Ph. 52R31 Ashville ex. May be seen after 6 p. m.

ARMS, sight and hearing lost in a wartime U. S. Army camp explosion, Ralph Anslow, 40, Glendora, Cal., is winner of a $400 American Legion prize for a letter recounting his triumph over despair. Now married and with a family and a job, the veteran's sight is partly restored. (International)

Series Due On Thursday

(Continued from Page One)

ry Gross doing a 12-year "stretch," instead of a seventh inning stretch.

At Belmont Park race track, those optimists who were trying to pick the daily double and throw the mutuels for a loss in the other races carried portable radios to listen to the game. The form sheets got only a cursory examination today.

Somewhat more normal, the rest of the country also showed keen interest in the Polo Grounds goings on.

The big game was televised coast-to-coast and play-by-play also was carried over the radio across the nation.

Governor Warren Says Crime War Up To Localities

GATLINBURG, Tenn., Oct. 3.—Gov. Earl Warren of California, a former prosecutor and a strong GOP presidential prospect for 1952, declared today that control of organized crime is "up to the states."

Warren prefaced a governors' conference roundtable on law enforcement with the assertion that only state and local officials can wipe out the underworld operations which breed corruption. He said it is their "primary responsibility."

The panel discussion, with Warren presiding, gave the 1948 GOP vice-presidential candidate one of the spotlight positions of the 43rd annual governors' conference which closes late today.

Warren is regarded by many Republicans as the man most likely to be pushed by liberal GOP leaders if Gen. Eisenhower takes himself irrevocably out of their reach.

On the Democratic side, Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina signalled the flourishing of an anti-Truman Southern drive by announcing he is a candidate for the nomination of either Sen. Russell, (D) Ga., or Sen. Byrd, (D) Va.

Byrnes predicted that Mr. Truman would not seek reelection and made it emphatically clear that he, Byrnes, would not accept any further public office.

Plane Carries 127 Wounded Men

TOKYO, Oct. 3.—The Far East Airforce announced today that a Giant C-124 Globemaster evacuated 127 wounded United Nations fighting men from Korea on one flight yesterday.

The Globemaster carried more than three times the number of patients normally carried by the C-54 Skymaster, previously the largest transport in the combat cargo division.

The C-124 air lifted 20 tons of aircraft engines and parts from Tokyo to Korea on its morning flight.

Indo-China Reds Striking Again

PARIS, Oct. 3.—The Paris newspaper France Soir reported from Saigon today that Communist-led Viet Minh rebels have launched an attack in full division strength against French positions in the Tonkin area.

The dispatch said the drive came south of the Red river in Indo-China over mountainous terrain covered with jungles.

DEAD STOCK

Cash Paid on the Spot
Horses $2.00 each
Cows $3.00 each
All according to size and condition

Hogs, Calves and Sheep Also Removed
DARLING & COMPANY
Phone Collect To Circleville 31

Who Will Come Back To Korea's Battlefields?

KOREA, Oct. 3.—Who will come to look at the battlefields of this war when Korea is quiet again?

Will anyone poke through blasted bunkers and scale the hills of Bloody Ridge or Heartbreak Ridge the way they look at Normandy or Argonne?

Will there be a monument here, where men have died like ants crawling up the sides of a muddy ditch?

Or will the seared and blighted hills of Eastern Korea remain desolate and lonely forever—with the unexploded shell, the carbine clip, the shattered helmet and the blackened tree the only memorial to men who died because there was nothing to do but attack and attack and attack.

Now, of course, the guns in the valleys roar and the roads are busy with traffic. On the mountains themselves, the foxholes and the bunkers are home for thousands of men with millions of dreams.

But someday the Korean farmer will plow again around the gutted tank and turn up ration cans and bullets in his field. Someday, the soldiers hope, they will go home and the crows will have the mountains to themselves. The big broad roads the engineers made will be silent and unused.

HERE, WHERE a boy from Ohio killed a man from Pyongyang with a knife, there will be only a piece of metal in the ground. And over there, where a wounded corporal who knew he was dying got to his feet and charged the enemy once more—for his buddies—there will be a tree stump and a rusted bit of tin.

But perhaps someday the mountain flowers will bloom brighter for the blood lost on the hillsides. And perhaps the trees will grow more thickly because a thousand dreams of romance and laughter perished here at gunpoint.

Lutheran Men To Stage Own 'Pumpkin Show'

Circleville's Pumpkin Show will come early this year—for members of the Trinity Lutheran Church Brotherhood.

A miniature "pumpkin show," complete with ribbons and prizes, is to be held Thursday night in Trinity Lutheran church parish house by the men's group.

And expected to be present for the festivities to give it official approval will be Bob Colville, Circleville's "Mr. Pumpkin Show."

The miniature "pumpkin show" program will feature farm produce exhibited by members of the Brotherhood in a team contest.

All members of the men's group whose last names begin with the letters A through L are to be members of the "Punksters," commanded by H. A. Bumgardner, John Eitel, Harry Kern and William Koch.

THE REMAINING members, those whose last names begin with M through Z will be on the "Vegetarians" team, headed by Elmer Strous, Chet Wolf, Don Trump and Chet McCloud.

Both teams are to display produce during the program, vying for points and ribbons. The ribbons are leftovers from the 1950 Pumpkin Show.

Winning team in the contest will be treated to lunch and entertainment by the losers during the Nov. 1 meeting.

Produce and pastries exhibited for judging during the miniature "pumpkin show" will be auctioned off to the members later in the evening, with the proceeds to go into the group's treasury.

Speech Teachers To Hold Parley

ATHENS, Oct. 3.—The fourth annual Ohio conference for speech education will be staged by Ohio university Saturday for Ohio college and high school teachers of speech.

The university's new $900,000 dramatic arts and speech building will be dedicated during the one-day conference. Election of officers of the Ohio Association of Secondary Teachers of Speech also will take place.

Cliftona Theatre Coming Soon

AFTER IT'S TOO LATE YOU'D GIVE ANYTHING TO KNOW—

Why Men Leave Home

Katie Did It

When KATIE DID IT she scandalized SHOCKED a town!

Ann BLYTH Mark STEVENS

CARTOON AND SPORTS

ONE DAY ONLY

5—Winners Nightly—5

—ON SCREEN—

—HIT NO. 2—

Mainly About People

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

Civilization cannot thrive on casual unions. Self centered people cannot establish a stable homes. Art thou bound to a wife, seek not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife, seek not a wife.—I Cor. 7:27.

Mrs. Ross Hamilton of Spring-hollow Road entered Berger hospital Tuesday as a medical patient.

John Hill, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hill of Stoutsville, was admitted to Berger hospital Tuesday for surgery.

There will be a games party in the Muhlenberg school, Saturday evening, October 6 starting at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. George Hartsough of Circleville Route 3 was admitted to Berger hospital Tuesday for medical treatment.

New service address of Pfc. Roy (Mac) Wolfe is: Hq. and Hq. Det. 14th QM. Bn. APO 743, in care of Postmaster, New York, N. Y.

Fried fish, French fried potatoes, slaw, bread and butter, coffee will be served at St. Paul's AME church, Pickaway and Mill Sts., Friday evening, starting at 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Albert Given of Frankfort entered Berger hospital Tuesday as a surgical patient.

Mrs. E. T. Clevenger of Circleville Route 3 was admitted to Berger hospital Tuesday as a medical patient.

There will be a games party in the Muhlenberg school, Saturday evening, October 6 starting at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. John Fohl of 156 West Water street was admitted to Berger hospital Tuesday for surgery.

Miss Jean Eitel who underwent a tonsillectomy in Berger hospital Monday was removed to her home, Circleville Route 2 Wednesday.

A Games Party will be held in the Moose Hall Wednesday evening, starting at 8 o'clock to which the public is invited.—ad.

Joseph Pilliod, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gaile Pilliod of Circleville Route 3 was admitted to Berger hospital Tuesday evening where he was treated for first and second degree burns from the waist down, reportedly received when he was scalded by hot coffee. He was removed to children's hospital in Columbus Wednesday.

Condition of Curtiss Rount of Kingston who was injured recently in an auto accident is reported to be "slightly improved." He is a patient in Berger hospital.

Andrew Turner of Columbus was fined $10 and costs in the court of Mayor Thurman I. Miller Tuesday on an affidavit accusing him of speeding at 65 miles per hour. Turner was arrested on Route 23 by State Highway Patrolman R. E. Brandon.

Jacob Scharenberg of Wayne Township is in White Cross hospital, Columbus, following surgery. He is in Room 607.

A meeting of Kiwanis Club directors has been scheduled for 8 p. m. Thursday in the home of Frank Wantz of 121 Montclair avenue.

Clarence Helvering of 470 East Main street is attending the racing program in Lexington, Ky.

ENDS TONITE

DANA ANDREWS
RICHARD WIDMARK
—In—
U. S. Under Water Commandos
"THE FROGMEN"
A Picture Everyone Should See!

STARLIGHT

CRUISE
IN THEATRE
STOUTSVILLE, OH. OFF RT. 22 EAST
2 SHOWS NIGHTLY 8:00-10:00 P.M.

LAST TIMES TONIGHT

John WAYNE
OPERATION PACIFIC
Release N.Y. World 10/3/51

PLAY WAHOO THURS.
ONE DAY ONLY

5—Winners Nightly—5
—ON SCREEN—

When KATIE DID IT she scandalized SHOCKED a town!

Ann BLYTH Mark STEVENS

CARTO

In View Of The News

By J. C. Oestreicher
INS Foreign Director

A political truce that is possibly without an historical parallel has taken place today within the ranks of British Socialism. Both left and right wing groups have come together on the basis of a common platform.

It calls for defeat of the Conservative party headed by wartime Prime Minister Winston Churchill, a continuance of nationalization in all fields of industry and endeavor, plus the state control over every aspect of national life that any such program makes inevitable.

British socialism has closed its ranks in the hope and expectation of a victory over Churchill and the Tories when the ballot boxes are opened on Oct. 25. Aneurin Bevan, the Welsh-born former minister of health and labor who quit office last Spring in protest against a budget which lopped off government appropriations providing for medical services for which he had so long sought, said that he would "bury the hatchet" with Laborite Prime Minister Clement Richard Attlee.

HE TARTLY reminded the premier that he would remember where the hatchet was buried.

But the fact remained that he decided once again to put the Labor Party back into one piece, and there is hardly any question that the Conservatives, at this moment, are hard put for an election campaign platform that might assure victory.

The reunion between Bevan's left-wing group and the Attlee Government has strengthened the Labor Party.

As well, it has thrown into focus once again the Laborite charge that Churchill and his followers have failed to present a constructive program for the future—that they are bent only on tearing down the progress that the Laborites claim that Socialism has made for bomb-broken Britain since the end of the war.

In answer to the Socialist party's so-called "blueprint" for the future, which calls for the use of compulsion if necessary in setting up controls over public agencies, Churchill has set forth his position as follows:

1—Government nationalization of the steel industry must be repealed.

2—Additional nationalization of British life must be brought to an end.

3—The tax on excess profits must be put forward to successful conclusion while Great Britain is involved in a period of rearmament against the aggression which Soviet Russia has displayed in the Far East and Central Europe and now threatens elsewhere.

In this one field at least, Attlee and Churchill see completely eye to eye. Both are convinced that the tyranny of the Kremlin is a serious menace to all democracy.

THE NEW elections that Attlee decided to call for Oct. 25, a full four years in advance of the time required by law, will have many interesting and world-important ramifications.

There is the serious illness of King George VI. The appointment of a regency council clearly displays official concern over his condition following a lung operation.

And there is the grave situation in Iran, where the British apparently have decided to yield to pressure from the government of Premier Mohammed Mossadegh and are removing the more than 300 experts and technicians who had remained at the Abadan oil refinery after the crisis developed.

Against this dangerous background, Attlee decided to "go to the country"—which is the term for general elections in Great Britain.

With a majority of six votes in the House of Commons achieved in 1950—a vote once reduced to three by deaths and setbacks in local elections, Attlee nonetheless chose to take the greatest gamble of his political career.

He has been aided, without doubt, by the return to the Laborite fold of Bevan and his insurgent followers.

But the outcome has not been decided. And it will not be until the votes are cast toward the end of this momentous month.

Drugs Reduce Infant Deaths

NEW YORK, Oct. 3—Miracle drugs were credited today with reducing infant mortality by 50 percent in less than 20 years.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company said prior to the use of chemotherapy and antibiotics for the control of infections, the death rate among chil-

ITCH

Don't Suffer Another Minute
No matter how many remedies you have tried for itching of eczema, psoriasis, infections, athlete's foot or whatever your skin trouble may be—anything from head to foot—WONDER SALVE and WONDER Medicated SOAP can help you.

Developed for the boys in the Army—now for you folks at home WONDER SALVE is white, greaseless, antiseptic. No ugly appearance. Safe for children. Get WONDER SALVE—results or money refunded. A truly wonderful preparation. Try it—today. For rectal troubles, get PYLOX, white, greaseless. No stain. Pain relieving. Large tube with applicator and key.

Sold in Circleville by Gallaher, Circleville (Rexall) Drug Stores; or your hometown druggist.

dren under one year averaged 59 per 1,000 births.

Today, company statisticians said, the rate is under 30 per 1,000 births

Bank Robberies, Embezzlements Show Increase

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover today reported that bank robberies, burglaries and larcenies during the first eight months of 1951 are 14.5 per cent above the same period last year.

Hoover also noted an "alarming" number of bank embezzlements during the eight-month period. There were 533 such cases this year compared to 491 in the first two-thirds of 1950.

The FBI head said the chief cause of the increase in bank frauds is "a lack of moral responsibility which has manifested itself in many walks of life today."

He cited gambling, excessive drinking, living above means and inadequate income as other and more direct causes of the crime increase.

In the robbery-burglary-larceny category, burglaries were the only crimes which increased—from 68 in the first eight months of 1950 to 91 in the same period of 1951. Robberies stayed level and the larcenies increased by only one during the period.

Use Of City Cottage For Utilities Nearing Approval In City Council

Circleville city council Tuesday heard second reading of a bill giving the board of public utilities the right to use city cottage, 114 West Franklin street, for office purposes for the department of water and sewage.

The bill would also give the board the right to alter, change or replace the building in any way necessary.

Ervin Leist, water and sewage department manager, explained that after investigation the board has decided replacement of the cottage would be the best move.

He presented plans to the legislators, showing what the board proposes to erect in place of the existing building.

The replacement, according to the plans, would be a one-story building with provisions for extending it whenever necessary.

THE BUILDING would include a basement, would be constructed of cement blocks.

Leist pointed out that erection of the new building and subsequent use of it for offices by the water and sewage department would release two rooms in City

GLASS
ALL POPULAR SIZES
AND CUT TO ORDER
ANKROM LUMBER and SUPPLY
W. Main St. Phone 237

ITCH
(Scabies) is highly contagious and will continue for life if not stopped. Its sole cause is the Itch-mite which is immune to ordinary treatment. EXSORA kills the Itch-mite almost instantly. Only three days EXSORA treatment is required.
Gallaher's Drug Store

Russell, who portrayed the famed nurse in a biographical film.

They parted in Pasadena where Miss Russell boarded a train for New York Monday. Sister Kenny will return soon to her native Australia.

When she arrived in the U. S. recently, the nurse who developed a revolutionary new polio treatment said physicians had given her only two more years to live.

Doctor Refuses OK Death Writ As Girl, 8, Dies

CLEVELAND, Oct. 3—Cuyahoga County Coroner Dr. Samuel R. Gerber will perform an autopsy today on the body of an eight-year-old girl after a physician refused to sign a death certificate for the youngster.

Suburban Cleveland Heights police said the child's mother, Mrs. Walter Smoyer, reported that she had taken Janet to see a physician last July. The mala-

Slaughter Figures Rise

COLUMBUS, Oct. 3 — Cattle and hog slaughter figures for Ohio were up sharply in August, compared to the preceding month.

The federal-state crop reporting service said cattle slaughter totaled 88,000 head for the month as against 71,000 in July and 82,000 in August last year.

Hog slaughter stepped up from 242,000 head in July to 329,000 in August for a gain of 36 percent.

dy was diagnosed as St. Vitus' dance, police were told.

Janet was then taken for treatment to a Christian Science practitioner in Cleveland Heights. Last night Janet had a high fever and the physician was recalled, but the girl died a few minutes before his arrival, police said.

The physician, refusing to sign the death certificate, called the police and the body was taken to the morgue.

The total for August, 1950, was 276,000.

Calf slaughter was 22,000 in August, a thousand over July figures but 8,000 under the total of August last year. Sheep slaughter was 18,000 head, a drop from last year but 3,000 over July.

Oregon has 13 national forests.

IS YOUR FIRE INSURANCE OLD-FASHIONED?

Have you checked your fire insurance lately for adequate coverage. Building costs have risen immensely the past few years and your insurance coverage may not now be adequate to replace the property.

REID'S INSURANCE AGENCY

137 E. Main St. Phone 69

It takes power like this

to match beauty like this!

When so good-looking a car is also endowed with such a sparkling personality... that's news!

Car personality, of course, begins with power plant—and that's where Packard chalks up another major "exclusive" with its new Packard Thunderbolt Engines. They bring you:

1 Peak efficiency—because they're America's highest-compression eight. Incredibly smooth... brilliantly responsive... lastingly thrifty.

2 Service-free simplicity—because they bring you a streamlined new Packard design with up to 25% fewer working parts than in engines of comparable power.

3 Unmatched durability—because they're precision-built by the Company with the broadest range of "high-performance" power-building experience of any single automobile manufacturer. Countless Packard engines have rolled up individual records of over half a million miles.

Teamed with Packard's exclusive Ultramatic Drive, these great Packard Thunderbolt Engines give you the world's most advanced concept of traffic and highway performance.

Come in—sample it soon! Once you do, you'll be convinced that anything short of a Packard is a "second-best" car!

It's more than a car—it's a

PACKARD

Ask the man who owns one

G. L. SCHIEAR

115 Watt St., Circleville

New waistline comfort for you.

FAULTLESS CUTAWAYS

Wilson Wear

IF IT'S WILSON WEAR IT'S FAULTLESS

New you can get the world's most comfortable waistband with Faultless Cutaways—the same wonderful waistband found in Faultless Pajamas and Shorts! It's a ribbon of live rubber—gentle, resilient, non-binding. It always fits! Faultless rubber in leg hem, too. Cutaway Undershirts of fine Swiss rib cotton have specially designed, rounded bottom edge.

85c

79c

KINSEY'S MEN'S SHOP

In View Of The News

By J. C. Oestreicher
INS Foreign Director

A political truce that is possibly without an historical parallel has taken place today within the ranks of British Socialism. Both left and right wing groups have come together on the basis of a common platform.

It calls for defeat of the Conservative party headed by wartime Prime Minister Winston Churchill, a continuance of nationalization in all fields of industry and endeavor, plus the state control over every aspect of national life that any such program makes inevitable.

British socialism has closed its ranks in the hope and expectation of a victory over Churchill and the Tories when the ballot boxes are opened on Oct. 25. Aneurin Bevan, the Welsh-born former minister of health and labor who quit office last Spring in protest against a budget which lopped off government appropriations providing for medical services for which he had so long sought, said that he would "bury the hatchet" with Laborite Prime Minister Clement Richard Attlee.

HE TARTLY reminded the premier that he would remember where the hatchet was buried.

But the fact remained that he decided once again to put the Labor Party back into one piece, and there is hardly any question that the Conservatives, at this moment, are hard put for an election campaign platform that might assure victory.

The reunion between Bevan's left-wing group and the Attlee Government has strengthened the Labor Party.

As well, it has thrown into focus once again the Laborite charge that Churchill and his followers have failed to present a constructive program for the future—that they are bent only on tearing down the progress that the Laborites claim that Socialism has made for bomb-broken Britain since the end of the war.

In answer to the Socialist party's so-called "blueprint" for the future, which calls for the use of compulsion if necessary in setting up controls over public agencies, Churchill has set forth his position as follows:

1—Government nationalization of the steel industry must be repealed.

2—Additional nationalization of British life must be brought to an end.

3—The tax on excess profits must be put forward to successful conclusion while Great Britain is involved in a period of rearmament against the aggression which Soviet Russia has displayed in the Far East and Central Europe and now threatens elsewhere.

In this one field at least, Attlee and Churchill see completely eye to eye. Both are convinced that the tyranny of the Kremlin is a serious menace to all democracy.

THE NEW elections that Attlee decided to call for Oct. 25, a full four years in advance of the time required by law, will have many interesting and world-important ramifications.

There is the serious illness of King George VI. The appointment of a regency council clearly displays official concern over his condition following a lung operation.

And there is the grave situation in Iran, where the British apparently have decided to yield to pressure from the government of Premier Mohammed Mossadegh and are removing the more than 300 experts and technicians who had remained at the Abadan oil refinery after the crisis developed.

Against this dangerous background, Attlee decided to "go to the country"—which is the term for general elections in Great Britain.

With a majority of six votes in the House of Commons achieved in 1950—a vote once reduced to three by deaths and setbacks in local elections, Attlee nonetheless chose to take the greatest gamble of his political career.

He has been aided, without doubt, by the return to the Laborite fold of Bevan and his insurgent followers.

But the outcome has not been decided. And it will not be until the votes are cast toward the end of this momentous month.

Drugs Reduce Infant Deaths

NEW YORK, Oct. 3—Miracle drugs were credited today with reducing infant mortality by 50 percent in less than 20 years.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company said prior to the use of chemotherapy and antibiotics for the control of infections, the death rate among chil-

ITCH

Don't Suffer Another Minute No matter how many remedies you have tried for itching of eczema, psoriasis, infections, athlete's foot or whatever your skin trouble may be—anything from head to foot—WONDER SALVE and WONDER Medicated SOAP can help you.

Developed for the boys in the Army—now for you folks at home WONDER SALVE is white, greaseless, antiseptic. No ugly appearance. Safe for children. Get WONDER SALVE—results or money refunded. A truly wonderful preparation. Try it today. For social troubles, get PYLOX, white, greaseless. No stain. Pain relieving. Large tube with applicator and key.

Sold in Circleville by Gallaher, Circleville (Rexall) Drug Stores; or your hometown druggist.

dren under one year averaged 59 per 1,000 births.

Today, company statisticians said, the rate is under 30 per 1,000 births.

Bank Robberies, Embezzlements Show Increase

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover today reported that bank robberies, burglaries and larcenies during the first eight months of 1951 are 14.5 per cent above the same period last year.

Hoover also noted an "alarming" number of bank embezzlements during the eight-month period. There were 533 such cases this year compared to 491 in the first two-thirds of 1950.

The FBI head said the chief cause of the increase in bank frauds is "a lack of moral responsibility which has manifested itself in many walks of life today."

He cited gambling, excessive drinking, living above means and inadequate income as other and more direct causes of the crime increase.

In the robbery-burglary-larceny category, burglaries were the only crimes which increased—from 68 in the first eight months of 1950 to 91 in the same period of 1951. Robberies stayed level and the larcenies increased by only one during the period.

Use Of City Cottage For Utilities Nearing Approval In City Council

Circleville city council Tuesday heard second reading of a bill giving the board of public utilities the right to use city cottage, 114 West Franklin street, for office purposes for the department of water and sewage.

The bill would also give the board the right to alter, change or replace the building in any way necessary.

Ervin Leist, water and sewage department manager, explained that after investigation the board has decided replacement of the cottage would be the best move.

He presented plans to the legislators, showing what the board proposes to erect in place of the existing building.

The replacement, according to the plans, would be a one-story building with provisions for extending it whenever necessary.

THE BUILDING would include a basement, would be constructed of cement blocks.

Leist pointed out that erection of the new building and subsequent use of it for offices by the water and sewage department would release two rooms in City

ITCH (Scabies) is highly contagious and will continue for life if not stopped. Its sole cause is the Itch-mite which is immune to ordinary treatment. EXSORA kills the Itch-mite almost instantly. Only three days EXSORA treatment is required.

Gallaher's Drug Store

Hall for use by other city departments.

City cottage at present is used by the city health department and Circleville Benevolent Society.

Councilman George Crites said he had been informed that health department personnel would prefer to have office space in City Hall.

Leist said the cost of erecting the new building would be about $13,000, all of it coming from waterworks funds. He added that he had checked with a state examiner on the matter, and had been told that waterworks funds could be spent for the project.

Sister Kenny Says Goodbye

PASADENA, Cal., Oct. 3—Sister Elizabeth Kenny—suffering incurable Parkinson's disease—has said what may be her last goodbye to Actress Rosalind

GLASS

ALL POPULAR SIZES AND CUT TO ORDER

ANKROM LUMBER and SUPPLY

W. Main St. Phone 237

Russell, who portrayed the famed nurse in a biographical film.

They parted in Pasadena where Miss Russell boarded a train for New York Monday. Sister Kenny will return soon to her native Australia.

When she arrived in the U. S. recently, the nurse who developed a revolutionary new polio treatment said physicians had given her only two more years to live.

Doctor Refuses OK Death Writ As Girl, 8, Dies

CLEVELAND, Oct. 3—Cuyahoga County Coroner Dr. Samuel R. Gerber will perform an autopsy today on the body of an eight-year-old girl after a physician refused to sign a death certificate for the youngster.

Suburban Cleveland Heights police said the child's mother, Mrs. Walter Smoyer, reported that she had taken Janet to see a physician last July. The mal-

Slaughter Figures Rise

COLUMBUS, Oct. 3 — Cattle and hog slaughter figures for Ohio were up sharply in August, compared to the preceding month.

The federal-state crop reporting service said cattle slaughter totaled 88,000 head for the month as against 71,000 in July and 82,000 in August last year.

Hog slaughter stepped up from 242,000 head in July to 329,000 in August for a gain of 36 percent.

dy was diagnosed as St. Vitus' dance, police were told.

Janet was then taken for treatment to a Christian Science practitioner in Cleveland Heights. Last night Janet had a high fever and the physician was recalled, but the girl died a few minutes before his arrival, police said.

The physician, refusing to sign the death certificate, called the police and the body was taken to the morgue.

The total for August, 1950, was 276,000.

Calf slaughter was 22,000 in August, a thousand over July figures but 8,000 under the total of August last year. Sheep slaughter was 18,000 head, a drop from last year but 3,000 over July.

Oregon has 13 national forests.

IS YOUR FIRE INSURANCE OLD-FASHIONED?

Have you checked your fire insurance lately for adequate coverage. Building costs have risen immensely the past few years and your insurance coverage may not now be adequate to replace the property.

REID'S INSURANCE AGENCY

137 E. Main St. Phone 69

It takes power like this

to match beauty like this!

When so good-looking a car is also endowed with such a sparkling personality... that's news!

Car personality, of course, begins with power plant—and that's where Packard chalks up another major "exclusive" with its new Packard Thunderbolt Engines. They bring you:

- 1 Peak efficiency—because they're America's highest-compression eights. Incredibly smooth... brilliantly responsive... lastingly thrifty.
- 2 Service-free simplicity—because they bring you a streamlined new Packard design with up to 25% fewer working parts than in engines of comparable power.

3 Unmatched durability—because they're precision-built by the Company with the broadest range of "high-performance" power-building experience of any single automobile manufacturer. Countless Packard engines have rolled up individual records of over half a million miles.

Teamed with Packard's exclusive Ultramatic Drive, these great Packard Thunderbolt Engines give you the world's most advanced concept of traffic and highway performance.

Come in—sample it soon! Once you do, you'll be convinced that anything short of a Packard is a "second-best" car!

It's more than a car—it's a

PACKARD

Ask the man who owns one

G. L. SCHIEAR
115 Watt St., Circleville

New waistline comfort for you.

FAULTLESS CUTAWAYS

Wilson Wear
IF IT'S WILSON WEAR IT'S FAULTLESS

Now you can get the world's most comfortable waistband with Faultless Cutaways—the same wonderful waistband found in Faultless Pajamas and Shorts! It's a ribbon of live rubber—gentle, resilient, non-binding. It always fits! Faultless rubber in leg hem, too. Cutaway Undershirts of fine Swiss rib cotton have specially designed, rounded bottom edge.

85c 79c

KINSEY'S MEN'S SHOP

The Circleville Herald

Consolidation of The Circleville Herald, Established 1883 and The Daily Union Herald, Established 1894.

Published Evenings Except Sunday By THE CIRCLEVILLE PUBLISHING COMPANY 210 N. Court Street, Circleville

T. E. WILSON PUBLISHER

Member Ohio Newspaper Association International News Service, Central Press Association and the Ohio Select List.

NATIONAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVES, JOHN W. CULLEN COMPANY 230 N. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, 630 Fifth Avenue, New York, 3044 N. Grand Blvd., Detroit

SUBSCRIPTION
Pickaway County and Circleville trading territory By Carrier in Circleville, 30c per week. By mail per year, $6 in advance. Zones one and two, $7 per year in advance, beyond first and second postal zones, per year $8 in advance.

Entered at Postoffice at Circleville, Ohio, as Second Class Matter.

IN BEHALF OF YOUTH

THERE are two great organizations which are doing much to promote and stabilize the American way of life far outside their particular realms of activity.

The 4-H movement and the Future Farmers of America are foundation stones in the country's agricultural industry, and are equally important in youth training and character building at a time when there is concern over charges of delinquency among the young.

Both organizations are much in the limelight these days of state and county fairs and fat stock shows, where they are exhibiting their prize animals.

Being both educational and creative, these organizations have an appeal to youth that is universal. They provide for boys and girls on the farm activities for which they are ideally fitted by environment and birth. Competition is always fair and friendly. The American way of life is at its best as presented by these future citizens.

The American boy should always be a busy boy. Give him a task to do in which he is interested, with a spirit of competition to add zest, and he'll seldom get into trouble.

It is in appreciation of the work 4-H clubs and Future Farmer organizations are doing in behalf of youth that they are given widespread support.

DEEP FREEZE DAYS

AN AMERICAN farm home will be a poor place to be this Winter for a person on a diet. Electricity has made possible all the various devices which add to the joy of living. And in that list none is more valuable than a deep freeze, in which may be stored the food which otherwise would be less plentiful on Winter days.

Recently the Mankato, Kans., Recorder interviewed Mrs. O. H. Wilson, who resides on a farm near that town, on the deep-freeze situation in her home. Mrs. Wilson admitted it was not quite up to normal, but reported some progress.

"I put 25 pies in the freezer and began on cookies," she said. "I made a full batch of sugar cookies and a half batch of peanut, so only have 85 dozen, or about half the amount I used to make twice a year. So with peas and carrots and ham and fryers and applesauce and frozen apricots and jelly, we will make out some way."

Later there will undoubtedly be a quarter of beef, half a hog processed into spare ribs, sausage, chops and otherwise ready for cooking. It's enough to make the poor city dweller give up and move to the country. The average farmer works hard and may never get rich, but he will never put his feet under an empty table.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

The more international conferences are held, the more clearly an economic pattern presents itself which seems and I use this verb advisedly to tend toward a merging of the Western world into an economic union in which the United States will act as the supplier to those nations which are or seem to be in need.

It is an arrangement for the distribution of wealth on an international level. The obvious manifestation of this plan appeared in lend-lease the Marshall Plan (ERP, ECA) and Point Four. In a manner, the World Bank, the International Monetary Fund, the Export-Import Bank and the RFC have played a part in the development, but even more so, the depression of the American dollar, making it constantly cheaper, is an instrument for levelling values.

The economic union has not in any way been so formalized that it would be necessary to present it to Congress or parliament for adoption. This would be unsound politically and could create such outraged antagonism as to defeat it altogether. Rather, step by step, acts have been implemented which achieve some movements in the direction desired by those who, in particular, see in the United States a basis for the restoration of British economy even under Socialism.

There can be no question but that Great Britain's position is perilous. During this century, Britain's economy has depended upon banking, shipping, insurance and re-exports. The United States, Canada, India, Malaya, Dutch East Indies and China played a great part in this business. Britain garnered liquid capital from many quarters in Europe and invested it in Asia, Africa, the U.S. and wherever in the world liquid capital was required. No other country had developed equal skill in banking, insurance or shipping, and the profits were good.

The essential cause for World War I was the German invasion of every field of British economic activity, including heavy machinery and textiles. After World War I, Japan entered these economic areas with startling success, particularly in shipping and textiles. The Japanese were astonishingly competent in China, Malaya, India and North Africa, with the result that a mounting antagonism developed between Britain and Japan. This was emphatically notable after the termination of the Anglo-Japanese alliance in 1922.

World War II left Britain prostrate and dependent upon the U.S. If any country can be said to have lost World War II, from the standpoint of costs, that country is Britain. The U.S. came to the rescue with lend-lease, with various devices worked out at Bretton Woods (1944), with the British loan of $3.7 billion, with the Marshall Plan which became ECA, with Point Four that aids British-controlled or former British colonial areas, with European military aid which grew into the general term, NATO, with tariff controls favoring British exports to the U.S., and with many other economic devices which have assisted the British.

The fact does stand that with all the aid that the U.S. has given Britain, at unbelievably great direct and indirect costs to the American people, the Socialist government of Britain is again in trouble and the likelihood is that Britain will not be able to meet its obligations to us under the loan agreement. In fact, the situation is becoming (Continued on Page Nine)

LAFF-A-DAY

"I'd like to see something in mink—preferably myself."

DIET AND HEALTH

Dentists Say Thumb-Sucking Can Push Teeth Out of Line

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

NOBODY can blame the mother who is confused as to how to deal with the problem of thumb-sucking.

On the one hand, many psychiatrists warn that any attempt to break the child of this habit may result in psychological frustration. Meanwhile, dentists are often positive in their assertion of the risks involved in allowing the child to continue the practice too long.

And the perplexed mother is left to decide whether to chance a dental deformity or an emotional warping.

Abnormal Development

Disinterested examination of this controversy leaves little doubt that prolonged thumb-sucking can cause an abnormal development of either jaw or both. Teeth may be pushed out of alignment, and the palate also comes in for its share of misshapening. There is the added danger of promoting a habit of mouth-breathing or that some speech defect will appear, since this difficulty is found more often in thumb-suckers than in other children.

On the other hand, there is some evidence that over-strenuous efforts to break the habit do upset the child emotionally and are unsuccessful to boot.

In any case, if the baby is well fed and kept occupied, he will, sooner or later, give up the habit of thumb-sucking.

Engage His Fancy

The mother should try to keep the baby's hands busy. If the child gets tired of one toy he should be given something else to engage his fancy and occupy his hands. If the thumb-sucking can be stopped before the child reaches the age of four years, usually no deformity occurs.

A child should be made to feel that he is loved and secure. Other forms of treatment should be started only when a child appears to be psychologically well-adjusted and living in an environment which seems to be free from tension. In these cases, it would seem that thumb-sucking is merely a habit prolonged beyond the need which originated it.

Various methods of treating this condition have been used, but most are rarely successful. The method of taking the thumb out of the child's mouth repeatedly belongs in this category.

Older Child

Many parents attempt to force the child to suck his thumb until the child is eager to remove it from his mouth. This is best done in front of a mirror, and is only successful in the older child.

Ill-tasting medicine locally applied to the thumb may be effective in a few cases in younger children. Finger guards, braces, gloves, closed sleeves and similar methods to prevent the habit should be used only on very young children, if at all, and even then they are usually not effective.

In certain persistent cases, a device known as a non-removable hayrack may prove effective. It is made up of a series of thin wires, which act as a fence to prevent thumb-sucking. It must be put into the mouth by a dentist.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

M. M.: I have a feeling that I am drunk and have black spots in front of my eyes. What could be the cause?

Answer: It may be that you are suffering from some form of anemia, thyroid disturbance, or chronic infection.

It would be advisable for you to have a thorough physical examination so that the exact cause may be found and proper treatment instituted.

Looking Back In Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

Resignation of Councilman-at-Large T. W. White was submitted to city council Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Thomsen of Circleville Route 4 are the parents of a son born Tuesday in Berger hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. George Marion of South Court street will move to Celina on Wednesday.

TEN YEARS AGO

Mrs. Russell Pritt, the former Miss Frances Metzger, a Summer bride, was honored when teachers in Franklin street school entertained with a dinner party in Mrs. Marion's Party Home.

Mrs. Wallace Peters was hostess to a miscellaneous shower held in her home Thursday honoring Mrs. Harold Sharpe who was a bride of Sept. 28.

Mrs. Ray Cook entertained with a surprise party recently, honoring her daughter, Dorothy, on her seventh birthday.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

James A. Graham and his old friend, John Wagner of Minneapolis, Minn., son of a former townsman, D. B. Wagner, met each other by appointment in the court house rotunda and had their photos struck.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Trickle of Wilshire have taken positions in Clark's 5 and 10 store and have taken rooms in the home of Mrs. Mary Morris on Watt street.

City Auditor, Mrs. Ella Lindsey, Thursday received $1,625 from the state as its share of gasoline tax.

Kiernan's

ONE MAN'S OPINION

My barber has tickets for the World Series, but he doesn't think Britain can take Iran in four straight games even with Uncle Sam umpiring at the plate.

He admires Attlee's corkscrew delivery, but he figures Mossa-

We have given our hearts away

by: HELEN TOPPING MILLER

Copyright, 1950, by Helen Topping Miller. (Distributed by King Features Syndicate)

CHAPTER TWENTY

THEY DROVE the road to Columbia in the early falling October night. The moon was high and bright, with thin wreaths of cloud drifting about, and low on the horizon a few pale stars. They were silent for a long time and then Anne said quietly, "I wonder why Aunt Laura never went back? Twenty years is a long time not to see your own mother."

"Laura had a father too. He was a sorry sort of brute, from what John said, one of those characters who beat up their women. When Laura sent the money he probably took it and spent it on himself. Her mother seems to have learned to get along by herself. At least we can carry the word to Laura that her mother is doing all right."

"But how could Laura never want to go back? Her own mother?"

Harrison thought that he detected the thin edge of hostility in Anne's voice.

He said, "Could you leave your mother and not go back?"

She looked a trifle startled at this attack, frowned and did not answer at once. Then she said, "I see. I deserve that, I suppose. Mother does not like me, I admit. She ought to show some spirit and not hang back and drag her feet and make everybody feel guilty. It isn't as though you were asking her to live in poverty or do a lot of hard work like Mrs. Gallagher. But Mrs. Gallagher loves it. She was so proud of that cellar thing she'd made, and all that food—and she's old! She can't work always. What can she do then?"

"Laura won't let her mother suffer. And there are pensions for old people."

Anne looked disturbed and angry. "We're all helpless, after all, aren't we? There's always some grisly thing lurking, some destroying thing—like old age or disease or panic—or a war! Or maybe people getting tired of you, as Johnny got tired of Aunt Laura. No matter how brave you are or how much you try or how non-orally you do it, you're helpless! What is there that lasts? What is there that anybody like me can hold to?"

"Yourself, Anne. The uprightness in you, the faith in yourself that won't let go."

Laura Blayde leaned her elbow on the table and tilted an ear to the telephone receiver. "I'm glad you saw her, Harrie," she said. "It relieves my mind. You mean you actually ate supper there? This sounds awful I know, but all my memories of the place are definitely foul. Was it ghastly?"

Copyright, 1950, by Helen Topping Miller. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

The voice on the wire held laughter and the pleasure of giving surprise.

Laura nursed a desperate hope that neither Harrison nor Anne would discuss her mother with Ellen. Ellen could never see Mary Gallagher as the heroic figure Harrison considered her. Ellen would enlarge on the squalor, applaud Laura's own achievement hollowly, but all of it would be tinged with the malicious satisfaction and savagely delicate arrogance that set Ellen firmly in her own frame of respectable and substantial ancestry and left Laura pitifully framed in the deplorable. These protected women! They had no common ground with their struggling sisters.

Laura hung up, feeling somehow light and released from pressure. It was as though a secret thorn that had pricked and festered in her conscience all these years had suddenly been withdrawn. Now she felt free, that whatever she did from now on would be right and unclouded with the hidden ignoring, the constant evasion of a feeling of guilt. She said, "Thank you, Harrie," aloud again, and went about preparing her simple supper.

As she set out her dishes on the card table, she put a lighted candle in the middle between her silver sugar bowl and the compote that had been a wedding present. It held just enough jam for two people, but when she and Johnny had been the two people all the wedding presents had stayed buried in tissue and excelsior in storage, because Johnny thought housekeeping a nuisance and a useless expense.

Before she had finished her coffee and the evening paper her buzzer rang. She looked quickly to see how much jam remained, for this would be Deke, of course. But it was not Deke who stood outside the door. Laura gave her hair a frantic swipe and swished crumbs off her plastic apron at sight of her visitor.

"Why, Mac Fowler!" she exclaimed. "Come in—unless you've got a mandamus or something in your pocket!"

The judge said, "Hello, Laura. I was just walking by and I saw your light and it occurred to me that we hadn't seen anything of you in some time. Mind if I sit down a minute?"

"This chair, Mac. That one is for ladies soliciting for worthy causes or boys working their way through college and only needing five hundred more points to win the big bonus. I was just finishing my coffee. How about a cup? I can heat it in a minute—or would you rather have a drink?"

"Coffee would be fine, Laura. We have had dinner, but Hattie doesn't make coffee at night any more since Martha doesn't come down."

She said, "No better, I suppose? Martha, I mean."

Mac Fowler thrust his legs out comfortably and had a care for his neatly pressed trousers.

"No better, but not perceptibly worse. I doubt if we can hope for any more improvement. We've about reached the limit of what insulin will do."

"It's getting you down, isn't it?" asked Laura sympathetically. "It shows on you, Mac."

"It's more tragic for Martha of course."

"And for Ellen."

His brows drew in. "Oh, yes, for Ellen." But Ellen does have her life before her while Martha and I..."

"Stop it, Mac," Laura interposed. "Stop it before you begin meaning that you're an old man. All of which will be a cross bid for pity because you'll never believe you're really old—not even when you're ninety. Two lumps?"

Laura set the cup before him, straining her gamin grin.

"I feel very old sometimes," he let his eyes down, sighed heavily. "But you will never be old, Laura. If you should stick around here for a hundred years you'd still be the youngest thing alive. I wish—"

he made an obvious effort to steer the conversation into a less personal mood—"I wish Ellen had a little of your spirit. I don't want her to be crushed by all this, but I seem not to be clever enough to prevent it."

"You wouldn't want to send her away, of course," Laura said levelly. Poor old Mac, he was having a rotten life! It was breaking down something strong and fine within him.

He considered her remark, finishing half the cup before he put it down.

"The fact we face—" his judicial air returned again, almost as though he wrapped himself in it for protection—"is that Martha may live for years, and on the other hand she may not survive another month. The doctors can't suggest any additional treatment, and I doubt if Ellen would agree to go away now if I urged it. And in justice to her mother I would feel very hesitant to suggest it."

(To Be Continued)

Bennett Cerf's

Try, Stop Me

Many years ago, a Hollywood picture producer became so impressed with the directorial talents of a Swede named Mauritz Stiller that he offered him a five hundred percent raise to leave Stockholm and make movies in America. Stiller held out for one additional concession. He insisted that a young actress he was coaching be allowed to accompany him. His wish was gratified. Stiller got nowhere on these shores and soon was lost in the shuffle. His protegee, however, fared somewhat better. Her name was Greta Garbo.

When old Cap Sartorius retired from life on the bounding main, a Scarsdale socialite gurgled to him, "Oh Captain, don't tell me you were ever boarded by a pirate." "I certainly was," maintained the doughty captain. "It was at the Central House, in Cook's Harbor, and they charged me three dollars for a hall bedroom."

The oil in a can of sardines generally is more valuable than the fish itself.

The human body contains about 30,000 miles of blood vessels.

degh owns the park and knows his own fences.

He says the minute Attlee pulls the rule book on nationalization he's left on base as it was his team that wrote it.

He says who can blame Mossadegh for feeling that what is good in Britain for the British is peachy in Iran for the Iranians.

My barber says it also should be noted that Uncle Sam volunteered to umpire; he wasn't drafted.

Also that more than three quarters of a million young Americans have been drafted to support their impulsive old uncle as he continues to volunteer for trouble the world around.

A. Janes & Sons

Division of Inland Products, Inc.

Cash For Dead Stock

Horses $2.00 each

Cows $3.00 each

According to Size and Condition

Small Stock

Promptly Removed

Phone Collect

Circleville 104

Grab Bag

THE ANSWER, QUICK!

1. When were excavations of Pompeii first begun?
2. When were seals first used on documents?
3. What is an astrolabe?
4. How much does a cubic foot of gold weigh?
5. What causes oil to flow upward from oil wells?

IT HAPPENED TODAY

Feast of St. Therese of Lisieux — "Little Flower of Jesus" — children's saint. 1656 — Miles Standish, English colonist at Plymouth, died. 1859 — Eleanor Duse, noted Italian actress, born. 1941 — Adolf Hitler announced Russia defeated, "never to rise again."

WATCH YOUR LANGUAGE

CHOLERA — (KOL-er-a) — noun; any of a number of diseases, usually with a distinguishing word; as, hog cholera; without such a word, cholera morbus. Origin: Latin—a bilious disease.

YOUR FUTURE

Care, tact and vigilance in all things are likely to make your next year auspicious. Great energy and enthusiasm are likely to be noticeable traits in the child born on this date, but an inclination to over sensitiveness may also be noted.

IT'S BEEN SAID

Our business in the field of light is not to question, but to prove our might.—Homer.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Film actor Henry Hull and film director Leo McCarey are on the congratulation list today.

HOW'D YOU MAKE OUT?

1. In the middle of the 18th century.
2. In ancient times. Evidence of them have been found among antiquities of Assyria, Babylonia, Egypt.
3. An instrument for observing the stars.
4. 1,204 pounds.
5. Gas pressure from inside the well.

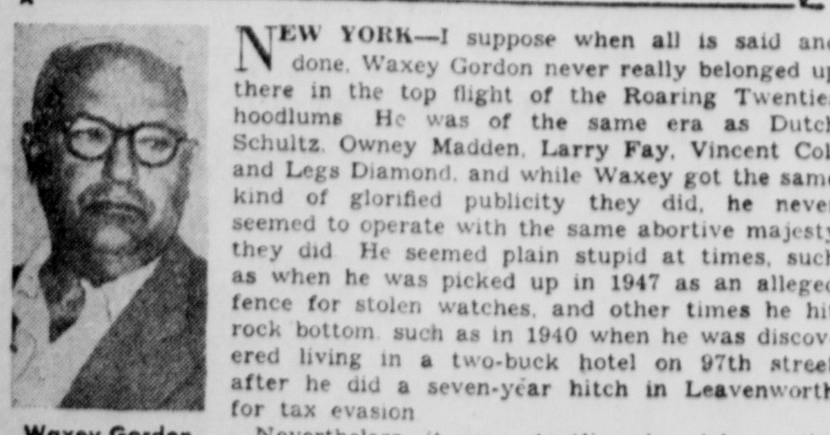

An Oriental turban may consist of up to 20 yards of material.

The Greenland icecap is 1,000 feet thick, on an average.

Record amount of cow's milk produced in the United States in one year was in 1945, when 121,000,000 pounds were produced.

Division of the Territory of Carolina into the colonies of North and South Carolina took place in 1729.

Work songs are an ancient institution, engaged in by the early Greeks and Egyptians.

NEW YORK—I suppose when all is said and done, Waxey Gordon never really belonged up there in the top flight of the Roaring Twenties hoodlums. He was of the same era as Dutch Schultz, Owney Madden, Larry Fay, Vincent Coll and Legs Diamond, and while Waxey got the same kind of glorified publicity they did, he never seemed to operate with the same abortive majesty they did. He seemed plain stupid at times, such as when he was picked up in 1947 as an alleged fence for stolen watches, and other times he hit rock bottom, such as in 1940 when he was discovered living in a two-buck hotel on 97th street after he did a seven-year hitch in Leavenworth for tax evasion.

Nevertheless, it was startling to pick up the paper the other day and learn that Waxey had been discovered by the Feds sitting in the back seat of an automobile in midtown Manhattan with a pound of heroin in his lap.

Waxey has been connected with the dope racket before, and for my money that alone makes him eligible for a few hours on the rack or, at the very least, hanging by the thumbs, but always they had talked of him as a "czar" in the racket. To be caught with a sack of dream dust in his hands put him right in the class with a street-corner pusher. The miserable specimen of humanity probably qualifies as the dumbest bigtime hood in history.

Gordon's reappearance in the headlines brings to mind another of his adventures, along somewhat more legitimate lines. This was back in the prohibition era, when, like a lot of other rich thugs, he got into business for the first time.

AN OLD FRIEND OF WAXEY'S was a musical producer named Lew Brown—they grew up together—and when Brown staged a show called Strike Me Pink, Waxey became an angel. He plunked a reported $300,000 into the revue, and by the time it finished its out-of-town tour and came into Broadway, it was still out $180,000 of the original cost, with slim prospects for clicking and making up the deficit. "Names," Brown muttered to Waxey one day, "—that's what we need."

"Names?" Gordon asked. "The telephone book's full of them." Patiently Brown explained he meant "big" names, and cited Jimmy Durante as an example. But Durante had movie commitments in Hollywood.

"Dough can buy actors or anybody," Waxey said with almost but not complete truth. He sent Lew to Hollywood—but movie producer Irving Thalberg said he couldn't spare Durante. Brown long-distanced Gordon, and broke the bad news. "Who's this Thalberg?" Waxey demanded over the phone from New York. Brown explained that he was the biggest man in Hollywood at the moment.

"Well," Waxey said, "if he's that big, what do we want with this Durante? Get this Thalberg!" Later, after being told Thalberg was not a performer but a manipulator of performers, Waxey suggested that he send some of his muscle men out to persuade Irving to listen to reason, but Brown talked him out of that.

Ultimately Brown corralled Durante, handsome Hope Williams and ill-fated Lupe Velez for his show. When they began rehearsals for the New York opening, Waxey was at the theater every night with his bodyguard of hoods. Beer-running and gambling wars, involving Waxey and Dutch Schultz, were depleting his forces—but nightly Waxey turned up to watch the rehearsals.

THE WORD WAS THAT WAXEY AND HIS BOYS each had a sweetheart in the chorus, but this was no great drawback to its success, since hoods inevitably seem to take up with big flashy blondes, the exact kind of girl to make the chorus line a hit.

As for the other girls in the show, the poor souls with no gunman to care for them—they reported that Gordon and his buddies were perfect gentlemen and never annoyed them. When one of them was auditioning for a job one night, one of Waxey's boys eyed her speculatively and said "Hey—whose gal is that?"

"She ain't nobody's gal," Waxey replied. The other guy scratched his head. "What the Sam Hill is she doing in the show, then?" he asked, perplexed.

Strike Me Pink opened finally to glowing critical notices and was a smash hit until ultimately Durante had to return to movieland. Then it folded. Now, it seems, Waxey, the angel, has finally folded, too.

"Wanna Rope A Bargain?"

The Circleville Herald

Consolidation of The Circleville Herald, Established 1883 and The Daily Union Herald, Established 1894.

Published Evenings Except Sunday By
THE CIRCLEVILLE PUBLISHING COMPANY
210 N. Court Street, Circleville

T. E. WILSON PUBLISHER

Member Ohio Newspaper Association, International News Service, Central Press Association and the Ohio Select List.

NATIONAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVES, JOHN W. CULLEN COMPANY
230 N. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, 630 Fifth Avenue, New York, 3044 N. Grand Blvd., Detroit

SUBSCRIPTION
Pickaway County and Circleville trading territory By Carrier in Circleville, 30c per week. By mail per year: $6 in advance. Zones one and two, $7 per year in advance, beyond first and second postal zones, per year $8 in advance.

Entered at Postoffice at Circleville, Ohio, as Second Class Matter.

IN BEHALF OF YOUTH

THERE are two great organizations which are doing much to promote and stabilize the American way of life far outside their particular realms of activity.

The 4-H movement and the Future Farmers of America are foundation stones in the country's agricultural industry, and are equally important in youth training and character building at a time when there is concern over charges of delinquency among the young.

Both organizations are much in the limelight these days of state and county fairs and fat stock shows, where they are exhibiting their prize animals.

Being both educational and creative, these organizations have an appeal to youth that is universal. They provide for boys and girls on the farm activities for which they are ideally fitted by environment and birth. Competition is always fair and friendly. The American way of life is at its best as presented by these future citizens.

The American boy should always be a busy boy. Give him a task to do in which he is interested, with a spirit of competition to add zest, and he'll seldom get into trouble.

It is in appreciation of the work 4-H clubs and Future Farmer organizations are doing in behalf of youth that they are given widespread support.

DEEP FREEZE DAYS

AN AMERICAN farm home will be a poor place to be this winter for a person on a diet. Electricity has made possible all the various devices which add to the joy of living. And in that list none is more valuable than a deep freeze, in which may be stored the food which otherwise would be less plentiful on winter days.

Recently the Mankato, Kans., Recorder interviewed Mrs. O. H. Wilson, who resides on a farm near that town, on the deep-freeze situation in her home. Mrs. Wilson admitted it was not quite up to normal, but reported some progress.

"I put 25 pies in the freezer and began on cookies," she said. "I made a full batch of sugar cookies and a half batch of peanut, so only have 35 dozen, or about half the amount I used to make twice a year. So with peas and carrots and ham and fryers and applesauce and frozen apricots and jelly, we will make out some way."

Later there will undoubtedly be a quarter of beef, half a hog processed into spare ribs, sausage, chops and otherwise ready for cooking. It's enough to make the poor city dweller give up and move to the country. The average farmer works hard and may never get rich, but he will never put his feet under an empty table.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

The more international conferences are held, the more clearly an economic pattern presents itself which seems and I use this verb advisedly to tend toward a merging of the Western world into an economic union in which the United States will act as the supplier to those nations which are or seem to be in need.

It is an arrangement for the distribution of wealth on an international level. The obvious manifestation of this plan appeared in lend-lease the Marshall Plan (ERP, ECA) and Point Four. In a manner, the World Bank, the International Monetary Fund, the Export-Import Bank and the RFC have played a part in the development, but even more so, the depression of the American dollar, making it constantly cheaper, is an instrument for leveling values.

The economic union has not in any way been so formalized that it would be necessary to present it to Congress or parliament for adoption. This would be unsound politically and could create such outraged antagonism as to defeat it altogether. Rather, step by step, acts have been implemented which achieve some movements in the direction desired by those who, in particular, see in the United States a basis for the restoration of British economy even under Socialism.

There can be no question but that Great Britain's position is perilous. During this century, Britain's economy has depended upon banking, shipping, insurance and re-exports. The United States, Canada, India, Malaya, Dutch East Indies and China played a great part in this business. Britain garnered liquid capital from many quarters in Europe and invested it in Asia, Africa, the U.S. and wherever in the world liquid capital was required. No other country had developed equal skill in banking, insurance or shipping, and the profits were good.

The essential cause for World War I was the German invasion of every field of British economic activity, including heavy machinery and textiles. After World War I, Japan entered these economic areas with startling success, particularly in shipping and textiles. The Japanese were astonishingly competent in China, Malaya, India and North Africa, with the result that a mounting antagonism developed between Britain and Japan. This was emphatically notable after the termination of the Anglo-Japanese alliance in 1922.

World War II left Britain prostrate and dependent upon the U.S. If any country can be said to have lost World War II, from the standpoint of costs, that country is Britain. The U.S. came to the rescue with lend-lease, with various devices worked out at Bretton Woods (1944), with the British loan of $3.7 billion, with the Marshall Plan which became ECA, with Point Four that aids British-controlled or former British colonial areas, with European military aid which grew into the general term, NATO, with tariff controls favoring British exports to the U.S., and with many other economic devices which have assisted the British.

The fact does stand that with all the aid that the U.S. has given Britain, at unbelievably great direct and indirect costs to the American people, the Socialist government of Britain is again in trouble and the likelihood is that Britain will not be able to meet its obligations to us under the loan agreement. In fact, the situation is becoming (Continued on Page Nine)

LAFF-A-DAY

FURS

"I'd like to see something in mink—preferably myself."

DIET AND HEALTH

Dentists Say Thumb-Sucking Can Push Teeth Out of Line

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

NOBODY can blame the mother who is confused as to how to deal with the problem of thumb-sucking.

On the one hand, many psychiatrists warn that any attempt to break the child of this habit may result in psychological frustration. Meanwhile, dentists are often positive in their assertion of the risks involved in allowing the child to continue the practice too long.

And the perplexed mother is left to decide whether to chance a dental deformity or an emotional warping.

Abnormal Development

Disinterested examination of this controversy leaves little doubt that prolonged thumb-sucking can cause an abnormal development of either jaw or both. Teeth may be pushed out of alignment, and the palate also comes in for its share of misshapening. There is the added danger of promoting a habit of mouth-breathing or that some speech defect will appear, since this difficulty is found more often in thumb-suckers than in other children.

On the other hand, there is some evidence that over-strenuous efforts to break the habit do upset the child emotionally and are unsuccessful to boot.

In any case, if the baby is well fed and kept occupied, he will, sooner or later, give up the habit of thumb-sucking.

Engage His Fancy

The mother should try to keep the baby's hands busy. If the child gets tired of one toy he should be given something else to engage his fancy and occupy his hands. If the thumb-sucking can be stopped before the child reaches the age of four years, usually no deformity occurs.

A child should be made to feel that he is loved and secure. Other forms of treatment should be started only when a child appears to be psychologically well-adjusted and living in an environment in which he seems to be free from tension. In these cases, it would seem that thumb-sucking is merely a habit prolonged beyond the need which originated it.

Various methods of treating this condition have been used, but most are rarely successful. The method of taking the thumb out of the child's mouth repeatedly belongs in this category.

Older Child

Many parents attempt to force the child to suck his thumb until the child is eager to remove it from his mouth. This is best done in front of a mirror, and is only successful in the older child.

Ill-tasting medicine locally applied to the thumb may be effective in a few cases in younger children. Finger guards, braces, gloves, closed sleeves and similar methods to prevent the habit should be used only on very young children, if at all, and even then they are usually not effective.

In certain persistent cases, a device known as a non-removable haystack may prove effective. It is made up of a series of thin wires, which act as a fence to prevent thumb-sucking. It must be put into the mouth by a dentist.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
M. M.: I have a feeling that I am drunk and have black spots in front of my eyes. What could be the cause?

Answer: It may be that you are suffering from some form of anemia, thyroid disturbance, or chronic infection. It would be advisable for you to have a thorough physical examination so that the exact cause may be found and proper treatment instituted.

Looking Back In Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

Resignation of Councilman-at-Large T. W. White was submitted to city council Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Thompson of Circleville Route 4 are the parents of a son born Tuesday in Berger hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. George Marion of South Court street will move to Celina on Wednesday.

TEN YEARS AGO

Mrs. Russell Pritt, the former Miss Frances Metzger, a Summer bride, was honored when teachers in Franklin street school entertained with a dinner party in Mrs. Marion's Party Home.

Mrs. Wallace Peters was hostess to a miscellaneous shower held in her home Thursday honoring Mrs. Harold Sharpe who was a bride of Sept. 28.

Mrs. Ray Cook entertained with a surprise party recently, honoring her daughter, Dorothy, on her seventh birthday.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
James A. Graham and his old friend, John Wagner of Minneapolis, Minn., son of a former townsman, D. B. Wagner, met each other by appointment in the court house rotunda and had their photos struck.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Trickle of Wilshire have taken positions in Clark's 5 and 10 store and have taken rooms in the home of Mrs. Mary Morris on Watt street.

City Auditor, Mrs. Ella Lindsey, Thursday received $1,625 from the state as its share of gasoline tax.

Kiernan's ONE MAN'S OPINION

My barber has tickets for the World Series, but he doesn't think Britain can take Iran in four straight games even with Uncle Sam umpiring at the plate.

He admires Attlee's corkscrew delivery, but he figures Mossa-

We have given our hearts away

by HELEN TOPPING MILLER

Copyright, 1950, by Helen Topping Miller. (Distributed by King Features Syndicate)

CHAPTER TWENTY

THEY DROVE the road to Columbia in the early falling October night. The moon was high and bright, with thin wreaths of cloud drifting about, and low on the horizon a few pale stars. They were silent for a long time and then Anne said quietly, "I wonder why Aunt Laura never went back? Twenty years is a long time not to see your own mother."

"Laura had a father too. He was a sorry sort of brute, from what John said, one of those characters who beat up their women. When Laura sent the money he probably took it and spent it on himself. Her mother seems to have learned to get along by herself. At least we can carry the word to Laura that her mother is doing all right."

"But how could Laura never want to go back? Her own mother?"

Harrison thought that he detected the thin edge of hostility in Anne's voice.

He said, "Could you leave your mother and not go back?"

She looked a trifle startled at this attack, frowned and did not answer at once. Then she said, "I see, I deserve that, I suppose. Mother does irritate me, I admit. She ought to show some spirit and not hang back and drag her feet and make everybody feel guilty. It isn't as though you were asking her to live in poverty or do a lot of hard work like Mrs. Gallagher. But Mrs. Gallagher loves it. She was so proud of that cellar thing she'd made, and all that food—and she's old! She can't work any more. What can she do then?"

"Laura won't let her mother suffer. And there are pensions for old people." Anne looked disturbed and angry. "We're all helpless, after all, aren't we? There's always some grisly thing lurking, some destroying thing—like old age or disease or panic—or a war! Or maybe people getting tired of you, as Johnny got tired of Aunt Laura. No matter how brave you are or how much you try or how honorably you do it, you're helpless! What is there that lasts? What is there that anybody like me can hold to?"

"Yourself, Anne. The uprightness in you, the faith in yourself that won't let go." Laura Blayde leaned her elbow on the table and tilted an ear to the telephone receiver. "I'm glad you saw her, Harrie," she said. "It relieves my mind. You mean you actually ate supper there? This sounds awful I know, but all my memories of the place are definitely foul. Was it ghastly?"

Copyright, 1950, by Helen Topping Miller. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

The voice on the wire held laughter and the pleasure of giving surprise.

Laura nursed a desperate hope that neither Harrison nor Anne would discuss her mother with Eden. Eden could never see Mary Gallagher as the heroic figure Harrison considered her. Eden would enlarge on the squalor, applaud Laura's own achievement hollowly, but all of it would be tinged with the malicious satisfaction and savorily delicate arrogance that set Eden firmly in her own frame of respectable and substantial ancestry and left Laura pitifully framed in the deplorable. These protected women! They had no common ground with their struggling sisters.

Laura hung up, feeling somehow light and released from pressure. It was as though a secret thorn that had pricked and festered in her conscience all these years had suddenly been withdrawn. Now she felt free, that whatever she did from now on would be right and unclouded with the hidden ignoring, the constant evasion of a feeling of guilt. She said, "Thank you, Harrie," aloud again, and went about preparing her simple supper.

As she set out her dishes on the card table, she put a lighted candle in the middle between her silver sugar bowl and the compute that had been a wedding present. It held just enough jam for two people, but when she and Johnny had been the two people all the wedding presents had stayed buried in tissue and excelsior in storage, because Johnny thought housekeeping a nuisance and a useless expense.

Before she had finished her coffee and the evening paper her buzzer rang. She looked quickly to see how much jam remained, for this would be Deke, of course. But it was not Deke who stood outside the door. Laura gave her hair a frantic swipe and swished crumbs off her plastic apron at sight of her visitor.

"Why, Mac Fowler!" she exclaimed. "Come in—unless you've got a mandamus or something in your pocket!"

The judge said, "Hello, Laura. I was just walking by and I saw your light and it occurred to me that you hadn't seen anything of you in some time. Mind if I sit down a minute?"

"This chair, Mac. That one is for ladies soliciting for worthy causes or boys working their way through college and only needing five hundred more points to win the big bonus. I was just finishing my coffee. How about a cup? I can heat it in a minute—or would you rather have a drink?"

"Coffee would be fine, Laura. We have had dinner, but Hattie doesn't make coffee at night any more since Martha doesn't come down."

She said, "No better, I suppose? Martha, I mean."

Mac Fowler thrust his legs out comfortably and had a care for his neatly pressed trousers.

"No better, but not perceptibly worse. I doubt if we can hope for any more improvement. We've about reached the limit of what insulin will do."

"It's getting you down, isn't it?" asked Laura sympathetically. "It shows on you, Mac."

"It's more tragic for Martha of course."

"And for Ellen."

His brows drew in. "Oh, ye for Ellen." But Ellen does have her life before her while Martha and I

"Stop it, Mac," Laura interposed. "Stop it before you begin moaning that you're an old man. All of which will be a crass bid for pity because you'll never believe you're really old—not even when you're ninety. Two lumps?"

Laura set the cup before him, grinning her gamin grin.

"I feel very old sometimes." He let his eyes down, sighed heavily. "But you will never be old, Laura. If you should stick around here for a hundred years you'd still be the youngest thing alive. I wish—" he made an obvious effort to steer the conversation into a less personal mood—"I wish Ellen had a little of your spirit. I don't want her to be crushed by all this, but I seem not to be clever enough to prevent it."

"You wouldn't want to send her away, of course," Laura said levelly. Poor old Mac, he was having a rotten life! It was breaking down something strong and fine within him.

He considered her remark, finishing half the cup before he put it down.

"The fact we face—" his judicial air returned again, almost as though he wrapped himself in it for protection—"is that Martha may live for years, and on the other hand she may not survive another month. The doctors can't suggest any additional treatment, and I doubt if Ellen would agree to go away now if I urged it. And in justice to her mother I would feel very hesitant to suggest it."

(To Be Continued)

Bennett Cerf's

Try, Stop Me

Many years ago, a Hollywood picture producer became so impressed with the directorial talents of a Swede named Mauritz Stiller that he offered him a five hundred percent raise to leave Stockholm and make movies in America. Stiller held out for one additional concession. He insisted that a young actress he was coaching be allowed to accompany him. His wish was gratified. Stiller got nowhere on these shores and soon was lost in the shuffle. His protégé, however, fared somewhat better. Her name was Greta Garbo.

When old Cap Sartorius retired from life on the bounding main, a Scarsdale socialite gurgled to him, "Oh Captain, don't tell me you were ever boarded by a pirate." "I certainly was," maintained the doughty captain. "It was at the Central House, in Cook's Harbor, and they charged me three dollars for a hall bedroom."

The oil in a can of sardines generally is more valuable than the fish itself.

The human body contains about 30,000 miles of blood vessels.

degh owns the park and knows his own fences.

He says the minute Attlee pulls the rule book on nationalization he's left on base as it was his team that wrote it.

He says who can blame Mossa-degh for feeling that what is good in Britain for the British is peachy in Iran for the Iranians.

My barber says it also should be noted that Uncle Sam volunteered to umpire; he wasn't drafted.

Also that more than three quarters of a million young Americans have been drafted to support their impulsive old uncle as he continues to volunteer for trouble the world around.

A. Janes & Sons

Division of Inland Products, Inc.
Cash For Dead Stock

Horses $2.00 each
Cows $3.00 each

According to Size and Condition
Small Stock
Promptly Removed
Phone Collect
Circleville 104

Grab Bag

THE ANSWER, QUICK!

1. When were excavations of Pompeii first begun?
2. When were seals first used on documents?
3. What is an astrolabe?
4. How much does a cubic foot of gold weigh?
5. What causes oil to flow upward from oil wells?

IT HAPPENED TODAY

Feast of St. Therese of Lisieux—"Little Flower of Jesus"—children's saint. 1656—Miles Standish, English colonist at Plymouth, died. 1859—Eleanor Duse, noted Italian actress, born. 1941—Adolf Hitler announced Russia defeated, "never to rise again."

WATCH YOUR LANGUAGE

CHOLERA—(KOL-er-a)—noun; any of a number of diseases, usually with a distinguishing word; as, hog cholera; with-out such a word, cholera morbus. Origin: Latin—a bilious disease.

YOUR FUTURE

Care, tact and vigilance in all things are likely to make your next year auspicious. Great energy and enthusiasm are likely to be noticeable traits in the child born on this date, but an inclination to over-sensitiveness may also be noted.

IT'S BEEN SAID
Our business is the field of fight is not to question, but to prove our might.—Homer.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Film actor Henry Hull and film director Leo McCarey are on the congratulation list today.

HOW'D YOU MAKE OUT?

1. In the middle of the 18th century.
2. In ancient times. Evidence of them have been found among antiquities of Assyria, Babylonia, Egypt.
3. An instrument for observing the stars.
4. 1,204 pounds.
5. Gas pressure from inside the well.

An Oriental turban may consist of up to 20 yards of material.

The Greenland icecap is 1,000 feet thick, on an average.

Record amount of cow's milk produced in the United States in one year was in 1945, when 121,000,000 pounds were produced.

Division of the Territory of Carolina into the colonies of North and South Carolina took place in 1729.

Work songs are an ancient institution, engaged in by the early Greeks and Egyptians.

My New York

By MEL HEIMER

Waxey Gordon

NEW YORK—I suppose when all is said and done, Waxey Gordon never really belonged up there in the top flight of the Roaring Twenties hoodlums. He was of the same era as Dutch Schultz, Owney Madden, Larry Fay, Vincent Coll and Legs Diamond, and while Waxey got the same kind of glorified publicity they did, he never seemed to operate with the same abortive majesty they did. He seemed plain stupid at times, such as when he was picked up in 1947 as an alleged fence for stolen watches, and other times he hit rock bottom, such as in 1940 when he was discovered living in a two-buck hotel on 17th street after he did a seven-year hitch in Leavenworth for tax evasion.

Nevertheless, it was startling to pick up the paper the other day and learn that Waxey had been discovered by the Feds sitting in the back seat of an automobile in midtown Manhattan with a pound of heroin in his lap.

Waxey has been connected with the dope racket before, and for my money that alone makes him eligible for a few hours on the rack or, at the very least, hanging by the thumbs, but always they had talked of him as a "czar" in the racket. To be caught with a sack of dream dust in his hands put him right in the class with a street-corner pusher. The miserable specimen of humanity probably qualifies as the dumbest bigtime hood in history.

Gordon's reappearance in the headlines brings to mind another of his adventures, along somewhat more legitimate lines. This was back in the prohibition era, when, like a lot of other rich thugs, he got into business for the first time.

called Strike Me Pink, Waxey became an angel. He plunked a reported $300,000 into the revue, and by the time it finished its out-of-town tour and came into Broadway, it was still out $180,000 of the original cost, with slim prospects for clicking and making up the deficit. "Names," Brown muttered to Waxey one day, "—that's what we need."

"Names?" Gordon asked. "The telephone book's full of them."

Patiently Brown explained he meant "big" names, and cited Jimmy Durante as an example. But Durante had movie commitments in Hollywood.

"Dough can buy actors or anybody," Waxey said with almost but not complete truth. He sent Lew to Hollywood—but movie producer Irving Thalberg said he couldn't spare Durante. Brown long-distanced Gordon, and broke the bad news. "Who's this Thalberg?" Waxey demanded over the phone from New York. Brown explained that he was the biggest man in Hollywood at the moment.

"Well," Waxey said, "if he's that big, what do we want with this Durante? Get this Thalberg?"

Later, after being told Thalberg was not a performer but a manipulator of performers, Waxey suggested that he send some of his muscle men out to persuade Irving to listen to reason, but Brown talked him out of that.

Ultimately Brown corralled Durante, handsome Hope Williams and ill-fated Lupe Velez for his show. When they began rehearsals for the New York opening, Waxey was at the theater every night with his bodyguard of hoods. Beer-running and gambling wars, involving Waxey and Dutch Schultz, were depicting his forces—but nightly Waxey turned up to watch the rehearsals.

THE WORD WAS THAT WAXEY AND HIS BOYS each had a sweetheart in the chorus, but this was no great drawback to its success, since hoods inevitably seem to take up with big flashy blondes, the exact kind of girl to make the chorus line a hit.

As for the other girls in the show, the poor souls with no gunman to care for them—they reported that Gordon and his buddies were perfect gentlemen and never annoyed them. When one of them was auditioning for a job one night, one of Waxey's boys eyed her speculatively and said "Hey—whose gal is that?"

"She ain't nobody's gal," Waxey replied. The other guy scratched his head. "What the Sam Hill is she doing in the show, then?" he asked, perplexed.

Strike Me Pink opened finally to glowing critical notices and was a smash hit until ultimately Durante had to return to movieland. Then it folded. Now, it seems, Waxey, the angel, has finally folded, too.

—: Social Happenings - Personals - News Of Interest To Women :—

Mrs. Wade Cozad, Lancaster Named Regional Director, Garden Club Association

Gourd Festival Is Announced

Mrs. Wade Cozad of Lancaster was elected new regional director of District 9, Ohio Association of Garden Clubs at a meeting held Saturday in Circleville First Evangelical United Brethren church.

Approximately 120 garden club members answered roll-call by Mrs. Floyd Ruble of Grove City who presided at the morning session.

Mrs. Donald H. Watt announced that the fifth annual Gourd Festival of Ohio Gourd Society will hold an exhibit open to the public, during the Pumpkin Show. William Cook, exhibit chairman of the Gourd Society and member of Circleville Garden Club, will be chairman of the show. Entries may be made with him before Oct. 10.

Floral arrangements made by members of various garden clubs were placed throughout the church. Those making arrangements of flowers were: Mrs. Ruble, Mrs. N. E. Neiswander, Mrs. George Hoffman of Grove City; Miss Helen Hoffman of Kingston; Mrs. Roy Smith and Mrs. Trimble Parker of Chillicothe; Mrs. James Hott of Ashville; Mrs. C. A. Bliss of Commercial Point and Mrs. Watt and Mrs. Fred Cook of Circleville.

Mrs. Roy Smith, retiring regional director, announced the following Fall flower shows:

Clarksburg Flower Show, Oct. 3 and 4; Fairfield Federation Flower Show at Fairfield County Fair, Oct. 10-14;

Lawrence Hicks of Columbus was speaker at the morning session. In his address, "Some Representatives of Ohio's Major Plant Families," he said that there are 20 major plant families in Ohio and explained how wild and cultivated plants were related by giving some examples of each in the same family.

He said, "The grass family is the most important family in the world, of which corn is the most useful and best known member." He also told his audience that most fruit trees are members of the rose family.

Following his talk, he showed slides of his own garden and scenes of Ashtabula County.

For the noon luncheon, served by women of the church, tables were beautifully decorated with floral arrangements made by Mrs. George Welker. Tulips wrapped in red and green cellophane were placed at each plate as favors.

Irwin Rickley of Columbus was first speaker for the afternoon. He showed many slides of flowers, mosses, birds and bird's nests to illustrate his address on, "The Out of Doors."

Mrs. Charles Watkins of Bellefontaine, an accredited flower

judge, discussed and demonstrated flower arranging as the concluding feature of the afternoon program.

She said, "You should train your eyes to know if your arrangement is the right height. Scale is the most important thing in a miniature."

Mrs. Watkins also suggested that arrangers make a pencil sketch of an arrangement before they begin to work with the flowers.

Guests attending from the district which includes Ross, Jackson, Fairfield, Fayette, Franklin and Pickaway Counties, were registered by Mrs. E. E. Wolfe and Mrs. Guy Heffner.

Berger Guild 28 Votes Aid, Sews For Hospital

Mrs. Orion King of West High street was hostess to a meeting of Berger Hospital Guild 28 in her home Tuesday evening.

At the business meeting with Chairman Mrs. Lewis Sharpe presiding, members voted to purchase a metal commode chair and pledged another $25 toward the new refrigerator which is "needed so badly" by the hospital.

Guild members also sewed on heavy linen covers for the hospital, each member also taking home material to finish later.

Following the sewing session, Mrs. King served refreshments during a social hour.

The Guild will hold its next meeting in the home of Mrs. Channing Vlerebome of East Main street.

66th Birthday Is Celebrated

Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hill of Stoutsville assembled in their home Sunday for a cooperative dinner, the occasion being Mr. Hill's 66th birthday.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hill and children, Paul and Polly of Circleville; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Kerns and sons, Eugene and Charles of near Circleville; Miss Loretta Barr of Amanda; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McCracken and daughters, Cynthia and Michele of Newark; Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Karr and children, Dale and Marlene and Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hill and sons, Howard and John of Stoutsville.

Personals

Home and Hospital Board will meet at 2:30 p. m. Friday in the home of Miss Mary Heffner, East Mound street.

Mr. and Mrs. Sewell Dunton Jr., and daughters, Katherine and Elizabeth of Greenfield, Mass., are guests in the home of his aunt, Miss Florence Dunton of South Court street. Miss Dunton is expected to return first of next week from Greenfield where she is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Sewell Dunton.

Miss Rose Leist of Stoutsville recently spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Leist, near Circleville.

Glenn Jones of Circleville was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Zeimer of Stoutsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Elma Fosnaugh and Mrs. Frank Shaeffer of Tallon were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Fosnaugh and daughter, Bonnie of Circleville.

Virginia and Nancy Zeimer of Stoutsville spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. David Olney and son, Stephen of Circleville.

Mr. and Mrs. James Morrison and Mrs. Charles Stein of Stoutsville and Miss Marjorie Thornton of Circleville were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Stein and son, Richard of Pleasant street.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Noble and son, of Circleville had as recent guests, Mrs. Marvin Rife and Mrs. Lloyd Rife of Stoutsville.

Miss Mary Ebert of Circleville was a recent dinner guest of Miss Blanche Meyer in Stoutsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Bullock and daughter, Sharon of Amanda and Mrs. Joe Aldenderfer of Circleville have returned from a tour of Pennsylvania, New York, Canada and Niagara Falls.

Dr. and Mrs. James Harrah of Delhi, Ontario, Canada have returned home after several days with Mrs. Seymour Millar of Ashville.

Ashville Women's Civic Club will meet at 8 p. m. Thursday in the home of Mrs. Oscar J. Ward.

Mrs. Howard Jones, who is a guest in Circleville Home and Hospital, 158 East Mound street, will celebrate her 93rd birthday on Sunday.

DUV Group Holds Meeting

Daughters of Union Veterans met in Circleville Memorial Hall Tuesday evening for a business meeting with Mrs. C. O. Kerns presiding.

Members voted a contribution to "Crusade for Freedom" fund. It was announced that District 8 of DUV will meet in Marion Thursday.

Diamond Solitaire
Bridal Duo—$105.00

Our Diamonds Offer An Assurance Of Quality Which Costs No More

L.M. BUTCHER CO.
Jewelry for Diamonds

Our 70th Anniversary Year 1881-1951

Birthday Party Held When Loyal Daughters Meet

A birthday celebration honoring all members having anniversaries between June 1 and Nov. 30 was held when Loyal Daughters of First Evangelical United Brethren church met Tuesday evening for a covered dish supper.

Guests and members were welcomed by Mrs. Porter Martin with response by Mrs. Carl Porter, a reading was given by Mrs. Charles Ater and each person was given a fortune" which she read.

Featured on the program was the showing of color slides by Mrs. V. D. Kerns. The pictures were scenes taken in the Southern states and others photographed on the island of Guam by Donald Woodward.

Thirty-five were present for the occasion including guests: Miss Dorothy Wood, Mrs. Kerns, Mrs. Hazel Shelton, the Rev. and Mrs. Carl L. Wilson, Miss Vir-

Eleanor Toops Engagement Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt W. Toops of Washington C. H., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Eleanor Ann, to David Charles Six, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil F. Six of Ashville.

Miss Toops is a graduate of Washington C.H. high school and Miami-Jacobs business college in Dayton. She is employed in First National Bank in Washington C.H.

Six, a graduate of Ashville-Harrison high school, is associated with Wood Implement Co., in Circleville.

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

ginia Eccard and Miss Carolyn Sue Weller.

Committee in charge of arranging the meeting and social hour was Mrs. Ater, Mrs. Paul Woodward and Mrs. Jasie Wise.

Scioto Grange Holds Annual Inspection

Annual inspection was held recently by Scioto Grange with Mr. and Mrs. John Dowler inspecting both Juvenile and Subordinate ranges.

Third and fourth degrees were conferred by a team composed of Mrs. Harold Fisher, Robert Smith, Harold Bumgardner, Mrs. Elliott Crites, Clarence Forshey, Chester Fosnaugh, Harold Fisher, Harold Peters, David Dowler, Betty White, Mrs. C. A. Haslep, Patty Forshey, Rosemary Fisher, Mrs. Harold

Fisher, and Mrs. Herman Berger.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Berger, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Snyder and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Speakman took part in the harvest march.

The program which followed a business meeting was begun with group singing. A talk on, "Growing Vegetables in Florida," was given by Harry Reese.

A violin solo was played by Helen Horn, accompanied by Mrs. Arthur Swingle. A reading by Fern Dennis and a comedy skit by Ned and Ted Dennis, completed the program.

Tuesday, a special program will be presented to help Mr. and Mrs. Ira Fisher celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary.

NOW... GENUINE
HOOVER SPECIALS*

MODEL 105 ONLY $19.95

Others to $6.95

*Previous models reconstructed at the Hoover factory.

They look like new and clean like new—
Because every Hoover Special has been completely reconstructed by the company's own skilled workmen at the Hoover factory.

Smart new color schemes, new beating-sweeping brush, new belt, new bag, new cord, new furniture guard.

Plus all this, each cleaner carries the Hoover Certificate of Quality—and the Hoover guarantee for one full year!

CAUTION: No rebuilt Hoover Cleaner is a genuine Hoover Special unless it displays this name plate.

KOCHHEISER HARDWARE

113 W. Main St.

Phone 100

C. J. SCHNEIDER FURNITURE Presents the New Flex-Steel SOFA BED

by Kramer

NOW ON DISPLAY --- COME IN AND LET US SHOW IT TO YOU

We Also Have Other Sofa Beds On Display In Various Colors

from $64.50 to $359

We Will Be Glad To Show You These Sofa Beds That Will Give You An Extra Bedroom For Your Home.

C. J. SCHNEIDER FURNITURE
107 N. Court St. Circleville, O.

ROTHMAN'S

forever young

Dresses Priced
$9.95 to $16.50

Paris for every woman's pocketbook - - - thanks to "Forever Young." Headline fashions from the Paris collections of four great Paris designers!

3 Part Relish Dish—$3.00 each

12 Inch Bowl—$3.50 each

10 1/2 Inch Plate—$2.00 each $24.00 dozen

Sherbet—85c each $10.20 dozen

Footed Tumbler—85c each $10.20 dozen

L.M. BUTCHER CO.
Jewelry for Diamonds

Our 70th Anniversary Year 1881-1951

Pretty as a picture
SLIM STRAPS
in
Enna Jetticks
America's Smartest Walking Shoes

"Such pretty shoes", people will say. Straps slim your ankle, flatter your foot as no other shoes do. See the new ENNA JETTICKS, now— and see how wonderfully they fit.

Some ENNA JETTICK Styles are made in sizes 1 to 12 widths AAAAA to EEE
$9.95 to $12.95

X-RAY FITTING
BLOCK'S Economy Shoe Store
CIRCLEVILLE'S BEST SHOES

Lassie Jr.

As advertised by Lassie in Mademoiselle, Better Living

$49.95

My coat must be a Lassie Jr.

The coat you'll love to own in buttery-soft 100% Virgin Wool FLEECE. Sizes 7 to 15 in all new fall shades.

Sharff's
WOMEN'S APPAREL

—: Social Happenings - Personals - News Of Interest To Women :—

Mrs. Wade Cozad, Lancaster Named Regional Director, Garden Club Association

Gourd Festival Is Announced

Mrs. Wade Cozad of Lancaster was elected new regional director of District 9, Ohio Association of Garden Clubs at a meeting held Saturday in Circleville First Evangelical United Brethren church.

Approximately 120 garden club members answered roll-call by Mrs. Floyd Ruble of Grove City who presided at the morning session.

Mrs. Donald H. Watt announced that the fifth annual Gourd Festival of Ohio Gourd Society will hold an exhibit open to the public, during the Pumpkin Show, William Cook, exhibit chairman of the Gourd Society and member of Circleville Garden Club, will be chairman of the show. Entries may be made with him before Oct. 10.

Floral arrangements made by members of various garden clubs were placed throughout the church. Those making arrangements of flowers were: Mrs. Ruble, Mrs. N. E. Neiswander, Mrs. George Hoffman of Grove City; Miss Helen Hoffman of Kingston; Mrs. Roy Smith and Mrs. Trimble Parker of Chillicothe; Mrs. James Hott of Ashville; Mrs. C. A. Bliss of Commercial Point and Mrs. Watt and Mrs. Fred Cook of Circleville.

Mrs. Roy Smith, retiring regional director, announced the following Fall flower shows: Clarksburg Flower Show, Oct. 3 and 4; Fairfield Federation Flower Show at Fairfield County Fair, Oct. 10-14;

Lawrence Hicks of Columbus was speaker at the morning session. In his address, "Some Representatives of Ohio's Major Plant Families," he said that there are 20 major plant families in Ohio and explained how wild and cultivated plants were related by giving some examples of each in the same family.

He said, "The grass family is the most important family in the world, of which corn is the most useful and best known member." He also told his audience that most fruit trees are members of the rose family.

Following his talk, he showed slides of his own garden and scenes of Ashtabula County.

For the noon luncheon, served by women of the church, tables were beautifully decorated with floral arrangements made by Mrs. George Welker. Tulips wrapped in red and green cellophane were placed at each plate as favors.

Irwin Rickley of Columbus was first speaker for the afternoon. He showed many slides of flowers, mosses, birds and bird's nests to illustrate his address on, "The Out of Doors."

Mrs. Charles Watkins of Bellefontaine, an accredited flower

judge, discussed and demonstrated flower arranging as the concluding feature of the afternoon program.

She said, "You should train your eyes to know if your arrangement is the right height. Scale is the most important thing in a miniature."

Mrs. Watkins also suggested that arrangers make a pencil sketch of an arrangement before they begin to work with the flowers.

Guests attending from the district which includes Ross, Jackson, Fairfield, Fayette, Franklin and Pickaway Counties, were registered by Mrs. E. E. Wolfe and Mrs. Guy Heffner.

Berger Guild 28 Votes Aid, Sews For Hospital

Mrs. Orion King of West High street was hostess to a meeting of Berger Hospital Guild 28 in her home Tuesday evening.

At the business meeting with Chairman Mrs. Lewis Sharpe presiding, members voted to purchase a metal commode chair and pledged another $25 toward the new refrigerator which is "needed so badly" by the hospital.

Guild members also sewed on heavy linen covers for the hospital, each member also taking home material to finish later.

Following the sewing session, Mrs. King served refreshments during a social hour.

The Guild will hold its next meeting in the home of Mrs. Channing Vlerbome of East Main street.

66th Birthday Is Celebrated

Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hill of Stoutsville assembled in their home Sunday for a cooperative dinner, the occasion being Mr. Hill's 66th birthday.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hill and children, Paul and Polly of Circleville; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Kerns and sons, Eugene and Charles of near Circleville; Miss Loretta Barr of Amanda; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McCracken and daughters, Cynthia and Michele of Newark; Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Karr and children, Dale and Marlene and Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hill and sons, Howard and John of Stoutsville.

Personals

Home and Hospital Board will meet at 2:30 p. m. Friday in the home of Miss Mary Heffner, East Mound street.

Mr. and Mrs. Sewell Dunton Jr., and daughters, Katherine and Elizabeth of Greenfield, Mass., are guests in the home of his aunt, Miss Florence Dunton of South Court street. Miss Dunton is expected to return first of next week from Greenfield where she is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Sewell Dunton.

Miss Rose Leist of Stoutsville recently spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Leist, near Circleville.

Glenn Jones of Circleville was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Zeimer of Stoutsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Elma Fosnaugh and Mrs. Frank Shaeffer of Tilton were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Fosnaugh and daughter, Bonnie of Circleville.

Virginia and Nancy Zeimer of Stoutsville spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. David Olney and son, Stephen of Circleville.

Mr. and Mrs. James Morrison and Mrs. Charles Stein of Stoutsville and Miss Marjorie Thornton of Circleville were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Stein and son, Richard of Pleasant street.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Noble and son, of Circleville had as recent guests, Mrs. Marvin Rife and Mrs. Lloyd Rife of Stoutsville.

Miss Mary Ebert of Circleville was a recent dinner guest of Miss Blanche Meyer in Stoutsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Bullock and daughter, Sharon of Amanda and Mrs. Joe Aldenderfer of Circleville have returned from a tour of Pennsylvania, New York, Canada and Niagara Falls.

Dr. and Mrs. James Harrah of Delhi, Ontario, Canada have returned home after several days with Mrs. Seymour Millar of Ashville.

Ashville Women's Civic Club will meet at 8 p. m. Thursday in the home of Mrs. Oscar J. Ward.

Mrs. Howard Jones, who is a guest in Circleville Home and Hospital, 158 East Mound street, will celebrate her 93rd birthday on Sunday.

DUV Group Holds Meeting

Daughters of Union Veterans met in Circleville Memorial Hall Tuesday evening for a business meeting with Mrs. C. O. Kerns presiding.

Members voted a contribution to "Crusade for Freedom" fund. It was announced that District 8 of DUV will meet in Marion Thursday.

Diamond Solitaire Bridal Duo—$105.00

Our Diamonds Offer An Assurance Of Quality Which Costs No More

L.M. BUTCH CO. Jewelers

Our 70th Anniversary Year 1881-1951

Fostoria CENTURY

Fostoria's Year-Round Pattern comprises 78 items of versatile Dinnerware and Ornamental Glass for your selection.

3 Part Relish Dish—$3.00 each

12 Inch Bowl—$3.50 each

10 1/2 Inch Plate—$2.00 each $24.00 dozen

Sherbet—85c each $10.20 dozen

Footed Tumbler—85c each $10.20 dozen

Footed Tumbler—85c each $10.20 dozen

L.M. BUTCH CO. Jewelers

Our 70th Anniversary Year 1881-1951

Birthday Party Held When Loyal Daughters Meet

A birthday celebration honoring all members having anniversaries between June 1 and Nov. 30 was held when Loyal Daughters of First Evangelical United Brethren church met Tuesday evening for a covered dish supper.

Guests and members were welcomed by Mrs. Porter Martin with response by Mrs. Carl Porter, a reading was given by Mrs. Charles Ater and each person was given a fortune" which she read.

Featured on the program was the showing of color slides by Mrs. V. D. Kerns. The pictures were scenes taken in the Southern states and others photographed on the island of Guam by Donald Woodward.

Thirty-five were present for the occasion including guests: Miss Dorothy Wood, Mrs. Kerns, Mrs. Hazel Shelton, the Rev. and Mrs. Carl L. Wilson, Miss Vir-

Eleanor Toops Engagement Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt W. Toops of Washington C. H., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Eleanor Ann, to David Charles Six, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil F. Six of Ashville.

Miss Toops is a graduate of Washington C.H. high school and Miami-Jacobs business college in Dayton. She is employed in First National Bank in Washington C.H.

Six, a graduate of Ashville-Harrison high school, is associated with Wood Implement Co., in Circleville.

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

ginia Eccard and Miss Carolyn Sue Weller.

Committee in charge of arranging the meeting and social hour was Mrs. Ater, Mrs. Paul Woodward and Mrs. Jasie Wise.

Scioto Grange Holds Annual Inspection

Annual inspection was held recently by Scioto Grange with Mr. and Mrs. John Dowler inspecting both Juvenile and Subordinate ranges.

Third and fourth degrees were conferred by a team composed of Mrs. Harold Fisher, Robert Smith, Harold Bumgardner, Mrs. Elliott Crites, Clarence Forshey, Chester Fosnaugh, Harold Fisher, Harold Peters, David Dowler, Betty White, Mrs. C. A. Haslep, Patty Forshey, Rosemary Fisher, Mrs. Harold

Fisher, and Mrs. Herman Berger.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Berger, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Snyder and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Speakman took part in the harvest march.

The program which followed a business meeting was begun with group singing. A talk on, "Growing Vegetables in Florida," was given by Harry Roese.

A violin solo was played by Helen Horn, accompanied by Mrs. Arthur Swingle. A reading by Fern Dennis and a comedy skit by Ned and Ted Dennis, completed the program.

Tuesday, a special program will be presented to help Mr. and Mrs. Ira Fisher celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary.

NOW... GENUINE
HOOVER SPECIALS*

MODEL 105 ONLY $19⁹⁵

*Various models reconstructed at the Hoover factory.

They look like new and clean like new— Because every Hoover Special has been completely reconstructed by the company's own skilled workmen at the Hoover factory

Smart new colorschemes, new beating-sweeping brush, new belt, new bag, new cord, new furniture guard.

Plus all this, each cleaner carries the Hoover Certificate of Quality—and the Hoover guarantee for one full year!

KOCHHEISER HARDWARE

113 W. Main St. Phone 100

Lassie Jr.

As advertised by Lassie in Mademoiselle, Better Living

$49⁹⁵

My coat must be a Lassie Jr.

The coat you'll love to own in buttery-soft 100% Virgin Wool FLEECE. Sizes 7 to 15 in all new fall shades.

Sharff's
WOMEN'S APPAREL

Pretty as a picture

SLIM STRAPS

in

THOSE COMFORTABLE
Enna Jetticks
America's Smartest Walking Shoes

• Red
• Green
• Black
• Tan

"Such pretty shoes", people will say. Straps slim your ankle, flatter your foot as no other shoes do. See the new ENNA JETTICKS, now—and see how wonderfully they fit.

Some ENNA JETTICK Styles are made in sizes 1 to 12 widths AAAAA to EEE

$9⁹⁵ to $12⁹⁵

X-RAY FITTING

BLOCK'S Economy Shoe Store

CIRCLEVILLE'S BEST SHOES

L.M. BUTCH CO. Jewelers

Our 70th Anniversary Year 1881-1951

ROTHMAN'S

forever young

Dresses Priced $9.95 to $16.50

Paris for every woman's pocketbook - - - thanks to "Forever Young." Headline fashions from the Paris collections of four great Paris designers!

How To Stay Healthy During Coming Winter

Editor's Note: This is the third of five articles containing expert advice on how to stay healthy through the winter months. The articles were written by the editors of Cosmopolitan magazine.

Avoiding accidents wherever possible, or knowing what to do if accidents occur despite all normal precautions, is a vital part of staying healthy. Eleven thousand children between the ages of one and fourteen will die of accidents this year in the United States. Forty per cent of those accidents will happen at home.

How about your home? Go from room to room and ask yourself the following questions, and where the answer spells danger, do the necessary!

KITCHEN: Are matches kept in a metal container out of the reach of children? Are sharp knives kept in a rack or box away from other knives, forks and spoons? Are cleaning fluids, paints and insecticides kept away from flames and out of reach of children? Do you turn pot handles in so your apron or your child's hand will not tip the pots and spill their boiling contents? Are you careful to check and make sure the gas is turned off before leaving the house?

Bathroom: Do you have bath mats inside and outside the bathtub to prevent slipping? Are all containers of poison marked clearly and kept where children cannot find them?

Do you have first-aid materials on hand? Is there a small box for discarded razor blades? Are you careful to see that small children are not left alone in the bathtub, where they may be scalded or drowned?

Bedroom: Do you keep drawers and closet doors closed to avoid bumps? If you can't turn the light on from the bed, do you keep a flashlight within reach? Is baby's bedding always pinned, buttoned, or folded in such a way as to prevent smothering?

Living Room: If you have scatter rugs, are they firmly fixed to the floor? Are lamp cords arranged so that no one can trip over them? Are your children taught to keep their toys from cluttering the floor? Do you avoid highly polished, slippery floors? Are firearms kept unloaded and out of reach of children?

AROUND AND ABOUT: Do your windows have guards to keep youngsters from falling out? Is the stair covering in your house in good condition? Do you have gates at the top and bottom of stairs to keep baby from falling? Do you always throw the main switch before replacing a fuse? Have you learned, and taught your children, never to touch an electric switch or appliance when hands or body are wet or in contact with metal?

The questions are infinite in number, and the answers have not always been satisfactory. That's why, in the "safety" of the American home, a life is lost every 16 minutes; someone is hurt every seven seconds; and one person is permanently disabled every four minutes!

For those minor health measures that don't require medical assistance, every well-equipped medicine cabinet should contain the following supplies:

(1) A clinical thermometer, for taking temperatures; (2) 1-inch compresses on adhesive in individual packages; (3) sterile gauze squares—about 3" x 3"—in individual packages; (4) assorted sterile bandage compresses in individual packages; (5) triangular bandages; (6) sterile gauze in packages of about one square yard; (7) roll of half-inch adhesive.

(8) ABSORBENT cotton; (9) burn ointment; (10) pint of rubbing alcohol (70 per cent), for use externally, and a good liniment to relieve the pain of sprains, strains, and bruises, and to refresh the skin during illness; (11) 2-ounce bottle of aromatic spirits of ammonia; (12) bicarbonate of soda, for mild indigestion;

(13) Boric acid, to make eyewash; (14) eyecup; (15) tube of petrolatum; (16) sterile castor oil or mineral oil, for use in the eyes; (17) oil of cloves, for that sleep-robbing toothache; (18) tincture of iodine (2 per cent solution); (19) milk of magnesia, as an occasional mild laxative.

(20) Aspirin tablets. (Caution: all boxes and bottles containing poison—for example, iodine and rubbing alcohol—should be labeled "poison" and kept on a special shelf well out of the reach of your children. And never take medicine in the dark!)

And do you have these appliances for a healthy winter: Sun lamp, heat lamp, electric heating pad, hotwater bottle, ice bag, hair dryer, electric vaporizer? Check your bathroom supplies, and if anything is missing, go to the drugstore now.

Next: The importance of food storage; how to avoid colds.)

Pollution Board Is Established

COLUMBUS, Oct. 3—Governor Lausche's office has announced the establishment of an Ohio Water Pollution Control Board, effective Sept. 27, and the appointment of two board members.

The announcement said Lausche has appointed William R. Kellogg, Cincinnati city manager, as a municipal member of the board whose term will end Oct. 1, 1955, and Barton Holl, president of the Logan Clay Product Co., Logan, as an industry board member with term expiring Oct. 1, 1953.

Both appointments became effective today.

Full-Fledged Probe Of Tax Bureau Slated

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—New information was promised by House investigators starting a full-fledged investigation of alleged corruption in the Internal Revenue Bureau.

A spokesman said witnesses at the public hearings which gets underway Wednesday will probably "name names" other than those already brought to light in connection with alleged income tax violations.

He indicated that those cited will be officials or employees connected with Internal Revenue offices in Boston, New York, St. Louis or San Francisco.

Rep. King (D) Calif., chairman of the special Ways and Means Subcommittee conducting the probe, says his group will scrutinize especially the circumstances surrounding:

The suspension of San Francisco Tax Collector James G. Smyth; the indictment of Boston Collector Denis W. Delaney; the resignation of St. Louis Collector James P. Finnegan; and the situation in New York, where several tax employees have been arrested. In addition to Smyth, eight assistants were also suspended.

THE SUBCOMMITTEE has been granted $200,000 by the House to conduct the probe. King promised his group will investigate the internal revenue bureau "from top to bottom."

King hinted at possible sensational developments when he stated that investigations conducted by his group "tend to indicate that there may have been in the making an organized plot to corrupt (tax) collectors in several districts in various parts of the country."

King asserted: "the 'fix' has no place in the administration of the tax laws."

JOE MOATS MOTOR SALES

159 E. Franklin St. Phone 301

DESOTO and PLYMOUTH SALES & SERVICE
Use Only The Best In Your Car
FACTORY-MADE PARTS

Council Grants Overtime Pay Fund For Police Despite Grumblings

Circleville city council Tuesday decided to pay the police department for overtime.

The solons appropriated $500 from the general fund for that purpose. The ordinance providing for the appropriation was up for the second time, nearly went for a third reading.

Reason was a negative vote registered by Councilman E. L. Montgomery on a motion to suspend the rules to permit immediate passage of the bill.

Montgomery changed his vote to an affirmative, however, after Safety Director C. O. Leist pointed out that the city already owes some of the patrolmen for overtime, and that unless overtime funds were made available the officers would have to be pulled off the streets at the end of their regular shifts.

THIS WOULD leave the city without adequate police protection, he declared.

Montgomery switched his vote only after considerable grumbling concerning the quality of local police work.

Council also appropriated $800 from the general fund to a fund for fuel, light and supplies for the police department.

Three other appropriation ordinances were passed by the legislators. They were as follows:

1. A bill appropriating $500 from the waterworks operating fund to a fund to purchase new meters.

2. An ordinance appropriating $1,000 from the street repair fund to purchase materials for the service department.

3. A bill appropriating $1,500 from the gasoline tax fund to purchase materials for the service department.

American businesses pay an average of $8,000 to put one man to work.

they're off!

...at beautiful BEULAH PARK

Route 3 at Grove City
Saturday Last Day!
$8500 Ohio Championship Saturday

• Daily double 1st and 2nd races
• Children under 16 not admitted
• POST TIME: Saturdays 2:15 p. m.
All other days 2:30

8 THRILL PACKED RACES EVERY DAY RAIN OR SHINE

the Stetson is part of the man ...

Here's the famous Stetson Open Road, the Western style that has rapidly become one of the East's most popular hats. The rugged individuality of the Open Road is in keeping with the distinctive personality of the man who wears it. Why don't you try it ... today?

the STETSON open road
$12.50
Other Stetsons From $10

Caddy Miller's HAT SHOP

200 Elks Out For Initiation And Inspection

About 200 members of Circleville Elks lodge turned out Tuesday night for the order's annual inspection, plus the Fall initiation and dinner.

Inspecting officer was E. Sheldon Powell, district deputy grand exalted ruler, of Nelsonville.

Inducted into the lodge were three men—Walter C. Dean, Lewis McKinley and Marshall Winner.

During the lodge business meeting, it was announced that the order would hold open house during the coming Circleville Pumpkin Show.

The lodge will be open to members, their ladies and friends. Dancing will be offered the four nights of the annual street festival.

It also was announced that Dr. David Goldschmidt, immediate past exalted ruler here, now holds two offices in the Ohio Elks Association. He has been elected as a member of the executive committee of the South Central District, and has been appointed chairman of the district's National Elks Foundation committee.

The latter group sponsors programs in college scholarships, youth awards, cerebral palsy centers and veterans hospital aids. More than $111,000 was expended by this group in Ohio alone last year.

DEPENDABLE USED CARS

THOMPSON-LEACH CO.

Sales and Service

Dodge and Plymouth Cars

Dodge 'Job-Rated' Trucks

120 E. Franklin St.

Phone 361

HOW MANY?

JUST COMMON SENSE!

Home security also means protection from risks of loss from fire and theft. Insure!

Be Assured---

---Be Insured

Phone 146

Lawrence J. Johnson

INSURANCE AGENCY

We can help You

Home Owners

You Can Rely On "Dutch Boy" For A Better Paint Job!

TOP QUALITY HOUSE PAINTS IN BRIGHT WHITE OR TINTS!

• Specially blended to look better longer!
• Bright white is self-cleaning—Rain washes dirt away!
• Ready-mixed Tints stay color-true!

To protect your investment and keep your house looking like new—use famous "Dutch Boy" paints! They're blended to perfection by expert paint chemists with 30 years experience in weather-testing paints! One gallon covers 600 sq. ft.! Consult us about your needs now!

C-US-B-A-U-BUY!

Goeller's Paint Store

219 E. Main St.

Phone 546

NEED A LIFT?

Finance College
Tuition With A Loan Here!

Of course you want your boy or girl to have their benefits of a college education — and if the approaching Fall term finds you short of cash to pay for it, why not let a loan see you through? You can borrow up to $1000 here in just a few minutes—AND merely on your signature. No co-signer needed. Low rates. Months to repay.

American Loan AND FINANCE CO.

120 E. Main St.

Phone 286

How To Stay Healthy During Coming Winter

Editor's Note: This is the third of five articles containing expert advice on how to stay healthy through the winter months. The articles were written by the editors of Cosmopolitan magazine.

Avoiding accidents wherever possible, or knowing what to do if accidents occur despite all normal precautions, is a vital part of staying healthy. Eleven thousand children between the ages of one and fourteen will die of accidents this year in the United States. Forty per cent of those accidents will happen at home.

How about your home? Go from room to room and ask yourself the following questions, and where the answer spells danger, do the necessary!

KITCHEN: Are matches kept in a metal container out of the reach of children? Are sharp knives kept in a rack or box away from other knives, forks and spoons? Are cleaning fluids, paints and insecticides kept away from flames and out of reach of children? Do you turn pot handles in so your apron or your child's hand will not tip the pots and spill their boiling contents? Are you careful to check and make sure the gas is turned off before leaving the house?

Bathroom: Do you have bath mats inside and outside the bathtub to prevent slipping? Are all containers of poison marked clearly and kept where children cannot find them?

Do you have first-aid materials on hand? Is there a small box for discarded razor blades? Are you careful to see that small children are not left alone in the bathtub, where they may be scalded or drowned?

Bedroom: Do you keep draw-

ers and closet doors closed to avoid bumps? If you can't turn the light on from the bed, do you keep a flashlight within reach? Is baby's bedding always pinned, buttoned, or folded in such a way as to prevent smothering?

Living Room: If you have scatter rugs, are they firmly fixed to the floor? Are lamp cords arranged so that no one can trip over them? Are your children taught to keep their toys from cluttering the floor? Do you avoid highly polished, slippery floors? Are firearms kept unloaded and out of reach of children?

AROUND AND ABOUT: Do your windows have guards to keep youngsters from falling out? Is the stair covering in your house in good condition? Do you have gates at the top and bottom of stairs to keep a baby from falling? Do you always throw the main switch before replacing a fuse? Have you learned, and taught your children, never to touch an electric switch or appliance when hands or body are wet or in contact with metal?

The questions are infinite in number, and the answers have not always been satisfactory. That's why, in the "safety" of the American home, a life is lost every 16 minutes; someone is hurt every seven seconds; and one person is permanently disabled every four minutes!

For those minor health measures that don't require medical assistance, every well-equipped medicine cabinet should contain the following supplies:

(1) A clinical thermometer, for taking temperatures; (2) 1-inch compresses on adhesive in individual packages; (3) sterile gauze squares—about 3" x 3"—in individual packages; (4) assorted sterile bandage compresses in individual packages; (5) triangular bandages; (6) sterile gauze in packages of about one square yard; (7) roll of half-inch adhesive.

(8) ABSORBENT cotton; (9) burn ointment; (10) pint of rubbing alcohol (70 per cent), for use externally, and a good liniment to relieve the pain of sprains, strains, and bruises, and to refresh the skin during illness; (11) 2-ounce bottle of aromatic spirits of ammonia; (12) bicarbonate of soda, for mild indigestion; (13) Boric acid, to make eyewash; (14) eyecup; (15) tube of petrolatum; (16) sterile castor oil or mineral oil, for use in the eyes; (17) oil of cloves, for that sleep-robbing toothache; (18) tincture of iodine (2 per cent solution); (19) milk of magnesia, as an occasional mild laxative. (20) Aspirin tablets. (Caution: all boxes and bottles containing poison—for example, iodine and rubbing alcohol—should be labeled "poison" and kept on a special shelf well out of the reach of your children. And never take medicine in the dark!)

And do you have these appliances for a healthy winter: Sun lamp, heat lamp, electric heating pad, hotwater bottle, ice bag, hair dryer, electric vaporizer? Check your bathroom supplies, and if anything is missing, go to the drugstore now.

Next: The importance of food storage; how to avoid colds.)

Pollution Board Is Established

COLUMBUS, Oct. 3—Governor Lausche's office has announced the establishment of an Ohio Water Pollution Control Board, effective Sept. 27, and the appointment of two board members.

The announcement said Lausche has appointed William R. Kellogg, Cincinnati city manager, as a municipal member of the board whose term will end Oct. 1, 1955, and Barton Holl, president of the Logan Clay Product Co., Logan, as an industry board member with term expiring Oct. 1, 1953.

Both appointments became effective today.

Full-Fledged Probe Of Tax Bureau Slated

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—New information was promised by House investigators starting a full-fledged investigation of alleged corruption in the Internal Revenue Bureau.

A spokesman said witnesses at the public hearings which get underway Wednesday will probably "name names" other than those already brought to light in connection with alleged income tax violations.

He indicated that those cited will be officials or employees connected with Internal Revenue offices in Boston, New York, St. Louis or San Francisco.

Rep. King (D) Calif., chairman of the special Ways and Means Subcommittee conducting the probe, says his group will scrutinize especially the circumstances surrounding:

The suspension of San Francisco Tax Collector James G. Smyth; the indictment of Boston Collector Denis W. Delaney; the resignation of St. Louis Collector James P. Finnegan; and the situation in New York, where several tax employees have been arrested. In addition to Smyth, eight assistants were also suspended.

THE SUBCOMMITTEE has been granted $200,000 by the House to conduct the probe. King promised his group will investigate the internal revenue bureau "from top to bottom."

King hinted at possible sensational developments when he stated that investigations conducted by his group "tend to indicate that there may have been in the making an organized plot to corrupt (tax) collectors in several districts in various parts of the country."

King asserted: "The 'fix' has no place in the administration of the tax laws."

JOE MOATS MOTOR SALES

159 E. Franklin St. Phone 301

DESOTO and PLYMOUTH SALES & SERVICE Use Only The Best in Your Car FACTORY-MADE PARTS

Council Grants Overtime Pay Fund For Police Despite Grumblings

Circleville city council Tuesday decided to pay the police department for overtime.

The solons appropriated $500 from the general fund for that purpose. The ordinance providing for the appropriation was up for the second time, nearly went for a third reading.

Reason was a negative vote registered by Councilman E. L. Montgomery on a motion to suspend the rules to permit immediate passage of the bill.

Montgomery changed his vote to an affirmative, however, after Safety Director C. O. Leist pointed out that the city already owes some of the patrolmen for overtime, and that unless overtime funds were made available the officers would have to be pulled off the streets at the end of their regular shifts.

THIS WOULD leave the city without adequate police protection, he declared.

Montgomery switched his vote only after considerable grumbling concerning the quality of local police work.

Council also appropriated $800 from the general fund to a fund for fuel, light and supplies for the police department.

Three other appropriation ordinances were passed by the legislators. They were as follows:

1. A bill appropriating $500 from the waterworks operating fund to a fund to purchase new meters.

2. An ordinance appropriating $1,000 from the street repair fund to purchase materials for the service department.

3. A bill appropriating $1,500 from the gasoline tax fund to purchase materials for the service department.

Bruised Blonde, Battered Buck Nurse Injuries

DENVER, Oct. 3—A bruised blonde and a battered young buck ministered their respective injuries today—and by any count, the buck got off second best.

The blonde—six-foot tall Maxine Bloomquist—was down but not out in the weekend tussle near Denver. She emerged with a bruised arm and thigh.

The buck—a 200-pound deer—is somewhere in the wilds of Meeker Park with a pain in the ear and a damaged antler.

Miss Bloomquist, a Colorado statehouse employee, tells it this way:

"The deer approached while I was fishing and I told him to shoo. Then I turned my back and started fishing. Whammo—he attacked from the rear."

"He knocked me down and stood over me, so I stood up and grabbed him by the antlers. I busted the tip off one. Then I twisted his ear and he ran off. "It's getting dangerous to go out in the hills these days. Even the deer try to make trouble."

American businesses pay an average of $8,000 to put one man to work.

they're off!

...at beautiful BEULAH PARK

Route 3 at Grove City Saturday Last Day!

$8500 Ohio Championship Saturday

• Daily double 1st and 2nd races
• Children under 16 not admitted
• POST TIME: Saturdays 2:15 p.m.
All other days 2:30

8 THRILL PACKED RACES EVERY DAY RAIN OR SHINE

the Stetson is part of the man...

Here's the famous Stetson Open Road, the Western style that has rapidly become one of the East's most popular hats. The rugged individuality of the Open Road is in keeping with the distinctive personality of the man who wears it. Why don't you try it... today?

the STETSON open road $12.50 Other Stetsons From $10

Caddy Miller's HAT SHOP

200 Elks Out For Initiation And Inspection

About 200 members of Circleville Elks lodge turned out Tuesday night for the order's annual inspection, plus the Fall initiation and dinner.

Inspecting officer was E. Sheldon Powell, district deputy grand exalted ruler, of Nelsonville.

Inducted into the lodge were three men—Walter C. Dean, Lewis McKinley and Marshall Winner.

During the lodge business meeting, it was announced that the order would hold open house during the coming Circleville Pumpkin Show.

The lodge will be open to members, their ladies and friends. Dancing will be offered the four nights of the annual street festival.

It also was announced that Dr. David Goldschmidt, immediate past exalted ruler here, now holds two offices in the Ohio Elks Association. He has been elected as a member of the executive committee of the South Central District, and has been appointed chairman of the district's National Elks Foundation committee.

The latter group sponsors programs in college scholarships, youth awards, cerebral palsy centers and veterans hospital aids. More than $111,000 was expended by this group in Ohio alone last year.

DEPENDABLE USED CARS THOMPSON-LEACH CO.

Sales and Service

Dodge and Plymouth Cars Dodge 'Job-Rated' Trucks

120 E. Franklin St.

Phone 361

HOW MANY?

JUST COMMON SENSE!

Home security also means protection from risks of loss from fire and theft. Insure!

Be Assured---

---Be Insured

Phone 146

Lawrence J. Johnson

INSURANCE AGENCY

We can help You

Home Owners!

You Can Rely On

"Dutch Boy"

Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

For A Better Paint Job!

TOP QUALITY HOUSE PAINTS IN BRIGHT WHITE OR TINTS!

• Specially blended to look better longer!
• Bright white is self-cleaning—Rain washes dirt away!
• Ready-mixed Tints stay color-true!

To protect your investment and keep your house looking like new—use famous "Dutch Boy" paints! They're blended to perfection by expert paint chemists with 30 years experience in weather-testing paints! One gallon covers 600 sq. ft. Consult us about your needs now!

C-US-B-A-U-BUY!

Goeller's Paint Store

219 E. Main St.

Phone 546

NEED A LIFT?

Finance College Tuition With A Loan Here!

Of course you want your boy or girl to have their benefits of a college education—and if the approaching Fall term finds you short of cash to pay for it, why not let a loan see you through? You can borrow up to $1000 here in just a few minutes—AND merely on your signature. No co-signer needed. Low rates. Months to repay.

American Loan AND FINANCE CO.

120 E. Main St.

Phone 286

Child Problems and Solutions

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, PhD

Recently, we considered the importance of frequent letters from home to men and women in the armed forces. We concluded that if they are to hear from us as often as they should, we may have to drive ourselves, from a sense of duty, to write them frequently and regularly.

Now, "a sense of duty" has not had much place in our educational philosophy. It has been almost crowded out by such concepts as interest and expediency.

Yet on account of a sense of duty, many of our ablest citizens serve in a voluntary capacity on boards of all sorts of unselfish activities, public and private.

Consider the number of able men and women who are volunteers in civic, religious and character-building agencies—leaders of clubs, teachers in church schools and the like for boys and girls. Usually they give such services at the cost of considerable personal effort and sacrifice. Suppose these great servants among their fellows had no sense of duty!

BUT FOR A lingering sense of duty in the hearts of men and women, many churches and hospitals would close, attendance at church and Sunday school would shrink immeasurably, and far fewer citizens than at present would take the trouble to go to the polls and vote. Don't you sometimes go to church or a PTA meeting from a sense of duty?

Suppose you never felt a sense of duty about such matters. Suppose you and I never felt a sense of duty to our mates and children. You and I would really like to help our children grow up with a sense of duty, wouldn't we?

Except by example, it is not easy to inculcate in our growing children a sense of duty. But it would seem that the first essential to this end would be our consideration of its value. Why should we not try to bring it back as one of our goals, both in secular and religious education?

Returning to our writing letters to our sons and daughters in the armed forces, a sense of duty to these youths should spur us on to discipline ourselves to hold to a regular schedule.

By setting a good example ourselves, our growing children would be more likely to write their big sister, brother or father in the service with reasonable frequency and regularity. Such letter writing can best be made a family program where it is stimulated by a sense of duty. But in all our effort to induce our children to feel a sense of duty about any such matter, we need not only have a strong sense of duty ourselves and prove by our actions that we have; we need also to have provided such a family atmosphere for our children that they esteem us as persons. The greater their esteem for us, the more ready they are to emulate us and to act favorably on any of our suggestions. Therefore, genuine love and companionship in our homes can easily be felt by our loved ones in any part of the world.

Answering Parents' Questions

Q. My baby is 13 months of age and wants to feed himself with his bare hands. When I let him, he makes such a mess.

A. Don't worry about the mess. Think of helping him acquire a good appetite. He gains so much satisfaction from the self-activity that it makes eating attractive to him. Besides, he never puts into his mouth more of any food than he wants. My bulletin "Eating Problems" may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this paper.

Radio Free Asia Is Condemned By Hungarian Reds

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—A violent Communist propaganda tirade from Red Hungary's Radio Budapest today drew cheers in San Francisco.

The Budapest broadcast, quoting the leading Hungarian newspaper Szabad Nep, threw Soviet Communism's most damaging epithet—"Wall Street imperialism"—at Radio Free Asia, which only last month inaugurated broadcasts from San Francisco to the Red-dominated areas of the Far East.

It was Free Asia's first audience reaction.

In bitter words, the Hungarian broadcast denounced the privately sponsored Free Asia project as a Pied Piper plot to lure the people of Asia behind the doors of Wall Street.

It said that "airs on the flute about American friendship, freedom and the American way of life" were doomed to failure from the very outset.

George H. Greene Jr., president of the Committee for a Free Asia—of which Radio Free Asia is the broadcasting agent—pointed out that the Hungarian Red blast came only three weeks after broadcasts from San Francisco were first beamed toward Asia. He said:

"This violent attack indicates clearly the Soviet fear of truth breaking through the Iron Curtain to the people of the Far East.

"The greatest compliment that could be paid to Radio Free Asia and to the people of the free world is this quick and vicious attack by the Communists."

Horn Still Raps New Zoning Law

Boyd Horn, Circleville city councilman, still doesn't like all the provisions in a zoning ordinance passed last month by city council.

He told his legislative colleagues his feelings during Tuesday night's regular meeting of council.

But he received no sympathy. "It's too late now," Council President Pro Tem Ray Cook told him. "The ordinance has been passed."

Fresher Flowers

Tastefully arranged, with personal attention to large or small orders.

At BREHMER'S

JUST CALL 44

Bulbs from Holland Are Arriving Now

Benson Ford Predicts Atomic Cars In Future

DETROIT, Oct. 3.—The grandson of the late Henry Ford has predicted automobile of the future with atomic power plants and electronic and radar safety equipment.

He is Benson Ford, vice president of the Ford Motor Co. and general manager of the Lincoln-Mercury Division in Detroit.

Ford pointed out to the Society of Automotive Engineers meeting at the company's engineering laboratories, that the world's supply of oil is not inexhaustible and that total war might bring on a critical fuel shortage. Said Ford:

"Fortunately there are several possibilities opening up to us. One, of course, is atomic power; another is solar power." But he added:

"I have no idea as to how either of these giants could be harnessed to the type of automotive vehicle we're familiar with today."

"OFF HAND, it isn't hard to imagine what might be done with a smaller automotive power unit and less expensive operation. We might be able to design a roomy car that would still help solve the country's parking problem."

Ford also suggested that an electronic control might be attached to a car "in such a way that, when a collision is imminent, brakes would be applied automatically."

Other gadgets envisioned by Ford were a device—"possibly through a flashing light on the dashboard"—that would warn of a car approaching the other side of a curve, and another that would automatically dim an approaching car's bright lights.

Traffic Signal Due To Operate 18 Hours A Day

Circleville city council Tuesday decided to extend the operation of a traffic signal at the corner of Hayward and North Court streets to 18 hours a day.

The decision was made after Councilman E. L. Montgomery reported that residents of that area believe the signal has had a definite effect in controlling traffic. The light at present is operated only during school hours.

It was erected to provide protection for school children crossing North Court street on their way to Atwater school.

The solons instructed Safety Director C. O. Leist to have the traffic light operated from 6 a. m. to midnight.

A motion by Councilman Boyd Horn to have three other traffic lights operated 18 hours a day was lost. The lights are located at Mound and Clinton streets, Washington and Walnut streets, and Court and Walnut streets.

Election Set For Congressman

COLUMBUS, Oct. 3.—A primary election will be held Oct. 18 to select candidates to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Edward Breen of Dayton, congressman from the Third District.

Breen's successor will be elected at a special election Nov. 6, day of the general election. Breen's resignation because of ill health was accepted yesterday by Gov. Lausche.

The new representative will fill out the term for the old district including Montgomery, Butler and Preble Counties. The new congressional district of only Montgomery and Butler will become effective at the next congressional election.

Good Values count these days—

We point with pride to this one!

FERVAK by BIGELOW

Patterned to perfection in two Modern Leaf designs, FERVAK has always been one of Bigelow's most illustrious carpets. Now Bigelow carpet artists have created two stunning new designs—reflecting the timely trend toward muted patterns—lending themselves brilliantly to all types of decoration.

Being a Bigelow carpet you can rest assured that a FERVAK will wear—these hits-of-the-loom will add beauty to your floors for years. And LOOK what a small strain on the budget.

only $9.95 sq. yd.

BIGELOW Rugs - Carpets

Farley Believes Defense Effort Averts War

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., Oct. 3.—James A. Farley believes the national defense effort, although a heavy tax burden on industry and the individual, has averted any immediate danger of a third world war.

The former Democratic national chairman said in an interview that the defense program will insure comparative prosperity with full employment in 1952 and in the next few years.

He said heavy defense spending makes it necessary for those responsible in our government, both state and federal, to exert every effort toward economy.

Farley, who came to Swampscott for a meeting of New England bottlers, said:

"We must make up our minds that if we want to continue our way of life we must fight for it before it is too late."

He said Russia realizes the development we have made in the use of atomic power, and development of this and our general military strength will help prevent hostilities.

Cleveland Picks Mayor Nominees

CLEVELAND, Oct. 3.—Three-time Mayor Thomas A. Burke and Juvenile Court Judge William J. McDermott will oppose each other Nov. 6 in the race for mayor of Cleveland.

Burke, a Democrat, and McDermott, Republican, were nominated yesterday in a primary election that attracted less than 120,000 voters.

The 52-year-old chief executive and the 53-year-old challenger beat out Municipal Judge Charles A. Vanik, a 39-year-old Democrat. Burke received a total of 50,893 votes, McDermott 38,478 and Vanik 26,002.

THE WEATHER

Stations	High	Low
Akron, O.	81	57
Bismarck, N. Dak.	72	50
Buffalo, N. Y.	75	53
Burbank, Calif.	70	61
Chicago, Ill.	84	63
Cincinnati, O.	83	55
Cleveland, O.	84	63
Dayton, O.	82	57
Denver, Colo.	76	49
Detroit, Mich.	83	61
Duluth, Minn.	51	46
El Paso, Tex.	99	73
Huntington, W. Va.	87	52
Indianapolis, Ind.	84	54
Kansas City, Mo.	86	57
Louisville, Ky.	85	54
Miami, Fla.	85	73
Minneapolis, St. Paul	83	61
New Orleans, La.	87	66
Oklahoma City, Okla.	96	68
Pittsburgh, Pa.	83	60
Washington	83	59

SUNDAES MILK SHAKES MALTS CONES QUARTS and PINTS

—Also— SANDWICHES (JOE and EMMA'S)

DAIRY TREE DRIVE-INN

N. Court St. — Opposite Cemetery

MASON FURNITURE

121-23 N. Court St. Phone 225

Lowan Doubts Age Of Fire Truck Tires

There's a skeptic in the land, a man who just can't believe all the things he reads about Circleville.

Wayne Harbour of Bedford, Iowa, finds it difficult, for instance, to swallow the story about a fire truck in Circleville which used the same set of tires for 21 years.

Interesting, he said in a letter to Fire Chief Talmor Wise, but is it correct? His information about the tires came from a Ripley Believe It Or Not feature, used in many papers throughout the nation.

Chief Wise said he has answered the query affirming the fact. The tires were used on the fire department's old Seagrave fire engine. They were replaced recently, after 21 years of use, because the casings were getting near the danger stage.

save TIME and MONEY

TIMKEN Silent Automatic OIL HEAT

JOE CHRISTY Plumbing & Heating

508 S. COURT ST. PHONE 889-M

FREE SURVEYS and ESTIMATES

OIL BURNERS • OIL FURNACES • OIL BOILERS • WATER HEATERS

LOOKING for a LOAN?

What a bother . . . a waste of time . . . so unnecessary, too . . . considering how simply you can arrange a 1-TRIP Loan.

Just give us a call, say "how much" and "when" . . . complete the loan the first time you come in. Nearly everybody can qualify . . . your signature alone, car or furniture the only security needed.

$25 to $1000 in 1-trip

121 E. Main St. Phone 46

Economy SAVINGS AND LOAN CO.

THE FRIENDLY LOAN COMPANY Loans Made In Nearby Towns Open Evenings By Appointment Charles L. Richards, Mgr.

GET MORE FOR YOUR TRACTOR DOLLAR

GET A... Ford TRACTOR

It gives you...

- POWER
- EASY HANDLING
- ECONOMY
- LOW SERVICE COST
- LONG LIFE
- HIGH RESALE VALUE

Power—Talk about power . . . ask for a demonstration on your own farm—see how the Ford Tractor handles a 12" or 14" two-bottom plow.

Economy—Plenty of performance on the hard jobs, yet the Ford Tractor doesn't pack around expensive excess built-in weight on light jobs.

Long Life—The Ford Tractor is built to high Ford precision standards . . . an important assurance of long life.

Easy Handling—You'll never know how easy to handle a tractor can be until you operate the Ford Tractor. We are anxious for you to demonstrate this feature to yourself.

Low Service Cost—Our parts prices are reasonable. What's more, the Ford Tractor is easy to maintain and repair. Specially trained mechanics save labor time.

High Resale Value—When you trade in a Ford Tractor you get a "premium" price. It's a popular tractor, built in the popular two-plow size.

Ask for a Demonstration delivered price ONLY $1398⁵⁰ UP TO 24 MONTHS TO PAY Satisfy Yourself it's today's best Tractor Buy

Dearborn FARM EQUIPMENT

Bowers Tractor Sales

Circleville Phone 193 Laurelvile Phone 511 Clarksburg Phone 4411

Child Problems and Solutions

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, PhD

Recently, we considered the importance of frequent letters from home to men and women in the armed forces. We concluded that if they are to hear from us as often as they should, we may have to drive ourselves, from a sense of duty, to write them frequently and regularly.

Now, "a sense of duty" has not had much place in our educational philosophy. It has been almost crowded out by such concepts as interest and expediency.

Yet on account of a sense of duty, many of our ablest citizens serve in a voluntary capacity on boards of all sorts of unselfish activities, public and private.

Consider the number of able men and women who are volunteers in civic, religious and character-building agencies—leaders of clubs, teachers in church schools and the like for boys and girls. Usually they give such services at the cost of considerable personal effort and sacrifice. Suppose these great servants among their fellows had no sense of duty!

BUT FOR A lingering sense of duty in the hearts of men and

Radio Free Asia Is Condemned By Hungarian Reds

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3—A violent Communist propaganda tirade from Red Hungary's Radio Budapest today drew cheers in San Francisco.

The Budapest broadcast, quoting the leading Hungarian newspaper Szabad Nep, threw Soviet Communism's most damaging epithet—"Wall Street imperialism"—at Radio Free Asia, which only last month inaugurated broadcasts from San Francisco to the Red-dominated areas of the Far East.

It was Free Asia's first audience reaction.

In bitter words, the Hungarian broadcast denounced the privately sponsored Free Asia project as a Pied Piper plot to lure the people of Asia behind the colors of Wall Street.

It said that "airs on the flute about American friendship, freedom and the American way of life" were doomed to failure from the very outset.

George H. Greene Jr., president of the Committee for a Free Asia—of which Radio Free Asia is the broadcasting agent—pointed out that the Hungarian Red blast came only three weeks after broadcasts from San Francisco were first beamed toward Asia. He said:

"This violent attack indicates clearly the Soviet fear of truth breaking through the Iron Curtain to the people of the Far East.

"The greatest compliment that could be paid to Radio Free Asia and to the people of the free world is this quick and vicious attack by the Communists."

Horn Still Raps New Zoning Law

Boyd Horn, Circleville city councilman, still doesn't like all the provisions in a zoning ordinance passed last month by city council.

He told his legislative colleagues his feelings during Tuesday night's regular meeting of council.

But he received no sympathy. "It's too late now," Council President Pro Tem Ray Cook told him. "The ordinance has been passed."

Fresher Flowers

Tastefully arranged, with personal attention to large or small orders.

At

BREHMER'S

JUST CALL 44

Bulbs from Holland Are Arriving Now

Benson Ford Predicts Atomic Cars In Future

DETROIT, Oct. 3—The grandson of the late Henry Ford has predicted automobile of the future with atomic power plants and electronic and radar safety equipment.

He is Benson Ford, vice president of the Ford Motor Co. and general manager of the Lincoln-Mercury Division in Detroit.

Ford pointed out to the Society of Automotive Engineers meeting at the company's engineering laboratories, that the world's supply of oil is not inexhaustible and that total war might bring on a critical fuel shortage. Said Ford:

"Fortunately there are several possibilities opening up to us. One, of course, is atomic power; another is solar power."

But he added:

"I have no idea as to how either of these giants could be harnessed to the type of automotive vehicle we're familiar with today."

"OFF HAND, it isn't hard to imagine what might be done with a smaller automotive power unit and less expensive operation. We might be able to design a roomy car that would still help solve the country's parking problem."

Ford also suggested that an electronic control might be attached to a car "in such a way that, when a collision is imminent, brakes would be applied automatically."

Other gadgets envisioned by Ford were a device—"possibly through a flashing light on the dashboard"—that would warn of a car approaching the other side of a curve, and another that would automatically dim an approaching car's bright lights.

Traffic Signal Due To Operate 18 Hours A Day

Circleville city council Tuesday decided to extend the operation of a traffic signal at the corner of Hayward and North Court streets to 18 hours a day.

The decision was made after Councilman E. L. Montgomery reported that residents of that area believe the signal has had a definite effect in controlling traffic. The light at present is operated only during school hours.

It was erected to provide protection for school children crossing North Court street on their way to Atwater school.

The solons instructed Safety Director C. O. Leist to have the traffic light operated from 6 a. m. to midnight.

A motion by Councilman Boyd Horn to have three other traffic lights operated 18 hours a day was lost. The lights are located at Mound and Clinton streets, Washington and Walnut streets, and Court and Walnut streets.

Elinor Williams' Teen Tips

If you're off on a shopping spree for back-to-school clothes, here are a few words to the wise from a department store operator.

He points out that there'll be less mid-winter regret over fall shopping mistakes and fewer wails of "nothing to wear" if you follow these simple tips:

1. If you insist on shopping along, buy in stores where merchandise is exchangeable. Develop your own taste, but let your mother rule on practicality; she knows more about fabrics than you do.
2. Don't be an eager beaver. Spread your shopping over several days, setting aside one for school clothes, one for party togs, etc.
3. Make a list of what you need and don't sacrifice useful clothing for novelty outfits that will go out of style in a month.
4. Don't splurge on dreamy party clothes. You'll wear the dress only a few times so don't sacrifice durable everyday duds for it.
5. Cultivate your individual style. Don't shop with a group of friends and spend your money playing follow the leader. Buy what suits you and you'll enjoy wearing it throughout the year.
6. Try a little self-analysis. Decide what your best colors are and stick to them. Buy clothes that make the most of the best features of your face and figure.
7. Look ahead! Select clothes that will be serviceable through the school year instead of things that are fine today and inappropriate tomorrow.
8. Although your wardrobe should be based on your own taste, don't disdain the advice of your salesgirl. Most "teen-age" and junior department salespeople are specially selected for their knowledge of school fashions and can help you.

For a free leaflet "Fashions and Your Figure," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Elinor Williams at this paper.

Farley Believes Defense Effort Averts War

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., Oct. 3—James A. Farley believes the national defense effort, although a heavy tax burden on industry and the individual, has averted any immediate danger of a third world war.

The former Democratic national chairman said in an interview that the defense program will insure comparative prosperity with full employment in 1952 and in the next few years.

He said heavy defense spending makes it necessary for those responsible in our government, both state and federal, to exert every effort toward economy.

Farley, who came to Swampscott for a meeting of New England bottlers, said:

"We must make up our minds that if we want to continue our way of life we must fight for it before it is too late."

He said Russia realizes the development we have made in the use of atomic power, and development of this and our general military strength will help prevent hostilities.

Cleveland Picks Mayor Nominees

CLEVELAND, Oct. 3—Three-time Mayor Thomas A. Burke and Juvenile Court Judge William J. McDermott will oppose each other Nov. 6 in the race for mayor of Cleveland.

Burke, a Democrat, and McDermott, Republican, were nominated yesterday in a primary election that attracted less than 120,000 voters.

The 52-year-old chief executive and the 53-year-old challenger beat out Municipal Judge Charles A. Vanik, a 39-year-old Democrat. Vanik received a total of 50,893 votes, McDermott 38,478 and Vanik 26,002.

SUNDAES

MILK SHAKES

MALTS

CONES

QUARTS and PINTS

—Also—

SANDWICHES

(JOE and EMMA'S)

DAIRY TREET DRIVE-INN

N. Court St. — Opposite Cemetery

Bombs Tossed At Gamblers

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Oct. 3—Sheriff C. L. Barricklow today said two home-made bombs have been tossed recently at two Belaire gamblers and one was accompanied with a $50,000 extortion note.

Sheriff Barricklow said one of the intended victims was Andy Vusky, 55, an admitted retired bookmaker. The sheriff declined to identify the second.

One bomb, eight sticks of dynamite tied together to an alarm clock and battery, failed to detonate and was taken to the State Bureau of Criminal Investigation at the London Prison Farm.

Nicholas Gets 'Good Wishes'

Circleville city council Tuesday expressed its good wishes for Council Clerk Fred Nicholas and gratitude for his long and efficient services in council.

The legislators instructed City Solicitor George Gerhardt to make their feelings known in a letter to Nicholas, who is a patient in Mt. Carmel hospital, Columbus. He underwent surgery last week.

Gerhardt acted as temporary clerk during the meeting Tuesday.

THE WEATHER

Stations	High	Low
Akron, O.	81	57
Bismarck, N. Dak.	72	50
Buffalo, N. Y.	75	53
Burbank, Calif.	70	61
Chicago, Ill.	84	63
Cincinnati, O.	83	55
Cleveland, O.	84	63
Dayton, O.	82	57
Denver, Colo.	76	49
Detroit, Mich.	83	61
Duluth, Minn.	51	46
Ft. Worth, Tex.	99	73
Huntington, W. Va.	87	52
Indianapolis, Ind.	84	54
Kansas City, Mo.	86	57
Louisville, Ky.	85	54
Memphis, Tenn.	85	73
Minneapolis and St. Paul	83	61
New Orleans, La.	87	66
Oklahoma City, Okla.	96	68
Pittsburgh, Pa.	83	60
Washington	83	59

Iowan Doubts Age Of Fire Truck Tires

There's a skeptic in the land, a man who just can't believe all the things he reads about Circleville.

Wayne Harbour of Bedford, Iowa, finds it difficult, for instance, to swallow the story about a fire truck in Circleville which used the same set of tires for 21 years.

Interesting, he said in a letter to Fire Chief Talmer Wise, but is it correct? His information about the tires came from a Ripley Believe It Or Not feature, used in many papers throughout the nation.

Chief Wise said he has answered the query affirming the fact. The tires were used on the fire department's old Seagrave fire engine. They were replaced recently, after 21 years of use, because the casings were getting near the danger stage.

Save TIME and MONEY

TIMKEN Silent Automatic OIL HEAT

JOE CHRISTY Plumbing & Heating

508 S. COURT ST. PHONE 889-M

FREE SURVEYS AND ESTIMATES

OIL BURNERS • OIL FURNACES • OIL BOILERS • WATER HEATERS

LOOKING for a LOAN?

What a bother... a waste of time... so unnecessary, too... considering how simply you can arrange a 1-TRIP Loan.

Just give us a call, say "how much" and "when"... complete the loan the first time you come in. Nearly everybody can qualify... your signature alone, car or furniture the only security needed.

$25 to $1000

in 1-trip

121 E. Main St. Phone 46

Economy SAVINGS AND LOAN CO.

THE FRIENDLY LOAN COMPANY

Loans Made In Nearby Towns

Open Evenings By Appointment

Charles L. Richards, Mgr.

GET MORE FOR YOUR TRACTOR DOLLAR

GET A... Ford TRACTOR

It gives you...

- POWER
- EASY HANDLING
- ECONOMY
- LOW SERVICE COST
- LONG LIFE
- HIGH RESALE VALUE

Power—Talk about power... ask for a demonstration on your own farm—see how the Ford Tractor handles a 12" or 14" two-bottom plow.

Economy—Plenty of performance on the hard jobs, yet the Ford Tractor doesn't pack around expensive excess built-in weight on light jobs.

Long Life—The Ford Tractor is built to high Ford precision standards... an important assurance of long life.

Easy Handling—You'll never know how easy to handle a tractor can be until you operate the Ford Tractor. We are anxious for you to demonstrate this feature to yourself.

Low Service Cost—Our parts prices are reasonable. What's more, the Ford Tractor is easy to maintain and repair. Specially trained mechanics save labor time.

High Resale Value—When you trade in a Ford Tractor you get a "premium" price. It's a popular tractor, built in the popular two-plow size.

Ask for a demonstration delivered price ONLY

$1398.50

UP TO 24 MONTHS TO PAY

Satisfy Yourself at Today's Best Tractor Buy

Dearborn FARM EQUIPMENT

Bowers Tractor Sales

Circleville Phone 193

Laurelville Phone 511

Clarksburg Phone 411

Good Values count these days—

We point with pride to this one!

FERVAK by BIGELOW

Patterned to perfection in two Modern Leaf designs, FERVAK has always been one of Bigelow's most illustrious carpets. Now Bigelow carpet artists have created two stunning new designs—reflecting the timely trend toward muted patterns—lending themselves brilliantly to all types of decoration.

Being a Bigelow carpet you can rest assured that a FERVAK will wear—these hits-of-the-loom will add beauty to your floors for years. And LOOK what a small strain on the budget.

$9.95 only sq. yd.

MASON FURNITURE

121-23 N. Court St. Phone 225

CLASSIFIED ADS

Classified Ad Rates

To order a classified ad just telephone and ask for an ad-taker. She will quote rates and help you write your ad. Write your ad to The Circleville Herald if you prefer.

WORD RATE

Per word one insertion 5c
Per word 2 consecutive insertions 10c
Per word 3 consecutive insertions 15c
Per word 4 consecutive insertions 20c
Per word 5 consecutive insertions 25c
Per word 6 consecutive insertions 30c
Per word 7 consecutive insertions 35c
Per word 8 consecutive insertions 40c
Per word 9 consecutive insertions 45c
Per word 10 consecutive insertions 50c
Per word 11 consecutive insertions 55c
Per word 12 consecutive insertions 60c
Per word 13 consecutive insertions 65c
Per word 14 consecutive insertions 70c
Per word 15 consecutive insertions 75c
Per word 16 consecutive insertions 80c
Per word 17 consecutive insertions 85c
Per word 18 consecutive insertions 90c
Per word 19 consecutive insertions 95c
Per word 20 consecutive insertions 1.00

Obituaries, $1.50 minimum.
Cards of Thanks $1.00 per insertion.
75 word maximum on obituaries and cards of thanks. Each additional word 5 cents.

Publisher reserves the right to edit or reject all classified advertising copy. Ads ordered for more than one time and cancelled before expiration will only be charged for the number of times the ad appears and adjustments made at the rate earned. Publishers reserve the right to classify ads under the appropriate headings.

Classified ads must be in the office before 2:30 p. m. the day before publication.

Employment

WHITE BOYS WANTED 13 TO 16
COMMISSION $1 PER HOUR
See Mr. Brinker, American Hotel, Saturday morning 9 to 11.

TELEVISION service man wanted. Good starting salary and advancement with established concern. References required. Write 10x 1745 c-o Herald.

WANTED—Man or woman part time investigator for prominent national organization. Not a detective agency. Opportunity for advancement. Income with minimum of time required. References required. Write PO Box 440, Circleville, Ohio.

AN AVON territory is available for woman in Circleville, one in Amanda and one in S. Bloomfield area. Write Dist. Mgr. Ruth D. Jenkins, c-o Box 222 Washington C. H.

MAN wanted for laundry route. Inq. Porter Laundry and Dry Cleaning N. Court.

HELP wanted—steady year 'round work, good wages. Evergreen Vegetable Gardens, 1 1/2 miles northwest Circleville on Island Road.

MAN with sawmill wanted to cut 20 acres timber. Write Mr. Smith, WA 2258 or write 57 E. Fourth Ave., Columbus.

SALESMAN WANTED
Good opportunity for men who desire to learn to sell. Opportunities available at present.

ELECTROLUX CORP.
1385 N. High St., Columbus OH 4187
Apply between 8 and 10 a. m.
Evenings call KI 8925

Real Estate For Sale

N. COURT ST. MODERN
2-story frame; 4 rms and lavatory down; 2 bdrms and bath up; big basement with stone fireplace; storm doors, insulated with double siding; house in A-1 condition—$15,000; shown by appointment.
MACK D. PARRETT
214 E. Main St.—Phone 303

5 ROOM house with 2 extra lots, gas, water, electricity in house $4000 for quick sale. Contact Wm. J. Thomas, 1145 Gregg St., Washington C. H. Phone 4-7772.

17 ACRE farm, 5 room house, good buildings, on Rt. 138, 6 miles from Circleville or will trade for city property. Ph. 2031 Williamsport ex.

I HAVE farms in Pickaway, Fayette, Ross and Highland Counties.
B. S. (TIM) MILLAR, Broker
Ph. 9522

Central Ohio Farms
City Properties
4 Percent Farm Loans
DONALD H. WATKINS
1121 N. Court St.
Circleville, Ohio
Phone 70 and after 5 p. m. 342-R

Farms—City Property—Loans
W. D. HEISKELL, Realtor
Wm. D. Heiskell Jr., Salesman
Williamsport, Ohio
Phones Office 27 Residence 28

ADKINS REALTY
Bob Adkins, Salesman
Call 14, 565, 117V
Masonic Temple

FARMS AND CITY PROPERTY
4 Percent Farm Loans
GEORGE C. BARNES

Personal

GAS, belching or constipation relieved by Carica-Bile Tablets by promoting flow of bile. 100 Tablets 98c at Circleville Rexall Drugs.

FOOTPRINTS left behind don't mind, clean the rug with Fina Foam Harpster and Yost.

MRS. BROWN have you found moths in your home? Stop them with Berol. Five year guarantee. Griffith Floor covering.

Wanted To Rent

APARTMENT, 3 or 4 rooms, unfurnished. Can give good references. Write box 1744 c-o Herald.

Wanted to Buy

USED FURNITURE
WEAVER FURNITURE
189 W. Main St. Phone 210

GOOD yellow corn. Will pay a premium. Lloyd Reiterman and Son, Kingston, Ph. 6484.

DIRECTORY BUSINESS

Detailed Reference to Business Facilities of Circleville

DAIRY PRODUCTS DEALERS

PICKAWAY DAIRY ASSN
Pickaway Butter Phone 28

ELECTRIC APPLIANCES

PETTIT'S
130 S. Court St. Phone 214

LOCKER PLANT

CINCINNATI FAST FREEZE
P. J. Griffin, owner-operator
161 Edison Ave. Phone 133

RETAIL LUMBER DEALERS

CINCINNATI LUMBER CO.
150 Edison Ave. Phone 209

VETERINARIANS

DR. C. W. CROMLEY—M. RAGELY
Pet Hospital—Boarding—X-Ray
Phone 4, Ashville

DR. FLOYD P. DUNLAP
45 N. Court St. Phone 210

DR. PAUL E. FENSTERMAKER
Ph. 2, Williamsport Ohio

DR. WELLS M. WILSON
Phone 1936, 117 V, Circleville

Articles for Sale

WINTER Barley and Rye, Ph. 157 Ashville ex. T. Leroy Cromley.

SEVERAL good used refrigerators, guaranteed $50 up. Lovelace Electric Co., 136 W. Main St. Ph. 404

OLIVER and NEW IDEA Sales and Service
BECKETT IMPLEMENT CO.
119 E. Franklin

LARGE selection genuine leather binders with zipper, $1.95 up. Initiation leather $1.25 and $1.75—stiff board 25c to 60c, also pencil boxes, pens, crayons, notebooks, labels, type and filler papers at Cards, 236 E. Franklin St. Open evenings.

COAL for sale—also do corn hauling. Raymond Myers, Ph. 773R.

SEE Lovelace Electric for Softener Salt 100 lb. bags, 136 W. Main St. Ph. 408.

D. A. MARSHALL AND SONS
Hereford Stock Cattle
Phone 5005

2 USED Coleman oil floor furnaces, traded for gas furnaces—several good used Coleman oil heaters—guaranteed satisfaction, priced reasonable. Blue Furniture Store, W. Main St. Phone 105.

DID YOU know you can buy a genuine Schwinn built bicycle at $3.99 down $1.50 week at B. F. Goodrich Co., 115 E. Main Street

COAL
Lump and stoker, Edward Starkey. Phone 622R.

TOP DAIRY COWS
Fresh and close up springers. Registered and grade Cows and Heifers.
PETE BOWAN—Phone 4040

IN DEAR "dread" days beyond recall, housewives waxed linoleum. Now they use Glaxo. Harpster and Yost.

ED HELWAGEN
PONTIAC AGENCY
400 N. Court St. Phone 843

DEAN AND BARRY PAINTS
COMPLETE LINE
GOELLER PAINT STORE
219 E. Main St. Phone 546

Jones Implement
YOUR ALLIS-CHALMERS DEALER
Sales and Service—Phone 7081
Open 7 to 9 Daily
KINGSTON, O.

DUO-THRM Heating Stoves
GOODYEAR TIRES
MAC'S
113 E. Main St. Phone 689

Concrete Blocks
Ready Mixed Concrete
Brick and Tile
Truscon Steel Windows
Basement Sash
Allied Building Materials BASIC Construction Materials
E. Corwin St. Phone 461

LENNOX FURNACES
Installed—Cleaned Repaired
AUTOMATIC HEATING
GAS — OIL — COAL
Good, Reasonable, Dependable
Heating Since 1938
BOB LITTER'S
Fuel and Heating Co.
163 W. Main St. Phone 821

Massey-Harris
Self-Propelled 2-Row
Corn Pickers

Universal and Palsgrove Crop
Elevator
All Sizes

New F. & L. All-Steel
Corn Crib
700 Bu., 1025 Bu. and 1366 Bu.

KINGSTON SALES & SERVICE
Your Massey-Harris Dealer
Phone 8441 Open Evenings
Kingston, Ohio

Money Doesn't Grow On Corn Stalks

And you save a lot of it on fuel bills, by ordering your fuel oil now at lower prices. You'll be ready for that first Autumn frost too. Delivery at your convenience. Call 158.

Thos. Rader and Son
701 S. Pickaway
Phone 601

YOU'LL BE THANKFUL FOR THAT TANK FULL

The Circleville Oil Co.
301 N. Court St.

COAL

Riding Into
Winter

Cold weather is not far away and it is unwise to delay ordering your Winter coal. Place your order now and be prepared for the first cold snap.

Thos. Rader and Son
701 S. Pickaway
Phone 601

COAL

Riding Into
Winter

Cold weather is not far away and it is unwise to delay ordering your Winter coal. Place your order now and be prepared for the first cold snap.

Thos. Rader and Son
701 S. Pickaway
Phone 601

COAL

Riding Into
Winter

Cold weather is not far away and it is unwise to delay ordering your Winter coal. Place your order now and be prepared for the first cold snap.

Thos. Rader and Son
701 S. Pickaway
Phone 601

COAL

Riding Into
Winter

Cold weather is not far away and it is unwise to delay ordering your Winter coal. Place your order now and be prepared for the first cold snap.

Thos. Rader and Son
701 S. Pickaway
Phone 601

COAL

Riding Into
Winter

Cold weather is not far away and it is unwise to delay ordering your Winter coal. Place your order now and be prepared for the first cold snap.

Thos. Rader and Son
701 S. Pickaway
Phone 601

COAL

Riding Into
Winter

Cold weather is not far away and it is unwise to delay ordering your Winter coal. Place your order now and be prepared for the first cold snap.

Thos. Rader and Son
701 S. Pickaway
Phone 601

COAL

Riding Into
Winter

Cold weather is not far away and it is unwise to delay ordering your Winter coal. Place your order now and be prepared for the first cold snap.

Thos. Rader and Son
701 S. Pickaway
Phone 601

COAL

Riding Into
Winter

Cold weather is not far away and it is unwise to delay ordering your Winter coal. Place your order now and be prepared for the first cold snap.

Thos. Rader and Son
701 S. Pickaway
Phone 601

COAL

Riding Into
Winter

Cold weather is not far away and it is unwise to delay ordering your Winter coal. Place your order now and be prepared for the first cold snap.

Thos. Rader and Son
701 S. Pickaway
Phone 601

COAL

Riding Into
Winter

Cold weather is not far away and it is unwise to delay ordering your Winter coal. Place your order now and be prepared for the first cold snap.

Thos. Rader and Son
701 S. Pickaway
Phone 601

COAL

Riding Into
Winter

Cold weather is not far away and it is unwise to delay ordering your Winter coal. Place your order now and be prepared for the first cold snap.

Thos. Rader and Son
701 S. Pickaway
Phone 601

COAL

Riding Into
Winter

Cold weather is not far away and it is unwise to delay ordering your Winter coal. Place your order now and be prepared for the first cold snap.

Thos. Rader and Son
701 S. Pickaway
Phone 601

COAL

Riding Into
Winter

Cold weather is not far away and it is unwise to delay ordering your Winter coal. Place your order now and be prepared for the first cold snap.

Thos. Rader and Son
701 S. Pickaway
Phone 601

COAL

Riding Into
Winter

Cold weather is not far away and it is unwise to delay ordering your Winter coal. Place your order now and be prepared for the first cold snap.

Thos. Rader and Son
701 S. Pickaway
Phone 601

COAL

Riding Into
Winter

Cold weather is not far away and it is unwise to delay ordering your Winter coal. Place your order now and be prepared for the first cold snap.

Thos. Rader and Son
701 S. Pickaway
Phone 601

COAL

Riding Into
Winter

Business Service

DRESBACH TRACTOR SALES
Whisler, Ohio (Your Ferguson Dealer)
N. of Hallsville, Ph. 2382 Hallsville.

TERMITES???

These destructive pests work in secret and may be destroying your home NOW. Our method exterminates immediately and guarantees immunity for years to come. For a free inspection by a specialist see

Harpster & Yost Hardware
107 E. Main St. Phone 136

WATER WELL DRILLING
Phone 70 Williamsport ex.
LINKOUS BROS.

PLASTERING
Stucco and Paper Steaming
new and repair
GEORGE R. RAMEY
73 S. Scioto St. Ph. 313Y

CLARINET, reconditioned—Mac Wolfe owner, inq. Harrison Wolfe Rt. 1 Ph. 2825 Kingston ex.

AZALEUMS, Button's English Pom Poms, Spider and Exhibition type mums are for sale 50c up at 574 N. Pickaway St.

1946 Hudson for sale, 6 cyl. sedan $450 full price. Al Campbell Rt. 4 Circleville

WELL rooted hedge—enough to plant 30 to 40 feet. Phone 1030.

7 LADIES dresses, suede jacket, light weight coat size 16 to 20, man's suit size 38. Phone 1869.

CHINA closet—Philo cabinet radio will sell outright or trade for office desk. Ph. 155.

9 WEANED pigs. Ph. 4056.

SUPERIOR wheat drill 12-7 power lift. A. A. Leist Ph. 1656.

BY OWNER—1948 Chevrolet for sale, excellent condition inside and out. Phone 2861 Williamsport ex.

1937 Chevrolet coupe, runs good $100. Ph. 2102 after 6.

WHY WORRY if affected with any skin disease. Ask about V-J-O at Circleville Rexall Drugs.

TROY wagon and bed, good condition. Phone 1604, Mrs. Turney Pontious.

SEVERAL good used coal heating stoves—good makes—priced to sell. Blue Furniture.

IRON Fireman Unit Heatmaker size 400 in good condition. Thermostatically controlled with Stoker and forced air circulating fan. 100,000 B. T. U. hourly capacity, about the size of the average furnace. THE BELT CORP. ORATION, Orient, Ohio. Ask for Mr. Selmer.

Modern 2 room house trailer. John Isaac, E. Ohio St.

16" ESTATE Hotrola; Oak heater 217; Bendix automatic washer—reasonably priced. Ph. 87.

STAY on good terms with your dog—feed him Dogburger from Cremen's Chick Store.

FREE—Laundry Tubs with each new washer. Morris Good Housekeeping, 11 E. Main St., Chillicothe.

SUPERIOR wheat drill, Brown wagon, Erving Beougher, Ph. 154 Laurelville ex.

HOME made bread, rolls and pies. Call 3953 to order.

YOU will find Berol the best moth spray you've ever used. One spraying guaranteed for five whole years. Griffith Floor covering.

REGISTERED Hereford Bulls sired by OON Com Jr. out of Ohio State University Champion Bull. John P. Courtright Farm 6 miles E. of Ashville. Phone Guy Hartley 36R12 Ashville ex.

STORKLINE baby crib; Evans oil heater 100, 235 N. Scioto St. Ph. 569M.

SPRINGS, starters, generators, batteries, cyl. heads, mufflers for your car at savings. Circleville Iron and Metal Co. Phone 3R.

USED Refrigerators from $35 up. Gordon's, W. Main at Scioto. Phone 297.

USED CARS & TRUCKS
The Harden Chevrolet Co.
Your Chevrolet Dealer Since 1928
132 E. Franklin. Phone 522

BLACKSTONE
WASHERS AND DRYERS

GOODYEAR BATTERIES
MAC'S
113 E. Main. Phone 689

USED CARS & TRUCKS
The Harden Chevrolet Co.
Your Chevrolet Dealer Since 1928
132 E. Franklin. Phone 522

BLACKSTONE
WASHERS AND DRYERS

GOODYEAR BATTERIES
MAC'S
113 E. Main. Phone 689

USED CARS & TRUCKS
The Harden Chevrolet Co.
Your Chevrolet Dealer Since 1928
132 E. Franklin. Phone 522

BLACKSTONE
WASHERS AND DRYERS

GOODYEAR BATTERIES
MAC'S
113 E. Main. Phone 689

USED CARS & TRUCKS
The Harden Chevrolet Co.
Your Chevrolet Dealer Since 1928
132 E. Franklin. Phone 522

BLACKSTONE
WASHERS AND DRYERS

GOODYEAR BATTERIES
MAC'S
113 E. Main. Phone 689

USED CARS & TRUCKS
The Harden Chevrolet Co.
Your Chevrolet Dealer Since 1928
132 E. Franklin. Phone 522

BLACKSTONE
WASHERS AND DRYERS

GOODYEAR BATTERIES
MAC'S
113 E. Main. Phone 689

CLASSIFIED ADS

Classified Ad Rates

To order a classified ad just telephone 722 and ask for an ad-taker. She will quote rates and help you write your ad. You may mail your ad to The Circleville Herald if you prefer.

Per word one insertion 5c
Per word 3 consecutive 15c
Per word 6 consecutive 20c
Minimum charge, one time 60c
Obituaries, $1.50 minimum
Cards of Thanks $1.00 per insertion.
75 word maximum on obituaries and cards of thanks. Each additional word 5 cents.

Publisher reserves the right to edit or reject all classified advertising copy. Ads ordered for more than one time and cancelled before expiration will only be charged for the number of times the ad appears and adjustments made at the rate earned. Publishers reserve the right to classify ads under the appropriate headings.

Publishers are responsible for only one incorrect insertion of an ad. Out of town advertising must be cash with the order.

Classified ads must be in the Herald office before 2:30 p. m. the day before publication.

Employment

WHITE BOYS WANTED 13 to 16 COMMISSION $1 PER HOUR See Mr. Brinker, American Hotel, Saturday morning 9 to 11. —ad.

TELEVISION service man wanted. Good starting salary and advancement with established concern. References required. Write to 1745-c-o Herald.

WANTED—Man or woman part time investigator for prominent national organization. Not a detective agency. Opportunity to supplement income with minimum of time required. References required. Write PO Box 440, Circleville, Ohio.

AN AVON territory is available for man in Circleville, one in Amanda and one in S. Bloomfield area. Write Dist. Mgr. Ruth D. Jenkins, c-o Box 222 Washington, C. H.

MAN wanted for laundry route. Inq. Porter Laundry and Dry Cleaning N. Court.

HELP wanted—steady year round work, good wages and benefits. Table Gardens, 1 1/2 miles northwest Circleville on Island Road.

MAN with sawmill wanted to cut 30 acres timber. Call V. Smith WA 8258 or write 57 E. Fourth Ave., Columbus.

SALESMAN WANTED Good opportunity for men who desire to learn to sell. Openings available at present.

ELECTROLUX CORP. 1365 N. High St., Columbus UN 4187. Apply between 8 and 10 a. m. Evenings call KI 8026.

Real Estate For Sale

N. COURT ST. MODERN 2-story Frame, 4 Rooms and lavatory down, 2 b.d.-rms and bath up. Ige basement with stoker fired furnace, storm doors, insulated walls. Call 114-565, 117 E. Main St., Washington C. H.

MACK D. PARRETT 214 E. Main St.—Phone 303

5 ROOM house with 2 extra lots, gas, water, electricity in house $1600 for quick sale. Contact Wm. J. Thomas, 1145 Gregg St., Washington C. H. Phone 4-7772.

17 ACRE farm, 5 room house, good buildings, on Rt. 138, 6 miles from Circleville or will trade for city property. Ph. 2031 Williamsport ex.

1 HAVE farms in Pickaway, Fayette, Ross and Highland Counties. B. S. (TIM) MILLAR, Broker Ph. 95122 Ashville

Central Ohio Farms City Properties 4 Percent Farm Loans DONALD H. WATT, Realtor 112 1/2 N. Court St. Circleville, Ohio Phone 70 and after 5 p. m. 342-R

Farms—City Property—Loans W. D. HEISKELL, Realtor Wm. D. Heiskell Jr., Salesman Williamsport, Ohio. Phones: Office 27 Residence 28

ADKINS REALTY Bob Adkins, Salesman Call 114-565, 117 E. Main St. Masonic Temple

FARMS AND CITY PROPERTY 4 Percent Farm Loans GEORGE C. BARNES

PERSONAL GAS, belching or constipation relieved by Carica-Bile Tablets by promoting flow of bile. Carica-Bile Tablets 98c at Circleville Rexall Drugs.

FOOTPRINTS left behind don't mind, clean the rug with Fina Foam Harpster and Yost.

MRS. BROWN have you found mother in your home? Stop them with Berliou. Five year guarantee. Griffith Floor-covering.

Wanted To Rent APARTMENT, 3 or 4 rooms, unfurnished. Can give good references. Write box 1744 c-o Herald.

Wanted to Buy USED FURNITURE WEAVER FURNITURE 139 W. Main St. Phone 210

GOOD yellow corn. Will pay a premium. Lloyd Reitterman and Son, Kingston, Ph. 8494.

DIRECTORY BUSINESS Detailed Reference to Business Facilities of Circleville

DAIRY PRODUCTS DEALERS PICKAWAY DAIRY ASSN Pickaway Butter Phone 28

ELECTRIC APPLIANCES PETTIT'S 130 S. Court St. Phone 214

LOCKER PLANT CINCINNATI FAST FREEZE P. J. Griffin, owner-operator 161 Edison Ave. Phone 133

RETAIL LUMBER DEALERS CINCINNATI LUMBER CO. 150 Edison Ave. Phone 209

VETERINARIANS ORS C. W. CROMLEY-J. M. HAGELY Pet Hospital—Boarding—X-Ray. Phone 4 Ashville

DR. FLOYD P. DUNLAP 45 N. Court St. Phone 315

DR. PAUL E. FENSTERMAKER Ph. 92 2 Williamsport Ohio.

DR. WELLS M. WILSON Rt. 1, Circleville Phone 1936

Articles for Sale

WINTER Barley and Rye. Ph. 157 Ashville ex. T. Leroy Cronley.

SEVERAL good used refrigerators, guaranteed $30 up. Lovelace Electric Co. 156 W. Main St. Ph. 404.

OLIVER and NEW IDEA Sales and Service BECKETT IMPLEMENT CO. 119 E. Franklin Ph. 122

LARGE selection genuine leather binders with zipper, $1.95 up, imitation leather $1.25 and $1.75, stiff board, 25c to 60c, also pencil boxes, pens, crayons, notebooks, labels, type and filler papers at Gards, 236 E. Franklin St. Open evenings.

COAL for sale—also do corn hauling. Raymond Myers. Ph. 733R.

SEE Lovelace Electric for Softener Salt 100 lb. bags. 156 W. Main St. Ph. 404.

D. A. MARSHALL and SONS Hereford Stock Cattle Phone 3005

2 USED Coleman oil floor furnaces, traded for gas furnaces—several good used Coleman oil heaters—guaranteed satisfaction, priced reasonable. Blue Furniture Store, W. Main St. Phone 105.

DID YOU know you can buy a genuine Schwinn built bicycle at $39.99 down $1.50 week at B. F. Goodrich Co. 115 E. Main Street.

COAL Lump and stoker Edward Starkey. Phone 622R.

TOP DAIRY COWS Fresh and close up springers. Registered and grade Cows and Heifers. FETE BROWN—Phone 4040

IN DEAR "bread" days beyond recall, housewives want linoleum. Now they use Glaxo. Harpster and Yost.

ED HELWAGEN PONTIAC AGENCY 400 N. Court St. Phone 843

DEAN and BARRY PAINTS COMPLETE LINE GOELLER PAINT STORE 219 E. Main St. Phone 546

Jones Implement YOUR ALLIS-CHALMERS DEALER Sales and Service—Phone 7081 Open 7 to 9 Daily KINGSTON, O.

DUO-THERM Heating Stoves

GOOD YEAR TIRE MAC'S 113 E. Main St. Phone 689

Concrete Blocks Ready Mixed Concrete Brick and Tile Truscon Steel Windows Basement Sash Allied Building Materials

BASIC Construction Materials E. Corwin St. Phone 461

LENNOX FURNACES Installed—Cleaned Repaired AUTOMATIC HEATING GAS — OIL — COAL Good, Reasonable, Dependable Heating Since 1933

BOB LITTER'S Fuel and Heating Co. 163 W. Main St. Phone 821

Massey-Harris Self-Propelled 2-Row Corn Pickers

Universal and Palsgrove Crop Elevator All Sizes

New F. & L. All-Steel Corn Crib 700 Bu., 1025 Bu. and 1366 Bu.

KINGSTON SALES & SERVICE Your Massey-Harris Dealer Phone 8414 Open Evenings Kingston, Ohio

Money Doesn't Grow On Corn Stalks

And you save a lot of it on fuel bills, by ordering your fuel oil now at lower prices. You'll be ready for that first Autumn frost too. Delivery at your convenience, Call 158.

YOU'LL BE THANKFUL FOR THAT TANK FULL

The Circleville Oil Co. 301 N. Court St.

COAL

Riding Into Winter

Cold weather is not far away and it is unwise to delay ordering your Winter coal. Place your order now and be prepared for the first cold snap.

Thos. Rader and Son 701 S. Pickaway Phone 601

2701 S. Pickaway Phone 601

YOU'LL BE THANKFUL FOR THAT TANK FULL

The Circleville Oil Co. 301 N. Court St.

COAL

COAL

COAL

Business Service

DRESBACH TRACTOR SALES Whisler, Ohio (Your Ferguson Dealer) N. of Hallsville Ph. 2292 Hallsville.

TERMITES??? These destructive pests work in secret and may be destroying your home NOW. Our method exterminates immediately and guarantees immunity for years to come. For a free inspection by a specialist see Harpster & Yost Hardware 107 E. Main St. Phone 136

WATER WELL DRILLING Phone 70 Williamsport ex. LINKOUS BROS.

PLASTERING Stucco and Paper Steaming new and repair GEORGE R. RAMEY 732 S. Scioto St. Ph. 313Y

CLARINET reconditioned—Mac Wolfe owner. Inq. Harrison Wolfe Rt. 1 Ph. 7825 Kingston ex.

AZALEUMS, Button's English Pom Poms, Spider and Exhibition type mums are for sale 50c up at 574 N. Hickway St.

1946 Hudson motor super, 6 cyl. sedan $450 full price. Al Campbell Rt. 4 Circleville

WELL rooted hedge—enough to plant 20 to 40 feet. Phone 1030.

7 LADIES dresses, size 16 to 20, light weight coat size 38 to 40, man's suit size 38. Phone 1469.

CHINA cabinet—Philco cabinet radio will sell outright or trade for office desk. Ph. 155.

9 WEANED pigs. Ph. 4056.

SUPERIOR wheat drill 12-7 power lift. A. A. Leist Ph. 1658.

BY OWNER—1948 Chevrolet motor sedan, excellent condition inside and out. Phone 2961 Williamsport ex.

1937 Chevrolet coupe, runs good $100. Ph. 2103 after 6.

WHY WORRY if affected with skin disease. Ask about V-J-O at Circleville Rexall Drugs.

TROY wagon and bed, good condition. Phone 1604, Mrs. Turney Pontious.

SEVERAL good used coal heating stoves—good makes—priced to sell. Blue Furniture.

IRON Fireman Unit Heatmaker size 400 in good condition. Thermosatically controlled with Stoker and forced air circulating fan. 100,000 B. T. U. hourly capacity, about the size of the average furnace. TIE BELT CORPORATION, Orient, Ohio. Ask for Mr. Seimer.

16" ESTATE Heatrols; Oak heater 217; Bendix automatic washer—reasonably priced. Ph. 87.

STAY on good terms with your dog—feed him Dogburger from Croman's Chuk Store.

FREE—Laundry Tubs with each new washer. Morris Good Housekeeping, 11 E. Main St. Chillicothe.

SUPERIOR wheat drill, Brown wagon, Erving Beougher. Ph. 154 Laurelville ex.

HOME made bread, rolls and pies. Call 3053 to order.

YOU will find Berliou the best moth spray you've ever used. One spraying guarantees five whole years. Griffith Floorcovering.

REGISTERED Hereford Bulls sired by OON Com Jr. out of Ohio State University Champion Bull, John P. Courtright Farm 6 miles E. of Ashville. Phone Guy Hartley 36R12 Ashville ex.

STORKLINE baby crib; Evans oil heater. Inq. 235 N. Scioto St. Ph. 565M.

SPRINGS starters, generators, batteries, cyl. heads, mufflers for your car at savings. Circleville Iron and Metal Co. Phone 3R.

USED Refrigerators from $35 up. Gordon's, W. Main at Scioto. Phone 297.

USED CARS & TRUCKS The Harden Chevrolet Co. Your Chevrolet Dealer Since 1928 132 E. Franklin Phone 522

BLACKSTONE WASHERS AND DRYERS

GOOD YEAR TIRE MAC'S 113 E. Main St. Phone 689

COAL

COAL

COAL

COAL

COAL

COAL

COAL

COAL

Royal Couple To Leave Oct. 3

LONDON, Oct. 3—A spokesman for Princess Elizabeth has announced that she and her husband, Prince Philip, will leave London by plane on Oct. 8 for their tour of Canada.

The Clarence House spokesman said that the royal couple will take off at 12:30 a. m. BST (6:30 p. m. Oct. 7 EST) for Montreal.

The royal tour is expected to start from Quebec on Oct. 9. The itinerary calls for a two-day visit to Washington starting Oct. 31.

Business Opportunities SHOE store and shoe repair business. Selling because of ill health—priced reasonable. 15 Main St., Kingston.

Financial FARMERS loans—to purchase live-stock, machinery, seed and operating—low interest rate. See Don Clump, Production Credit, 231 N. Court St.

For Rent GARAGE—122 W. Franklin.

Business Service LAUNDRY, day and home cleaning wanted. Call Dave Engle at Grand Theatre.

Ward's Upholstery 225 E. Main St. Phone 135

SEWER AND DRAIN SERVICE Inexpensive and effective. Only Roto Rooter can give complete cleaning service without unnecessary digging. Circleville 435 or Lancaster 3663.

REFINISH your floors yourself by using our floor sander and waxer. Also a variety of quality floor finishes. Kochheiser Hardware.

BARTHELMA'S SHEET METAL AND PLUMBING 239 E. Main St. Phone 127

JOE CHRISTY Plumbing and Heating 508 S. Court Phone 88951

KARL S. SMITH & CO., INC. GENERAL CONSTRUCTION 123 1/2 W. Main St. Circleville, Ohio

General Renovation & New Construction (Commercial & Residential) MASONRY, RE-IF. CONCRETE, TOWER & MISC. HIGH WORK OUR SPECIALTY ARCHITECTURAL SERVICES AVAILABLE

WORK DONE ANY SIZE, PLACE OR TIME BRICK AVAILABLE FOR ALL TYPES OF CONSTRUCTION PHONE 729

Builder of Your Home of Tomorrow— Remodeler of Your Home of Today G. E. LEIST, CONTR. 358 Logan St. Phone 914X

ALVA BOYER General Contracting—Painting Carpentry and Concrete Work Phone 1648

Leslie Hines — Everybody's Auctioneer 199 E. Water St. Chillicothe Phone 9175

Termite CONTROL

TERMITES CONTROL Free Inspection. Est. KOCHHEISER HARDWARE Phone 100

ROY HUFFER and SONS Plumbing—Heating—Sputting Installation and Repair Phone 854

MINNEAPOLIS-MOLINE Sales and Service DREXEL JONES Ph. 2485

WALLPAPER STEAMING George Byrd Ph. 838R

INTERESTED IN SAVINGS??? Then get the FACTS as to COST and benefit of genuine FIBER-GLASS insulation for your home.

For a complete survey WITHOUT COST OR OBLIGATION see Harpster & Yost Hardware 107 E. Main St. Phone 136

CHESTER HILL PAINTING, SPRAYING By Contract or Hourly CALL 4088

LEGAL NOTICE PROBATE COURT, PICKAWAY COUNTY, OHIO Anna Kellstadt, Administratrix of the Estate of Margaret Mount, deceased, Plaintiff, vs. Anna Kellstadt, et al. Defendants. No. 16118

NOTICE OF SALE In the pursuance of the order of the Probate Court of Pickaway County, Ohio, I will offer Public Auction on the 29th day of October, 1951, at 2 o'clock P. M. at the door of the Court House in Circleville, Ohio, the following described real estate:

Situated in the County of Pickaway, State of Ohio, and in the City of Circleville, Ohio.

Being Lot Number Twelve Hundred Thirty Two (1232) in Bostwick and Lutz Addition to said City according to the revised numbering of the lots of said City. Located at 330 East Union Street, Circleville, Ohio.

Said premises are appraised at Six Thousand Two Hundred Fifty ($6,250.00) Dollars, and must be sold for not less than two-thirds of said appraised value; the terms of sale are cash, with ten per cent to be paid day of sale, and the balance on the delivery of the deed.

Anna Kellstadt, Administratrix of the Estate of Margaret Mount, Deceased. Emmitt L. Crist, Attorney Sep. 26, Oct. 3, 10, 17, 24.

Groups Protest Removal Of Grave Crosses

NEW YORK, Oct. 3—Religious and veterans groups have announced they will take action to restore the crosses removed from graves of 13,000 American war dead in Hawaii's national cemetery.

Francis Cardinal Spellman, Roman Catholic archbishop of New York, protested the announced Army policy of removing the wooden crosses. He branded as "deplorable" the financial reasons given by the Army for replacing the crosses with flat headstones.

The Reverend Dr. Henry V. B. Darlington, brigadier general and senior chaplain of the New York National Guard, declared:

"I consider it imperative that all Christian people voice their outrage at the removal of the Cross of Christ from the graves of our Christian dead in Hawaii's national cemetery. This action savors of atheistic Soviet attack against our Christian belief."

The Catholic war veterans offered to pay for crosses on the graves of U. S. war dead in military cemeteries. The organization labeled the removal order an "anti-religious action."

Treasury Told Cancel Czech Concessions

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—President Truman has ordered the Treasury Department to cancel all concessions in tariffs and trade with Communist Czechoslovakia.

The order becomes effective after the close of business, Nov. 1. The delay was permitted for the convenience of U. S. importers who have goods from Czechoslovakia in transit or in bond.

Steps also are underway to suspend tariff concessions on goods from Russia, Poland, Hungary and Romania. They already have been suspended for Bulgaria.

Czechoslovakia sold $26 million 465 thousand worth of goods to the U. S. in 1950 and bought $10 million worth from this country. Principal U. S. imports from Czechoslovakia are bleached jute and burlap, imitation precious stones, hops, beads, jewelry and fur felt hat bodies.

Ship Arrives With Refugees NEW YORK, Oct. 3—The Navy transport General M. B. Stewart arrived in New York today with the largest group of refugees from Iron Curtain countries.

Classified as "expellees" by the Displaced Persons Commission, the 500 were the largest number to come in under the DP program providing for admission of 54,744 refugees from Communism in Eastern Europe.

Of the 500, 218 are Catholics and the remaining 282 Protestant. Most of them will work on farms, although many are skilled laborers who will work in factories, industrial shops, garages, and laboratories.

Dairy On Hartman Farm Burns Down COLUMBUS, Oct. 3—A three-alarm fire swept through the main building of the McLaughlin Dairy near Columbus, causing damage estimated at $250,000.

At one time, 11 pieces of equipment battled the stubborn blaze which broke out yesterday afternoon in a small wooden boiler building next to the three-story brick structure.

A faulty fuse, which had been repaired shortly before, caused the fire. The dairy, owned by A. R. McLaughlin, is located on the Hartman Farm, Route 23.

Practical Nurse License Urged COLUMBUS, Oct. 3—More than 200 Ohio practical nurses end their two-day meeting in Columbus today after approving a resolution to back legislation that would license all practical nurses.

Mrs. Mildred Smith of Springfield, president of the Practical Nurse Association of Ohio, said it would weed out the dead wood among the 900 such nurses in the state.

Men Given Nod On Defense Jobs COLUMBUS, Oct. 3—Members of the Columbus Diocesan Council of Catholic Women today believe that women should decline to work in defense industry until all unemployed men are hired.

The women, holding their sixth annual convention yesterday, also resolved that higher pay rates be instituted in industry in which women now predominate.

IT WAS AN early season record for juveniles when Jimmy Chavis of Pittsburgh landed these large-mouth bass in the fresh ponds of Colington Island at Nags Head, N. C. (International)

Janowicz Given Signals Job For Saturday Test

COLUMBUS, Oct. 3—Vic Janowicz has a new assignment today—signal-calling in Saturday's annual grid classic between Ohio State university and Michigan State.

Wanting-a-win Woody Hayes decided to go overboard and add play-calling to Vic's regular chores of running, kicking and defending.

Hayes said during yesterday's wobbly practice session he felt confident that the Elyria half-back could take the touchy spot in stride.

Tony Curcillo will remain in the quarterback post and Janowicz in his customary left half cubicle for the contest that has whipped Columbus football fans into a frenzy of excitement.

FULLY AWARE of the importance of the Michigan State game, Coach Hayes has been driving his charges hard this week and scheduled another full dress drill for Wednesday.

After Saturday's shaky win over Southern Methodist, the Buckeyes are feeling the tension. In yesterday's practice, they see-sawed from brilliant performances to the opposite.

Hayes remarked he was unable to understand how they could "look so much like a high school team for an hour or more and then shine like a winner."

Volomite Colt Brings $55,000

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 3—Three horses sired by the great pacer, Volomite, were sold for a total of $113,500 last night at public auction in Lexington.

The auction, held in conjunction with Grand Circuit harness racing, produced the highest price ever paid for a yearling pacer—$55,000 for Gosling, a son of Volomite and Her Ladyship.

The final bid was made by Thomas W. Murphy of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., a retired trainer who was acting for Leonard Buck, Far Hills, N. J., importer-exporter. The price also was the second highest ever paid for a yearling harness horse of either gait.

Brewers Seeking Lead In Series MILWAUKEE, Oct. 3—The Milwaukee Brewers call on their ace hurler Ernie Johnson tonight to pitch them into the lead over Montreal in the fifth game of the deadlocked Little World Series.

TICK IS VERY DESTRUCTIVE. THE ADULT FEMALE LAYS HER EGGS IN THE NOSTRILS OF THE SHEEP. AFTER HATCHING, THE LARVAE MAKE THEIR WAY UP THE NASAL PASSAGE INTO THE FOREHEAD, CAUSING GREAT IRRITATION.

THE SHEEP

SCRAPS

IS THE USUAL FOOTBALL A PIGSKIN?

NO. IT IS A RUBBER BLADDER COVERED WITH COWHIDE.

WHEN

A YOUNG BOY GOES COURTING HE BRUSHES AND DEKINKS HIS HAIR BY RUBBING SOAP IN IT.

A MIRROR SERVES AS A VAIN CASE.

BARD. AN ANCIENT CELTIC COMPOSER AND SINGER OF SONGS ABOUT HEROES.

BARD. A PIECE OF ARMOR FOR A HORSE.

THE POLITICAL

I'VE BEEN TRAINING 'RUPERT' FOR A WEEK, AND HE'LL BE JUST THE NOVELTY BALLYHOO YOU'LL NEED IN YOUR CAMPAIGN, RUNNING FOR SENATOR NEXT YEAR... LISTEN, NOW... ALL RIGHT, 'RUPERT,' WHAT DO YOU SAY?

GR-R-AWK... PUFFLE FOR SENATOR. GOR-R-K

MY WORD

Gene Allen

10-9

City Auditor's Report Gets OK From Solons

Circleville city council Tuesday approved a financial statement for September submitted by City Auditor Lillian Young.

The report was as follows: General fund receipts, $8,867.64; expenditures, $7,900.29; balance, $1,024.37; water works operating fund receipts, $6,098.82; expenditures, $9,186.81; balance, $23,191.16; sewage disposal fund expenditures, $1,561.10; balance, $3,430.45; auto street repair fund receipts, $1,095.01; expenditures, $1,924.32; balance, $2,537.50; gasoline tax fund receipts, $3,087.00; expenditures, $1,705.72; balance, $5,298.35.

Water works trust fund receipts, $100.00; expenditures, $45.00; balance, $1,305.00; police pension fund receipts, $72.00; expenditures, $344.95; balance, $7,799.44; fireman pension fund receipts, $62.18; expenditures, $125.00; balance, $9,206.22; water works improvement extension fund balance, $29,490.65.

Parking meter collection was $1,394.00.

Sokolsky's These Days

(Continued from Page Four)

ing so tight that a general election is being held to achieve either a vote of confidence for the Socialists or to produce a government under Winston Churchill, who would then speak to this country in those accents which our people so love. But it will have to do with dollars.

To save Britain and what is left of the British empire, many Americans believe that the solution is an economic union between the two countries. As far back as 1945 there was talk of this. Now that NATO is an actuality, the talk, in private still, is more vehement. One argument is that Europe is accustomed to British leadership, which must be maintained if Western Europe is to be useful in a war or in war-prevention against Russia. Europe is, it is said, unaccustomed to American methods and irked by the type of leadership the U. S. offers.

I do not know whether anyone in American public life will have the courage to propound this program to the American people, but as their economic activities are studied, it is becoming increasingly clear that this is the program and that we are being moved into such a union.

Senate Ruling Is Under Fire

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther today urged the Senate to repeal its stiff rule against closing debate and called it "a surrender to rule by the veto of a minority."

Reuther, appearing before a Senate subcommittee studying various ways of easing the rule, charged that it is unconstitutional.

The rule, which has been used to block civil rights legislation in Congress, requires approval of 64 senators to shut off debate on any motion or measure. Furthermore, it says no limit shall be placed on debate of a motion to change the rule itself.

TV Set Output Drops Sharply

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The Radio-Television Manufacturers Association has reported that television set production in August was just about 20 percent of output in the same month last year.

The association placed August production at 146,705 television sets, compared with 720,600 in August, 1950. Output of radios also declined sharply in August to 563,407 sets as compared with 1,303,700 radios turned out a year ago.

SALLY'S SALLIES

"This gown, I can assure you, is really designed and made for more than one wedding."

Crossword Puzzle

ACROSS
1. Shall not (contr.)
6. Decorates
11. Chocolate drink
12. Fashion
13. Restlessness
15. Pigeon coop
16. River (Scot.)
17. Sounded, as we bells
19. Postpone
20. Comply
22. Measure (Chin.)
24. Cutting tool
27. Storms
29. Toilet slip
31. Cigarette (slang)
32. From
34. Body of water
35. On fire
37. Scurry
40. Macaw
43. Young horse
44. Mold for casting
46. Coins (India)
48. Type of car
49. Rips
50. Dwellings

DOWN
1. Run before the wind
2. Sharpen
3. Measure of land
4. Ark builder (var.)
5. One of the five senses
6. Thulium (abbr.)
7. Full of rocks
8. Image
9. Apportion
10. Snow
11. Vehicle
12. Oil of rose
13. Extend
14. Claw
15. Color, as cloth
16. Fish
17. Cry of a sheep
18. Ovary
19. Resort
21. Cry of a sheep
22. Ovary
23. Measure (Chin.)
24. Cutting tool
25. Question
26. Tiny (abbr.)
28. Not firm
30. Malt beverage
33. Haze
35. Oil of rose
36. Extend
37. Tax
38. Geometric figure
39. Forearm
40. Genus of cuckoo
41. Mature (abbr.)
42. Hewing tools
45. Also
47. Steamship (abbr.)

Yesterday's Answer

Catholic Group Opens Meeting In Detroit

DETROIT, Oct. 3.—The biggest convention to hit Detroit in 20 years opened today—the fifth national gathering of the Catholic Men's Holy Name Society.

The convention is headed by the Rev. Harry C. Graham, national director of the 4,100,000-member society from headquarters in New York.

Fr. Graham said there are Holy Name units in 12,000 parishes in the United States, 1,500 parishes in Canada and 50 or 60 in Puerto Rico and Hawaii. He added that practically every single unit will be represented. Said Fr. Graham:

"It is particularly fitting that the convention with its holy hour for 100,000 men on Saturday and parade for 120,000 or more Sunday be held at this time when there is so much lack of faith in God.

"These occasions will have Catholic American manhood publicly professing their belief in God and country."

DEAD STOCK

Horses $2.00 each
Cows $3.00 each
Hogs and Small Stock Removed Promptly

According to Size and Condition
Buchsieb Fertilizer Co.
Phone Collect 870 Circleville

TELEVISION & RADIO FOR TONIGHT

WTVM—Ch. 6 WLW-700 KC	WLW-C Channel 3 WBNS-1450—WBKC-650 KC	WBNS-TV—Ch. 10 WOSU-820 KC
5:00 Hawkins Falls Echo Val. Roundup Plain Bill Tom Gieba Mert's Adv. Job Info.	5:15 Gabby Hayes Echo Val. Roundup Front Page F. Martin Mert's Adv. Waitz Fes.	5:30 Howdy Doody Sports Roundup Ernie Lee Tom Gieba Mert's Adv. Sports

MOATS AUTO SALES	See Us For Better Buys On Used Cars	Carl Moats Harold Moats
125 E. Main St.	Circleville	Phone 732
6:00 Cactus Jim Capt. Video Flora Queen Dinner Win. Dinner Con.	6:15 Cactus Jim Capt. Video Looking Long Queen Sports Dinner Win. Dinner Con.	6:30 Meeting Time Lounge, Edwards Roundup Ohio Story News Masters

PETTIT'S APPLIANCE STORE

FOOD FREEZERS
7:00
Kukla, Fran
Hickity
A. Godfrey
News
F. Lewis Jr.
Arts Forum

CIRCLEVILLE TRANSFER CO.

LOCAL AND LONG DISTANCE MOVING — STORAGE
227 E. Mound St. Phone 717

NEW and USED AUTO PARTS

We Buy Junk Cars and Wrecked Cars
8:00
Kate Smith
Don McNeill
Strike Rich
Take A Look
Star's Sing
Cavalcade
Sign Off

M & M SERVICE STATION

If your car is not becoming to you—you should be coming to us. Washing, greasing, waxing our specialty.
302 N. COURT ST. PHONE 441

10:00 Break Bank Wrestling Weather Big Story Mr. Melody News	10:15 Break Bank Wrestling Weather Big Story Mr. Melody Blue Baron	10:30 Freddie Martin Late Show Theater Mus. Album Mr. Melody Orchestra	10:45 Freddie Martin Late Show Theater Mus. Album Mr. Melody Orchestra
--	--	--	--

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11					12
13					14				15
16				17		18
			19
20	21	22		23			24	25	26
27				28		29	30
31				32	33		34
			35			36
37	38	39				40	41	42
43				44		45
46				47		48
49						50

30-Day Weather Outlook Given

The Weather Bureau's 30-day outlook calls for October temperatures to average above seasonal normals over the southern Gulf states and southeast.

the northern third of the country. Substantial drought-relieving rains which began during the last week in the Pacific Northwest are expected to continue during October. Elsewhere, rainfall is expected to be not far from normal over most areas except for subnormal amounts in the Central Atlantic states and the Southern Great Plains.

Near to slightly below normal temperatures are indicated over two-thirds of the nation. Great departures will be over the Gulf states and southeast. Printed music notes were first used in 1473.

THURSDAY'S TV-RADIO PROGRAM

WTVM—Ch. 6 WLW-700 KC	WLW-C Channel 3 WBNS-1450—WBKC-650 KC	WBNS-TV—Ch. 10 WOSU-820 KC
5:00 Hawkins Falls Echo Val. Roundup Plain Bill Tom Gieba Mert's Adv. Students	5:15 Gabby Hayes Echo Val. Roundup Front Page F. Martin Mert's Adv. Sing America	5:30 Howdy Doody Film Roundup Ernie Lee Tom Gieba Bob Benson Sports

WOOD IMPLEMENT CO.

YOUR J. I. CASE DEALER
145 Edison Ave. Phone 438

7:00 Kukla, Fran Stop Music Burns, Allen Taylor Show Jack Smith F. Lewis Jr. Symposium	7:15 Kukla, Fran Stop Music Burns, Allen Taylor Show Jack Smith F. Lewis Jr. Symposium	7:30 Conte Show Stop Music Amos n Andy News Club 15 G. Heater Concert	7:45 News Man's Newsreel Concert
---	---	--	--

STEELE PRODUCE CO.

Get More Eggs — Use Pratt's Poultry Regulator
135 E. Franklin St. Circleville Phone 372

9:00 James Melton Don Ameche Racket Squad Dragnet Heartstone Bold Venture	9:15 James Melton Don Ameche Racket Squad Dragnet Heartstone Bold Venture	9:30 James Melton Masland Hayes Counterplay News Reporters	9:45 James Melton Masland Hayes Counterplay News Mr. Melody Roundup
---	---	--	--

PETTIT'S APPLIANCE STORE

PORTABLE RADIO—$36.95
"All-Year" Model in Cactus Green or Burgundy Red 11:00
News
Late Show
Theater
News
Mr. Melody
Orchestra

Scoop! For You!

the OUTLET

Announcing Our Most Important FALL STYLE and BARGAIN Event

HARVEST OF VALUES

Offering Hundreds of Seasonable Merchandise Items At Below-The-Market Prices

'3' WONDERFUL DAYS

Thursday ★ Fri. ★ Saturday
OCTOBER 4, 5, 6
SALE OPENING HOUR: 9 A.M.

SAVE!

After Months Of Scouring The Markets For These Values!

STORE-WIDE

After Making Our Best Buys In Many, Many Seasons!

INFANTS' TRAINING PANTIES In Circleville at the Factory Outlet, Thursday, Friday, Saturday!	LADIES' DOLLAR NYLON HOSE In Circleville at the Factory Outlet, Thursday, Friday, Saturday!	CHILDREN'S LEATHER OXFORDS In Circleville at the Factory Outlet, Thursday, Friday, Saturday!
10c pr.	77c pr.	$2.49 pr.

LADIES' LACE TRIM HALF SLIPS In Circleville at the Factory Outlet, Thursday, Friday, Saturday!
50c

Bargains

NOW IS THE TIME—THE FACTORY OUTLET IN CIRCLEVILLE IS THE PLACE, WE GIVE YOU THE BEST MERCHANDISE BOYS FOR YOURSELF AND FAMILY THAT IT IS POSSIBLE TO OBTAIN. EVERY DEPARTMENT PARTICIPATES IN THIS SALE.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday are the Days!

TURKISH TOWELS Harvest of Values SIZE 20 x 40 In Circleville at the Factory Outlet, Thursday, Friday, Saturday!	FULL-SIZE GOOD MAKE SHEETS Harvest of Values SIZE 27 x 27 In Circleville at the Factory Outlet, Thursday, Friday, Saturday!	LADIES' RAYON PANTIES Harvest of Values In Circleville at the Factory Outlet, Thursday, Friday, Saturday!
39c	$1.99 ea.	$2 17c pr.

HARVEST OF VALUES SALE

Ladies' New Fall $12 Coats Special Group

In Circleville at The Factory Outlet, Thursday, Friday, Saturday! Choice of fashions!

24 COATS $20

RAYON GABARDINES
The lining is rip out for colder weather. Try them in yellow, white, or color. Inlet, Thursday, Friday, Saturday! SEE WHAT YOU SAVE

HARVEST OF VALUES SALE

MEN'S BLUE CHAMBRAY Work Shirts

WHILE THEY LAST
Such a fine bargain they'll go fast as a hot potato. They're made of good grade Chambray, standardized and cut at The Outlet, Thursday, Friday, Saturday!

GET ONE EACH SIZES 14 1/2-17! $1

A Harvest of Savings For the Budget-Wise

Ladies x, xx and xxx Rayon Panties Very Nice Quality, Pink or White 39c

Group Women's Cotton and Rayon Blouses, New Fall Styles, $1.98 Value $1.59

Beautiful New Fall Patterns In Genuine 80 Square Prints, yard 33c

Men's Peter's and Endicott-Johnson Work Shoes, Guaranteed to Wear $3.98

Giant 22 x 44 Turkish Towels, each 50c

Early Shoppers Will Profit Most!

39 In. Unbleached MUSLIN
In Circleville at The Outlet, Thursday, Friday, Saturday!
Harvest Value Per Yd. 19c

36 In. Pinwale CORDUROY
In Circleville at The Outlet, Thursday, Friday, Saturday!
Harvest Value Per Yd. $1

42 x 36 PILLOW CASES
1st Quality Type, 128 Harvest Value Each 49c

62 x 105 BED-Spreads
Scalloped Edge Size 105 Harvest Value $1 88

Big Bargains In Needed WINTER GOODS

Extra Big 70 x 84 White Sheet Blankets, $2.49 Value $1.99

Men's Winter Weight Ribbed Union Suits, Longs, 36 to 46 $1.98

Size 18 x 40 Grade A Cotton Rag Rugs, For In Front of Stoves 49c

Men's Fine Brand Corduroy Sport Shirts, $6.50 Irreggs, Now $4.14

Men's Blanket Lined Overall Jackets, Good Weight, 36-46 $3.98

Ladies' Chenille House Coats $4.98

EXTRA SALESPEOPLE TO HELP YOU

HARVEST OF VALUES SALE

Reg. $2 Feather Filled BED PILLOWS $1

Save A Whole Dollar
In Circleville at The Factory Outlet, Thursday, Friday, Saturday! These have selected feathers and coverings, home approved, they're just what you need from the manufacturer.

WHILE THEY LAST!

HARVEST OF VALUES SALE

Dresses Special Group Ladies', Misses', Juniors' DRESSES

New Styles Reduced
See these—try them on. You'll be thrilled with the cute styling, the new fabrics and colors, the bargains you will see in this group. Sizes 9 to 52.

Choice of Rack $5

It will be Worth Your While

Examples of Harvest Values Awaiting You

Long and Short Tops Men's Work Socks 19c

Men's Lined Wool—6 3/4 to 7 1/2 $2.48

Men's Flannel Shirts $1.98

Men's Fine Ribbed—34-46 Felt Hats 44c

REMEMBER TO COME THURSDAY, FRIDAY OR SATURDAY

The OUTLET

Factory Circleville - Ohio

Harvest Of Values Big Assortment Ladies' Better SLIPS

Rayon crepes with lace trims, Broadcloths with adjustable straps. Also half slips. All sizes.

88c

Harvest Of Values Reg. $1.29—18 x 30 Heavy Loop SHAG RUGS

With non-slip rubberized backs. Decorative colors. In Circleville at The Outlet, Thursday, Friday, Saturday!

$1

WHILE THEY LAST

Harvest Of Values 66 x 76 Plaid Sheet Blankets

$1.39 Each

WHILE THEY LAST!

Harvest Of Values One Big Lot—Men's Canvas Work Gloves

First quality knit wrist. In Circleville at The Factory Outlet, Thursday, Friday, Saturday!

23c pr.

HARVEST OF VALUES SALE

Ladies' Dress Cotton WASH

SIZES 12-20, 40-44
These are the best bargains you'll find. Women who receive at the Outlet, Thursday, Friday, Saturday! These are $1.98. Get them at The Outlet, Thursday, Friday, Saturday!

WHILE THEY LAST $1

HARVEST OF VALUES SALE

Men's Famous Brand Gabardine Rayon and Broadcloth SHIRTS

ASSORTED STYLES—SPORTS, DRESS
This big table of men's shirts should be a busy spot. The shirt bargains are stacked high. Fall sports shirts in all colors and fashions. All food makes—some with la-bell, some with la-bell, all worth a lot more money.

$2.00

Values to $4

